A Bad Skin

Prick your skin with a needle. You will see it is full of blood, full all the time. But what kind of blood? Rich and pure? Or thin and impure? Pure blood makes the skin clear, smooth, healthy. Impure blood covers the skin with pimples, sores, boils, eczema, eruptions, tetter, salt-rheum.

Mr. Frank Hewitt, of Kalaheo, W. A., sends his photograph and tells what cured him. "When a boy my skin broke out in bad sores about my hands. After trying a great many remedies in vain, I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla and was quickly cured. Recently I was troubled again with severe boils, but one bottle of the same old remedy completely cured me. It's the greatest blood-purifying medicine in the world."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

Aid the Sarsaparilla by keeping your bowels in good condition with Ayer's Pills.

CARMICHAEL DIVORCE SUIT.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—Mrs.
Alice M. Carmichael yesterday filed suit for divorce from her husband, Dr.
Duncan A. Carmichael, who was Quarantine Officer at this port a short time last year. The charges is desertion.
The Carmichaels were married in Honolulu on July 28, 1899, and in the following May, it is alleged, Carmichael struck his wife with such force that she was knocked down. She ran away from her home and remained until June 4th. On July 25, 1901, it is claimed Dr.
Carmichael again struck her. He left her the following day and the couple have since been separated.
On December 24th, last year, Mrs.
Carmichael filed for maintenance, petitioning for $175 a month in addition to her private income. Dr. Carmichael, who is still connected in the East with the government quarantine service, receives $300 a month. Mrs. Carmichael has one child the issue of a former marriage.

THEIR KIND.
Mrs. Gaussip—Do you think those new-comers would be likely to join our Browning society?
Mrs. Sharpe—Oh, Not at all.
Mrs. Gaussip—Why, what sort of people are they?

people who have crayon portraits on cushions in the parlor.—Catholic Standard

Trim From Truck To Keelson

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—Two North Side city blocks and a third of another in length, all steel, twin screwed by two quadruple expansion engines of 15,000 horsepower, modern from truck keelson, from galley range to spice cabinets, burst out of the truck this morning off North Heads and on the breast of the tide's flood came piling through the Golden Gate. A fleet of dirty little steam schooners making for the open and their rock-bound holes that they call ports on the coast to the north and south saw her coming and edged into the land as if afraid.
"My what a brute," said one as she passed her.
"Look at those funnels," said one that was going after lumber. "They're like the sawmills at Tillamook."
"Biggest I ever saw in this bay," said another with an upper register whistle to her nearest neighbor and then with all the might of her soprano voices she shrieked "What's your name, and where are you from?"
"Humph!" said the big ship.
"Humph! Read it on my brows, you impudent hussy. It's there in letters a foot and over deep. Brass they are and not painted: K-O-R-E-A."

The little steam schooner hung her head at the mention of brass—her builders thought paint and galvanizing iron good enough for her—but she had evidently been brought up well. Before she passed out of speaking distance she shrieked back:
"Welcome; I'm glad you're here!" Some sailors say that ships talk to each other, and if they do that it is plain to see that the morning in the between the Pacific Mail Company's new liner Korea, the longest vessel that was ever in the harbor of San Francisco, and the cargo craft heading for the sea. Fifty-four days she was from Newport News, Va., without hitch or harm.
The Korea in outward appearance belonged to the type of the American line of the Western Ocean Express steamships St. Paul and St. Louis, two masted, double funneled, with a long sweep of a two-tiered promenade deck cutting down fore and aft into two unrailed decks where the hatches are and then coming up again into a topgallant forecastle and poop deck big enough for ball run doors. She is just the kind of a liner, like a "grand hotel," that was cheered by the men of the Bollivar swamping in the sea.
She was born in the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company and is supposed to be the best that American skill can turn out with American material. Five hundred and seventy-one feet seven inches long, sixty-three feet two inches broad and forty feet eight inches deep —those are her dimensions. She dis-

FRED HOLTHEISER DEPARTS.
Fred G. Holtheiser who came to Honolulu over a year ago and established the library for the Advertiser, was a passenger on the bark Andrew Welch this morning for San Francisco. His health had not been good during the last few months of his residence in Honolulu and he thought that a change to a colder climate would be of benefit to him. His departure was a source of much regret as he was very popular in this city. It is rumored that he will return and when he again leaves for San Francisco, it will not be alone.

MADE HERO OF BRIGAND.

Greek Make Idiots of Themselves Over a Robber.

ATHENS, Aug. 9.—Panopoulos, the notorious Greek brigand, had an enthusiastic ovation from Patras to the prison at Rios.
Flowers were thrown at his carriage, and women endeavored to embrace him. He behaved like a royal person age, taking off his hat and waving his hand in recognition of the cheers which were given him.
On arriving at the prison he was conducted to a comfortably furnished room, where later in the day the Governor, with much ceremony, introduced the visiting magistrates, who on their part treated the brigand with the greatest courtesy and consideration.
All the newspapers have been publishing long accounts of his doings and sayings, with the result that the people have begun to regard him as a national hero. He is allowed to receive visitors at the prison, which is daily crowded with people eager to converse with the brigand.

HAYTIAN TOWN ASKS AID.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, August 15.
—The people of Petit Goave, to the west of here, are in great distress and have asked for assistance. It was reported from Port au Prince, August 5 that further government reinforcements had started for Petit Goave to aid the government forces beaten there by the revolutionists.

pieces 18,600 tons of good salt water, has a gross measurement of 11,276 tons, can carry 564 cubic tons or about 7000 dead weight, has two sets of quadruple expansion engines with cylinders 35, 50, 70 and 100 inches in diameter, capable of developing 16,000 horsepower; fourteen boilers—six double enders and two singles—and fifty-six furnaces.
Telephones communicate with every part of the big steel fabric, the latest improved telegraph system directs her movements and every conceivable patent for economizing labor and time is where it should be. The steering gear is a marvel of strength and utility. The bridge is a sailor's dream and the engines—Chief Engineer Paul Rosster pointed toward them when he was asked about their ability and said: "They are beauties."

They look it. They sent her along at twenty knots on her trial trip and can turn up ninety revolutions with wheels of a twenty-five-foot pitch.
Captain William Seabury, the veteran commander of the Pacific Mail's fleet and formerly master of the yacht-like China, is the Korea's skipper. He was proud today when he told about his new charge, and well he ought to be.
He has under him for officers: C. Mc-Kenna, chief, formerly of the Cochin; Harry Lewis, second, formerly of the Moose Line; Paul Rosster, is chief engineer, and has for assistants in the order named G. W. Quinn, J. B. Morris and H. Cowan. Both the chief and his first assistant held the same positions on the City of Sydney.

A crew of twenty sailors, thirty firemen and twenty coal-passers brought the ship around the Horn. When she sails from here at the end of this month for the Orient her complement will be over 200. It will include the officers and engineers named, six juniors, twelve others, three water-tenders, one electrical engineer, forty-five firemen and forty-five coal-passers.

The saloon is a beautiful creation in a rosewood setting, and has a seating capacity at tables for 202 people. All the officers' quarters are abaft the captain's, on the hurricane deck, and within easy call of the bridge, while the engineer's are situated with due regard for similar access to the engine room.
The European steerage is forward, in the eyes of the vessel, under the top-gallant forecastle, and the Asiatic is aft, under the poop.

The Chinese crew of the Korea is expected here on the Gaelic. It was to have arrived on the City of Peking, but that ship's breaking of her thrust for similar access to the engine room.
The European steerage is forward, in
gallant forecastle, and the Asiatic is

NEBRASKAN ON THE WAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—Word was received yesterday that the new steamer Nebraskan of the American-Hawaiian line, designed for the San Francisco-Honolulu route, had sailed from St. Lucia, en route from New York. After coaling at Coronel, the Nebraskan will call at San Diego to discharge a quantity of freight. Upon arrival here she is to be converted into an oil-burner. The Nebraskan's sister ship the Nevada, will be due here Monday from Honolulu and Kahului.

CRAZED FIREMAN SUICIDES

August Walters a fireman aboard the S. S. Tampico, jumped overboard August 15 from the vessel. His body was recovered and although the man was conscious, he could not be revived and expired. Walters was coaling at the time he jumped from the vessel. He was buried at sea.

BEATS PAPA IFA.

An American Who Walks Over Every Old Thing.

BLOEMFONTEIN, August 9.—Mr.
Schilling, an American, who is traveling around the world on foot, arrived here yesterday.

He left New York on August 3, 1897, clad in a suit of newspapers, hatless, bootless and penniless. He has undertaken for a wager of $5,000 to complete the journey within five years, neither to beg, borrow, nor steal, and to have accumulated $1,000. Since leaving New York he has traveled a distance of 29,700 miles, and walked through the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, India, Burma, China, Siam, Japan, Siberia, the Philippines, and part of South Africa. He has still to travel to Cairo via Belra, Mombassa, and the Soudan, across Europe, including Austria, Russia, Germany, Holland, Italy, France and England, which means another 8,000 miles, to complete which he has just thirteen months.

In the course of his wanderings, Mr.
Schilling has witnessed four wars—the Spanish-American, the Philippines, the Boxer, and the Boer—been held up by Mexicans, robbed, and almost strangled by ythugs, mobbed by Boxers, and fired upon several times. He earns his living by lecturing at towns he passes through.

DEATH OF THE OLDEST ACTRESS.

NEW YORK, August 10.—Mrs. Eliza Young, the oldest actress on the American stage, died today at the Actors' Fund Home on Staten Island, aged 92 years. She played with many of America's prominent actors and actresses until her last appearance in 1889 with Mrs. Langtry in "Macbeth."
