ALL READY NOW FOR TARIFF FIGHT

Senate Girds Up Its Loins for Big Battle of This Session.

HARMONY IN G. O. P. RANKS

Regulars and Insurgents Shake Hands and Make Up on Eve of Scrap.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—All is in readiness for the big fight of the current session, the struggle over tariff reductions. The senate, so to speak, is stripped for the fray and the battle lines are drawn.

For the first time in months there are signs that when the struggle begins in earnest the insurgents and the regulars will be found fighting shoulder to shoulder. The first symptoms of this state of affairs came with the Republican caucus held yesterday. The meeting was secret of course, but nevertheless it was learned that the insurgent and the regular or standpat leaders met with more or less hearty expressions of harmony and no attempt was made to insist on factional lines.

For several days new protests at the proposed slashing of tariff rates, have been pouring into the offices of senators from all over the country. The particular form that the fight on the sugar tariff is beginning to assume is attracting a great deal of attention. The Democrats, led by the Louisiana delegation, threaten to split wide over that particular schedule and as a consequence the Republicans are apt to draw closer together.

Already preparations for the coming congressional campaign are under way. Congressman yesterday named Representative McKibben as chairman of the committee to conduct the congressional fight.

DROPS LA FOLLETTE; PICKS ROOSEVELT

Chicago Editor Forgets His Second and Returns to His First Political Love.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—To the surprise of many Medill McCormick, editor of the Chicago Tribune, who has been foreing the fight for Senator La Follette yesterday issued a call to the progressive republican organization of Illinois to abandon La Follette and send a solid delegation to the national convention instructed for Roosevelt. "By all means" the call urges "defeat La Follette."

In spite of the attacks he has been receiving and the ill health he is said to be suffering from Senator La Follette declared yesterday that he proposed to continue his fight for the nomination and would not quit until defeated on the floor of the convention.

BERGER'S BILL IN.

WASHINGTON, February 5.—Victor Berger, the Socialist member of congress, today introduced a bill for universal suffrage.

RAP THIRD TERM IDEA.

WASHINGTON, February 5.—A resolution introduced in congress to legalize a presidential third term failed temporarily for lack of a second.

REMORSE DRIVES WOMAN TO DEATH

NEW YORK, February 5.—The joint suicide of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Noble was due to remorse, it was learned today. The woman, who, before her scandal with Noble, a plumber's assistant, was Mrs. Walter Suydam, a rich young society woman, had told a friend that she must pay for her disregard of law and religion.

DIES DENYING GUILT.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colorado, February 5.—Arthur J. Burnham, for a long time suspected of the murder of six people, died today of tuberculosis, denying his guilt to the last.

FIND COAL FIELDS.

CORDOVA, Alaska, February 5.—A large body of anthracite coal has been discovered at the head of White River.

MANUEL SOUZA.

And his son, John, both of whom are in the hospital as a result of J. E. Johnson's recklessness.

SOUZAS, FATHER AND SON, WILL RECOVER

There is now no fear that fatal complications will set in in the case of Manuel Souza, or his six-year-old son, Johnnie, who are now in the hospital as a result of the automobile and delivery wagon smashup on King street Saturday night. Little Johnnie, after two days of semiconsciousness, sat up in his bed at the Queen's Hospital yesterday morning enjoying picture books and apparently none the worse for his almost fatal accident. His father is a little more seriously injured, but will recover, it is hoped.

Johnson is still held at the city jail, comprising a great deal on account of his prolonged incarceration, for as he is held under investigation he is not permitted to see any one or read the newspapers. Deputy Sheriff Rose will charge him with heedless and reckless driving as soon as his victims are out of the hospital, a very minor charge compared to the one of manslaughter which would have been brought had either of the Souzas died, but the only one possible under the law.

MACHINE RAFFLE JOHNSON'S HOPE

Tries to Sell 1000 Tickets at $2 Each—Men on the Glacier Badly Stung.

RAFFLE.
No. 999. Tickets, $2 each
Mrs. J. E. Johnson's Automobile, 75-Horsepower—7-Passenger.
This ticket also includes admission to a Dance and Supper at Alakea wharf.
Notification will be given in due time of Raffle and Dance.

This is a copy of one of the raffle tickets which Chauffeur Johnson sold in numbers to the men of the fleet, especially to those on the supply ship Glacier, where he is reported to have raked in several hundred dollars, selling tickets on the machine he afterward wrecked. One of the men on the Glacier yesterday told an Advertiser representative that he did not buy any of Johnson's tickets, but there were a large number of the men on this ship who had and the chauffeur must have made several hundred dollars from them.

Johnson's car has been run many thousands of miles and is in far from good condition, yet he figured in getting $2000 for it by raffling it off. It is not known just what he did intend to do about making good on the proposition, as it is rumored he was going to leave town on the Sierra this morning.

As far as the Schuman Carriage Company is concerned, they have no claim on the automobile as reported. Gus Schuman says that up to six months ago he had a claim against it but this obligation has been removed.

MANCHUS WHIPPED AGAIN

PEKING, February 5.—The rebel invaders have defeated the army of the Manchus in a pitched battle at the mouth of the Yalu river, Manchuria.

M'CARTHY IS THE TIP JUST NOW

McCandless Tags Him as Man to Oust Jarrett—Split Wider Than Ever.

Far from being healed up and patched over, the split in the Democratic ranks is worse than ever and the heaves in the opposing camps have their scarping knives out, good and plenty, for each other. For many months there has been bitter complaint that Sheriff Jarrett was not conducting his office in the interests of the party, but had a foolish idea—from the Democratic standpoint—that efficiency was more to be considered than the providing of easy jobs for Democratic incompetents. Now, as it happened, these incompetents had been placed on the police payroll to save the expense of their keep to Link McCandless and when Jarrett weeded them out and Link had to consent to be touched again, every so often, it naturally riled him. Consequently, from the standpoint of the McCandless Democrats, Jarrett must go.

Jarrett, naturally, has his own ideas on the subject, and will not step aside for McCandless. Hence the row, a row in which the Sheriff has the support of all the reputable men of his party and McCandless has the support of all the Democrats who need a dollar and know that McCandless is an easy mark.

For a while the idea was to shift Mayor Fern into the police station, leaving the sinecure he holds for Colonel McCarthy and letting Jarrett out in the cold. But there were a number of kicks when this was sprung. Mayor Fern kicked, for one, not relishing the idea of a job at no more salary with which there was work connected, while even many of Link's friends saw the absurdity of expecting Fern to fill an office that required some headwork.

Now the scheme has been rejected and McCarthy is the one slated to go on the Democratic ticket in Jarrett's place. McCarthy cannot be bought like Juen, but an office can be dangled before him to keep him in the McCandless bread-line. Jarrett was tendered the olive branch a short time ago, but spurned it, declaring manfully that he would have nothing to do with an organization that numbered among its bright and shining lights such men as Harry Juen and Kahalehaha. Jarrett didn't include Link himself among the ones he named, but he probably would have liked to.

With this situation confronting the McCandlessites, the name of Colonel McCarthy has been projected on the political motion picture screen, where it can be seen and studied. The McCandlessites believe that McCarthy can be elected and that he will not only poll the Democratic vote, but will get not a few Republican ballots. At the present time the Republicans have no one in sight for sheriff, although they may endorse Jarrett. Andrew Cox made a poor showing in the last election for a good man and poor old John Wise was out of the running in the previous campaign long before election day dawned. A notorious haole supervisor was training for the shrievalty nomination with the help of a bungling road department, but his hopes have gone glimmering because the campaign committee will tell him flatly he is not wanted in any capacity.

GOOD FOLK OF HONOLULU SHIVER WHEN COLD WAVE STRIKES THE ISLAND

Honoluluans went about shivering yesterday morning. On all sides they might be heard telling one another how cold it was, and positively thrilling stories of unusual experiences with the morning cold bath could be heard most anywhere. However, no matter how it may have felt, it wasn't cold. The thermometer only got down to sixty—the lowest for this season, it is true, but not at all unusual.

DIES BESIDE OPEN GRAVE AS THE BODY OF DEPARTED FRIEND ARE LAID TO REST

After pleading all day to be permitted to attend the funeral of her late friend, Mrs. Margaret Jerome Healy, Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson dropped dead yesterday afternoon at the side of the open grave as the last words of the funeral service were being spoken over the remains of her departed friend.

Both ladies were inmates of the King's Daughters' Home, Mrs. Healy dying Sunday. She was eighty-six years old and a native of Massachusetts.

The old ladies of the home were all anxious to attend the funeral of their late companion, who was a general favorite among them and besieged Miss Drummond, the superintendent, and Miss Florence Yarrow for permission to be present at the services. The superintendent demurred but it was finally decided that a refusal would result in unnecessary grievings and the permission was granted. Church services were held at half-past two yesterday afternoon and an hour later were resumed at the grave in Nuuanu cemetery.

WESTWARD BOUND TIDE OF IMMIGRATION NOW FLOODING INTO THE WESTERN STATES

A great westward movement of population is under way, not only in the United States but in Europe, and will result in a few years in tremendous increase of permanent population in the western American States, and as a natural result an increase in Hawaii, according to information given to Edward Pollitz, the San Francisco broker, by railroad men who keep in touch with movements of travel.

"I am informed by railroad men who maintain information bureaus in the East," said Mr. Pollitz, "that eighty-

GOOD FOLK OF HONOLULU SHIVER WHEN COLD WAVE STRIKES THE ISLAND

Pacific storms reported by steamer after steamer, are all a part of a somewhat unusual season.

High Barometer.
"Just now we have a high barometer. This means, of course, that there is a low barometer somewhere else. The study of these atmospheric conditions is an intensely interesting one, and, though the area of our observations is small, our local station gets much data which it would be very interesting to work up. We have no changes here of a violent nature, but there are conditions of great interest to the student of meteorology. For example, the annual rainfall at our gauge on the Young Hotel is about 29 inches a year, and four or five miles away we could register a hundred and forty inches."
