FORT STREET

There is this peculiar thing about our Hair Vigor: it's a hair-
foot, not a dye.
It doesn't turn your hair suddenly black and make it look dead and lifeless. But gradually the old
color comes back,
all the rich color it used to have. And it also stops falling of the hair.
Even if your hair
isn't coming out,
isn't turning gray,
isn't too short,
yet you certainly want a fine dressing for it, and here it is.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It keeps the scalp clean and healthy, removes all dandruff, makes the hair grow rapidly, prevents it from falling out, and does not allow a single gray hair to appear.
Do not be deceived by cheap imitations which will only disappoint you.
Make sure that you get the genuine
Ayer's Hair Vigor.
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

WARNING TO VENEZUELAN.
LA GUAYRA, Jan. 15.—There are renewed labor troubles here and the prefect of the city has been warned by the captain of the British cruiser Terrible that he will hold him personally responsible if any harm comes to Germans, Italians or British who

BERESFORD FOR MONROE DOCTRINE.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Speaking of the Venezuelan issue Lord Charles Beresford expresses satisfaction at the manner in which a settlement is to be reached. The affair, he says, has taught his government a lesson—that it must never try its hand again at such a game without the partnership of the United States. "I do not say a word against Germany," he adds, "but I think it would be to England's advantage to say, 'We support the Monroe doctrine and are ready to fight for it.'"

Roosevelt's Past

How the Strenuous President of the United States Has Lived It Down.

Theodore Roosevelt's record reveals him as an impulsive and dangerous man; but when he became President of the United States he realized how perilous his limitations might be to his country. He resolved to reform, and he did reform. He is now entitled, to that species of admiration accorded by every true Christian to an erring husband who genuinely repents and returns to his wife and family, resolved to be a better and a nobler man.
It must have been exceedingly difficult for Mr. Roosevelt to live down his past, but he has been amazingly successful.

These are the ideas with reference to our Chief Magistrate which find expression in many vehicles of European higher thought, notably in The Monthly Review (London). Mr. Sydney Brooks is the writer of the article. He informs us that Mr.
Roosevelt even now "has to keep constant watch over himself."
"But then he all but invariably succeeds in doing so. A year ago Americans felt uneasy about their new President. They feared his overplus of energy, the impact of his impetuous tingling personality. He had the same reputation for militant rash-ness that the Kaiser once enjoyed. It took William III. ten years to live down the nervousness his accession inspired. It has taken Theodore Roosevelt just one year."

Mr. Roosevelt has "a bludgeon of a mind," proceeds our authority, "healthily unoriginal and non-creative."

"A man in many ways after Carlyle's own heart, who has 'swallowed formulas,' is transparently incapable of anything mean, underhand or equivocal, preaches and practices the gospel of work, and flinches before nothing."

"So buoyant, virile, and masterful a figure would win a following anywhere."

"In America the force of his attractiveness is peculiarly felt.
They are an emotional people, always ready to exalt any man who rises even an inch above the undistinguished multitude, quick on the uptake, swiftly responsive to a touch of firmness.
They will follow a leader, when they find one, farther than most nations, and forgive him, as they forgave Grant, almost anything."

But Mr. Roosevelt can be very easily misunderstood, says The St. James' Gazette (London). He talks so much sometimes, and he is so strong.

"President Roosevelt, for whom a quite unusual degree of admiration is felt in this country, lends himself as readily as the very classics to commentation. The strenuous life pulsates through all his words, and the enfeebled commentators in their more effete existence sit up with a vengeance when the winged sentences reach their ears. Sometimes the words seem to reach them in what might almost be called a 'dishgrasheful condishion' and then they do sit up!"

"A torpedo President," says the Paris Temps of the present occupant of the White House.

"He has the defect of being an uncomfortable person. He gives public opinion too many shocks. He furnishes the people with too many surprises."

The Republican party magnates have for him the disagreeable feeling "not only of the hen who has hatched out a duck, but of the farmer who has entrusted the protection of his sheep not to a dog but to a wolf." He is "incorrigible," and all who study his career find it "a series of continual somersaults," altho' in a straight direction. It looks as if he must be the inevitable candidate in 1904, but his own disposition has interfered with that "honeymoon" and "given some assurance to his enemies."—The Literary Digest.
