IGNORE CHARGES AGAINST KEPOIKAI

POLITICS

Either Kaea will get off the ticket or some other will. As the matter now stands, there is danger that some of the best candidates on the list will decline to run with him. Under the Rules and policy of the party as well as for reasons of policy, the candidates naturally all stand together. Each one is for the whole ticket, and wants to work for it.

"I don't see," said one of the ticket this morning, "how I am going to take the platform and ask electors to vote the whole Republican ticket while Kaea is on it. He ought to have the decency to withdraw instead of putting men in such a position."

On the other hand, there are some candidates who stand by Kaea. They take stock in his statement that he has reformed, etc., and as a matter of party loyalty are willing to swallow him, and even work for him. All of the candidates feel pledged to him in view of the Rules and pledges of the party organization, but a great majority are anxious to see him get off the ticket and relieve them of the necessity of supporting him. And some may prefer to withdraw themselves rather than face the public supporting Kaea.

ATKINSON BETTER.

A. L. C. Atkinson, chairman of the Republican Territorial Committee, is much improved in condition and may be expected out again soon. This enforced retirement at the very beginning of the campaign has been a handicap much felt at Republican headquarters.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

"I am at work now on obtaining speakers for the ratification meeting on Monday night," Chairman A. F. Judd of the County Committee said at noon.

"All morning I have been engaged on the subject of party workers, getting lists of such from precincts and receiving some reports. The results so far are very encouraging, especially from the Fourth District."

BIG THING FOR HAWAII

PANAMA CANAL'S EFFECT ON HONOLULU WILL BE A SURPRISE SAYS DOHRMANN.

"I think the first results of the opening of the Panama Canal will be a pleasant surprise to Honolulu and a disappointment to San Francisco," said F. W. Dohrmann, chairman of the visiting Chamber of Commerce delegation, ex-president and honorary president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, this morning. "This city will be the natural calling place for the great number of steamers which will cross the Pacific to and fro, using the canal as their way to the other side.

"Honolulu certainly has a great future, and the canal will do much for her. Our present trip is at the invitation of Japanese Chambers of Commerce and Honolulu, except as a stopping place, was not included in our business. We are, however, glad that the steamer is to stop over till morning, so that we may spend some time here. As far as the business of our trip is concerned, Hawaii affairs are not a part of it, and will not be included in our official report of the journey. But we are interested in Hawaii and many will stop over here for some time on the return from Japan, myself among them."

MAUI JUDGE NOT TO BE REMOVED

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE DECIDES NOT TO ACT UPON THE CHARGES REGARDING THEM AS A REPETITION OF CHARGES THAT WERE MADE BEFORE THE JUDGE WAS REAPPOINTED SOME MONTHS AGO.

(Special to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, September 19.—When the charges regarding Judge Kepoikai were received, the Attorney General was at his summer home and officials of the Department here were not informed. When the Attorney General returned to Washington, since the close of the last Hawaiian mail, he said in response to inquiry, that there was nothing pending against the judge, and no action contemplated. A few days after the judge was reappointed the department received by mail, additional copies of the old complaint that had been lodged when he was seeking reappointment, but as the charges were identical with what had gone before, and as the Attorney General had satisfied himself that there was not sufficient in the charges to deny the judge reappointment, the late charges were acknowledged, but will remain unacted upon.

The above was received today from the Washington correspondent of The Star, in answer to cabled and other inquiries regarding the Kepoikai charges. It appears to mean that the Department of Justice had the matter of the Mori estate note before it some months ago, before Kepoikai was reappointed, and decided to reappoint him anyhow, also that the charges more recently sent are regarded as simply reopening the old matter.

DEDICATING NEW COLLEGE FIELD

This afternoon at 3:30 the Samuel T. Alexander Athletic Field at Oahu College will be dedicated. The friends of the school are taking an afternoon off to celebrate this occasion which has in it so much of significance for Punahou and for amateur athletics in the city.

All the preparations are complete for the day's ceremonies. Patty Waterhouse will unveil the tablet promptly at 3:30 and then Mr. W. M. Alexander will formally present the field to Dr. W. D. Alexander, representing the college corporation.

The program of sports and a period of congratulatory and social pleasure will follow. Under the big tent there will be lemonade and other cooling drinks. The chairs under the shade of the tent and the trees will make everyone comfortable.

President Griffiths and the trustees are congratulating themselves on the fact that the Tenyo Maru will stay in port until tomorrow morning. This will enable Mr. W. M. Alexander who is a through passenger on her and Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse who leave for her for Japan on the Chamber of Commerce excursion, to stay through the day and have a part in the entire program.

The Young Royalties

Princess Kawananakoa won her first victory in the matter of the estate of her husband, the late Prince David, in Judge Lindsay's court this morning. Some time ago a petition was filed by J. F. Colburn asking that Prince Cupid or E. M. Watson be appointed guardian of the two minor children, Kalakaua and Liliuokalani. The mother replied by a counter petition which was rather strong in its terms.

In the first place it was set forth that J. F. Colburn was the manager of the Kapiolani estate, and that practically the entire property of the late prince consisted in fifty shares of this. It was stated that for six months before his death David had been attempting to get an accounting from Colburn, but that the latter had refused. I was alleged that certain property which had been devised to Kalakaua was claimed by the Kapiolani estate, of which Prince Cupid owns half, which would put him in a position of fighting on both sides of the dispute, first for himself and then for his nephew, should he be appointed guardian of the child.

It is stated that the Kapiolani estate is very heavily involved and that the share of the two minor children and the petitioner if depleted by attorneys' fees, would amount to practically nothing. On these grounds the widow asked that Mrs. Abigail K. Campbell-Parker, the grandmother of the children, should be appointed guardian of the little girl, Liliuokalani, and E. M. Watson guardian of the boy, Kalakaua. Mrs. Campbell-Parker agreeing to pay all the attorneys' fees for both children. Her motion was acceptable to Judge Lindsay and the guardians she asked were appointed.

Colburn made no objection in court this morning to the proceeding, it being stated by his attorney, C. W. Ashford, that on account of Prince Cupid's being away from this city to such an extent it might be better to appoint another guardian.

Peace Mission Passes To Japan From Frisco

HONOLULU THE PORT OF A MOST SIGNIFICANT DELEGATION FROM THE UNITED STATES TO JAPANESE EMPIRE—REPRESENTATIVE CALIFORNIA AND OTHER BUSINESS MEN NOW HERE EN ROUTE TO YOKOHAMA TO ARRIVE THERE BEFORE THE FLEET.

Seldom has any such significant move been made as is now in progress in the advance upon Japan of the commercial commissioners to that country from the United States. What would Japan do without her trade with America? The American fleets are decorating this ocean and, on top of that, the commercial forces of the American nation send forth to Japan emissaries who will cement closer than ever the excuses for perpetual peace.

Aboard the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamship Tenyo Maru, the queen of all the trans-Pacific liners, are a number, a great number of representative business men of the Pacific coast, under the auspices of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, expecting to reach Yokohama four days before the arrival of the American battleship fleet.

Great and ardent was their reception here, and great and just as ardent, it is expected, will be their reception on the "other side."

The Chambers of Commerce of Tokio, Osaka, Kyoto, Yokohama and Kobe, desiring to give expression to their feelings of friendship and good will towards America and Americans, and wishing also to quicken the sentiments of mutual attachment and good neighborhood which unite the people of the two lands, had resolved to extend a cordial invitation to a good number of representative citizens of the Pacific Coast of the United States to go to Japan during the chrysanthemum season.

And this delegation of peace arrived in Honolulu this morning in the T. K. K. S. S. Tenyo Maru, a vessel which has, the only just recently on the run, jumped into the most popular favor, and they were received in the most approved Hawaiian style, being welcomed off the harbor by representative Hawaiian citizens in launches who bedecked them with leis and bled them welcome to this city.

J. P. Cooke and H. P. Wood went out in a launch and were armed with beautiful Hawaiian leis for each of the distinguished visitors. Arrived at the wharf, there was a great crowd
