KILAUEA AT OMAHA

Volcano Cyclorama Will Be Handled by Home People.

It is about settled that a local company will show the Kilauea Cyclorama at the Omaha Trans-Mississippi Exposition, to open in June next and continue five months. The great canvas is now in storage at Boston. In transit it fills two cars. The Cyclorama is the property of Honolulu people. Mr. T. W. Hobron had intended to go over and manage the show, but has changed his plans on account of business affairs here. Martin Smith is at the head of the local combination that has secured the lease of the canvases and the selected ground at Omaha. Mr. Smith will leave very soon to look after the Cyclorama. On the Exposition grounds there has been secured a most favorable site. The location is between the machinery and fine arts halls, and facing the Midway. It will be necessary to put up a large building. Native singers will be taken along. In showing Kilauea there is used several hundred incandescent electric lights and steam from pipes. The show has been praised by all who have seen it. It did a big business both at Chicago and at the Midwinter. Progress is being made in the plans for a Hawaiian village at Omaha. The Government has shown some interest in the matter and a number of business men have consented to give substantial support. It may be that the project will soon be discussed by the Chamber of Commerce. It is planned to make quite an industrial showing. Robt. W. Shingle is one of the men selected to assist in maintaining the Hawaiian village at Omaha.

Spoke Of Othello.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Atherton last evening, quite a gathering of people interested in the study of literature was addressed for an hour by Prof. Cora McDonald. The subject was the play "Othello." Miss McDonald handled her subject in a manner that surprised and pleased all and that was very instructive. She gave a close analysis of several of the characters, spoke of the Moors and other people of the plays and gave a clear idea of the customs of those days and of the topography of the theater of action. Another meeting of the class will be held on Monday evening next, when the parts in the first three acts of the play will be read. Miss McDonald will again speak of the characters, the historical phases and the country.

At the Judd Building.

The force of workmen at present engaged on the site of the Judd Block, at Fort and Merchant, is not large. About a dozen men are handling the stone that is being carted to the place and running the pump that it removing the tide water. The workmen have a big audience nearly all hours of the day. For the wayfarers there seems to be a fascination about the operation of machinery in the open or the efforts of either skilled or unskilled workmen. At times there are as many as 100 men and boys looking into the basement or cellar of the new building. People who have kept check on the scene aver that many a busy man has stopped at the place for half an hour, simply, as a native will sometimes say, to "look see."

Code Revision Ready.

There will be a special meeting of the Honolulu bar in the office of the Attorney General in the Executive Building at 3 o'clock this afternoon. At this time there will be reported the result of the comparison with the statutes of S. M. Ballou's revision of the criminal code. For nearly three weeks Marshal Brown W. A. Henshall and A. Rosa have been hard at work making the comparison. It is the purpose of the attorneys of the bar here and of the law department of the Government, to have the codification adopted or enacted by the Legislature. There are not a great many changes in the work done by Mr. Ballou.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday morning John Gilman was sentenced to a term of imprisonment of 30 days at hard labor on the charge of vagrancy. Since the races at Cyclomere park when Gilman showed up as one of the prominent amateur riders, that young man has been doing questionable things. He was caught on the premises of another at night without lawful excuse.

Peter Nunes and Kuelike, charged with gross cheat had their cases set for the 12th inst.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for 12 years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Company, Limited, wholesale agents for Hawaiian Islands.
