Several Social Events of An Interesting Character Take Place.

THE CONDITION OF THE NEW ROAD.

Deputy Marshal Brown Leaves for the Volcano—The Annie Johnson Arrives With Much Freight and Many Passengers—Celebrating the Holidays.

HILO, Dec. 21.—All Hilo is busily engaged in preparing for the approaching holidays. All good New England housewives (and some that are not New Englanders) are patiently at work seeding raisins and shaving citron for the delicious mince pies and rich fruit cake that must always accompany a genuine Christmas dinner. Mothers and "their sisters and their cousins and their aunts" are occupied with dressing dolls, filling candy bags and stringing snow white popcorn for the little folks.

The Sunday-schools are rehearsing for their several entertainments. The First Foreign Church will have their Christmas exercises tomorrow in place of the regular services. The entertainment will be conducted by the children of the Sunday school.

The native church will have a Christmas tree on Christmas Eve. The King's Daughters have every hour occupied with making candy bags for the usual Christmas goodies, and they are also preparing many gifts to be put on the tree for the children of the Sunday school.

The stores wore a decided holiday appearance a few weeks ago, before they were stripped of all their fine toys and fancies; but eager purchasers did not hesitate long after the display was made before they made their selections for Santa Claus to carry down the chimney.

Amongst the visitors who will spend the holidays in our midst are Miss E. B. MacLeod, a former Hiloite, now a resident of Honolulu, Miss Mattie Austin and Miss Nellie Porter, who will remain at their respective homes until after the holidays, when they will return to Honolulu to resume their school duties.

Deputy Marshal Brown has gone to the Volcano for a two weeks stay at Kilauea's great caravansary. He reports things very quiet around Madame Pele's domicile. The bottom has dropped out of the lake once more and there is nothing to be seen but the great dark hole, from which volumes of smoke arise at times.

The society event of the week was the reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Wilder last Friday afternoon. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Wilder's guests, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Kessler, and was indeed a charming "at home." From two o'clock until five the many friends of the genial host and gracious hostess came and went, each in turn spending an hour or so most delightfully in conversation with the many callers. The homelike parlors were made even more attractive, if possible, by the addition of beautiful bouquets placed here and there. From a side table handsomely equipped with costly silverware and rare china, refreshments were served.

Another pleasant social event was an informal gathering of young folks, at the invitation of Miss Hitchcock, in honor of Deputy Marshal Brown. A few happy hours were spent in playing "Napoleon," after which the remaining evening hours were entertained with other games and music. About 11 o'clock the young people repaired to the veranda, where delicious refreshments were served them at a tete-a-tete tables.

The Hilo Social Club held its bi-weekly meeting at the residence of Mr. L. Severance, Mr. Cyril Smith having the entertainment in charge. There was quite a large attendance of members and friends, whom Mr. Smith amused in a most unique and pleasing manner.

BREVITIES.

Miss Helen Severance is entertaining Miss MacLeod, Mr. and Mrs. A. Barnes, formerly of Spreckelsville, Maui, are at the Hilo Hotel.

The barkentine Amelia, Ward, captain, sails in ballast for Puget sound Sunday morning. She has just finished discharging her cargo, consisting of 472,323 feet of lumber and 7,000 pickets, laths, etc., all for C. E. Richardson.

The weather is fine—mornings and evenings very cool, with more bright and sunny days than rainy ones. December 23d, 5 p. m.—The Annie Johnson has just arrived in port, bringing a cargo of 900 tons and twenty-six passengers. She was fourteen days from San Francisco.

KAULUKOU—KAUHANE.

There was a very pretty wedding at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Monday, Christmas eve, when Mr. Noah Kauhane, a son of Senator James Kauhane of Hawaii, and Miss Priscilla Kaulukou, daughter of Lawyer J. S. Kaulukou were made man and wife, the ceremony being performed by Bishop Willis.

The service was choral, sung by the surpliced choir of boys. The bride who wore a pretty wedding costume of white was given away by her father.

Among those present in the Cathedral to witness the ceremony were Principal Richards and wife of Kamehameha School, Mrs. A. F. Judd, W. R. Castle and a number of the Kamehameha school pupils. Wray Taylor played the Lobengrin Wedding March, as the happy couple left the Cathedral.
