AT THE session of the Woman's National Council at Chicago the organization of that body was reformed on lines similar to the United States Congress. There is to be a President and Vice-President, a Cabinet and two houses—an upper and a lower. Each member of the Cabinet is to have a special line of work—the lower house will attend to local matters and the upper will form a sort of a senatorial body. The women are now in a position to show national legislators how to do business in a business-like manner.

THE Japan Herald of recent date publishes the interview credited to Minister Hatch by a San Francisco paper during the early part of January. Editorially the Herald says: "From the above remarks it seems probable that the Hawaiian Government will take some precautionary measures to check further Japanese immigration. If not, then difficulties will occur between the preponderating Japanese and their employers, which may afford a pretext for the Government here taking measures for the protection of its own people on the Islands. From one cause or another American annexation in the future may be apprehended. In any event the United States people will not permit Japan to annex or rule the population of the Hawaiian Islands."

GERMAN residents may well feel proud of Count Von Bismarck, whose eightieth birthday they celebrate today. The greatest statesman of Germany, if not the world, Bismarck has done quite as much to uphold the dignity of his nation as the whole line of Emperors during his day. His iron hand, though seemingly oppressive at times, has been the power behind the throne which has guided the Empire successfully through many a crisis. He is more than a Gladstone or Von Moltke, combining the statesmanship of one and the military genius of the other. Though the present Emperor, like Rehoborn, is given to listening to the counsels of younger and more pliable men, the name and deeds of Bismarck will hold a place of highest honor in the minds of the people so long as history is written.

LOWERING OF "OLD GLORY."

This first day of April will always be a memorable one in the history of the Hawaiian Republic. It was two years ago that "Old Glory" was taken from the place it so properly held over the Government building and was sent on board the Boston. In the minds of true Americans this was one of the most disgraceful actions that has marked the history of the American Republic. To the people of Honolulu it was a movement viewed with much apprehension, in consequence of the more serious results which might be expected to follow. In the passing of Paramount Blount it was an event which served to snuff the candle of his political aspirations. While there is much to regret on the part of Mr. Blount and many Americans, it was after all in the light of what has followed a bit of good fortune for this country. It delayed, and for the time being almost wiped out the hopes for annexation, but also threw the new government upon its own resources and gave an opportunity to show the world with what righteous strength the founders of the new nation had wrought.

That the Government has been obliged to work out its own salvation, to battle against attempts to cast discredit upon the spirit prompting the action, to vindicate itself before the Americans and the world; all this has resulted in signal benefit to the future of the country. It is often said, "If you want to strengthen a nation, abuse it." After two years of vicissitudes, days of suspense, struggles with foreign and domestic enemies, we find the Republic much better prepared to treat for annexation and the body politic of the United States more thoroughly educated in the affairs of this applicant for practical statehood. Both nations have had a breathing spell in which to study the situation and consider on just what terms a political union may be brought about that will serve the best interests of the contracting parties. Of course our enemies—we have them and who has not—have not allowed the time to be idle on their hands, but they constitute a small minority that is constantly decreasing in strength as time proves their motives.

Though the flag came down, the patriotic strength that stands behind it, upholds its dignity in every country of the world and condemns the action to which Mr. Blount was made a party, still stands behind the Hawaiian Republic and will, we believe, never desert it. The April Fool is dead and its agents relegated to oblivion. In its place will rise a protecting power as strong and lasting as the nation which the star and stripes represent.

What about the cable? What about the canal? Does the United States Senate believe that other governments will be willing to accept a "dog in the manger" policy and allow the Pacific to be without a cable? Do the Senators for one moment imagine that the Nicaragua Canal will continue to exist merely in the imagination of the world and as a channel only for paper ships? We know not. Hawaii is interested in both schemes to a very great extent because there is no doubt that her commerce will be increased by the completion of one or both of the measures. Nor is Hawaii the only locality to be benefitted. The United States, particularly the States along the eastern and western seaboard will profit by the completion of the canal to a wonderful extent; the merchant marine that has been lying idle will receive an impetus the like of which has not been felt in years. Freight could be so much reduced that thousands of tons would be shipped from New York that would not otherwise leave the warehouses.

We have just received another invoice of the celebrated Dietz Oil Stoves, the same now extensively used in Honolulu and which give universal satisfaction. As a fuel, coal oil is extensively used in the United States and here on account of its cheapness and because of the quickness with which a meal may be cooked. With the Dietz Oil Stove there is absolutely no odor from the burning oil and no danger of explosion. The cost of oil for a meal averages about three cents and when you are through heat and expense ceases. We have never had a word of dissatisfaction from parties using these stoves; on the contrary we are told that they will broil, fry, bake, and roast equally as good as a wood or coal stove and at less expense.

If you contemplate renewing the youth of your dwelling by the use of a little paint, bear this fact in mind: Hendry's Ready Mixed Paint will go further and retain the gloss and color longer than any other ready mixed paint on the market. We have it for inside or outside work in quart, half gallon, and gallon tins. If you want to do a little odd job and do not require the services of a painter get a tin of our paint—always ready for use. If you are, for any reason, opposed to the ready mixed article we can supply you with either English or American lead and raw or boiled oil at the lowest possible price.

The Avery sugar land implements have proven a wonderful saving to the planters here and our sales are constantly increasing. Planters are realizing that economy must be practiced in every department of their plantations and labor saving implements are on the road to success in this respect. We will gladly furnish information and supply photographs to parties interested.

ADELBERT'S DILEMMA,

OR THE NEW WOMAN.

"Adelbert Seattle, you cannot be my husband!" These words rang through the balm, evening air of Nuuanu Avenue with that independent tone characteristic of The New Woman. With eyes aflame she continued: "You applauded that wretch at the mass meeting who said any woman's vote could be bought with a compliment." It was true, and he paled before the awful charge. Yes, poor, weak, "fin de siècle" man though he was, he gathered up strength to redeem himself. "For once, darling," he faltered, "you were out of my mind. I was thinking of the thousands of your inferiors with whom compliments are so rare that they are almost priceless." "O, Adelbert, I forgive you!" she cried, and she threw herself into his arms and wept there. He was moved, too. "Don't cry now," implored the girl, "your tears will wet my frizzes."
