Jury in the Case of Becker Fails to Agree.

Out for Four Hours—Hopelessly Divided—Old Glory Gets a Mention in Circuit Court.

In the foreign jury criminal case of the Republic vs. Becker, a Pennington bluejacket, the twelve men chosen to find a verdict, were unable to agree. It was charged that Becker some months ago stabbed a Chinese. The Pake was the chief witness and swore that the prisoner was the man who wielded the knife. The Chinaman removed his shirt while on the witness stand and exhibited an ugly wound. Becker claimed that the hurt was inflicted by a Pake who struck at a second bluejacket. A pretty straight story was told by the defendant, whose manner seemed truthful. He bore a good reputation in the service. The Chinaman was insistent with his evidence, however. Deputy Attorney-General Dole was for the Government and Paul Neumann for the defendant. There was a glorious opportunity for the lawyers to yank tail feathers from the American eagle in their arguments yesterday morning, but they kept within the bounds surprisingly well. Mr. Neumann made a careful little mention of the man's calling and said he would like to see his client back where he could do good for his country again. Mr. Dole said that for himself he felt very much American just at this time, but that as a servant of the State he held it to be his duty to prosecute regardless of star-spangled banner considerations. The jury, of which L. C. Ables was elected foreman, went out at 11:30 in the forenoon. In a couple of hours they came in and told Judge Perry that they stood seven to five, with scarcely any prospect of returning a verdict. Lunch was given them between 12 and 1. At 3:30 the judge sent for the men and asked point blank if there was any possibility of reaching an agreement. The reply unanimous was that they could never get a result. The jury was then discharged and warned not to talk of their deliberations to other members of the panel. Becker may be given another trial and then again the case against him may be dropped. It is supposed that the vote of the wise dozen stood with the majority for acquittal.

The choir of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral will meet this evening for practice. The Honolulu messenger service is now in running order under the management of D. G. Camarinos. Telephone 378.

A good many people have asked the Advertiser to call attention to constant violations of the road rules on principal thoroughfares by wheelmen and drivers of all kinds of rigs. There was a good, big, interested crowd at the Hawaiian hotel last evening for the concert by the Government band. The musicians have their holiday today.

Memorial Site.

Now that it has been decided that the Carter memorial shall not stand on Union Square the question is, where shall it be placed. The joint committee of the Senate and House have the matter in hand and in a few days, will report the decision they have arrived at. As yet, no choice of a new site, has been made. The committee from the Citizens' Guard conferred with the joint committee from the Senate and House on Wednesday and asked that they be allowed the corner of the Executive Building grounds near the band stand on Richards and King for the memorial. No answer was given, the committee preferring to deliberate carefully on the matter before making any decision.

War in Native.

Editor J. M. Poepeo, of the Kuokoa, will have out for the Gazette company today a first-class war edition of the native paper. There will be two pages, illustrated. Mr. Poepeo has worked hard since the Zealandia mail arrived picking out the best dispatches and translating them into Hawaiian. Thus the natives will be fully informed of the great struggle between the United States and Spain. The Hawaiians seem lately to have taken on a renewed interest in the march or rush of affairs in foreign lands. The subscription list of the Kuokoa has grown and the sales of each issue of the paper have been very large.

Ready Today.

The B. F. Ehlers & Co. people have been busy the past few days opening up the large invoice of new goods that arrived by the Zealandia and other vessels. At a late hour last night the work was completed and Manager Du Roi wishes to inform the ladies of Honolulu that everything is in readiness today for an inspection of the new importations, which include real and wash veils, shirt waists, silks, laces, lawns and organdies.

ACQUIRING ENGLISH.

Six Chinese Young Men Are Spreading Knowledge.

But few people know of the movement on the part of six of the prominent Chinese young men of the country toward the education and enlightenment of their brethren here on the Islands. The Chinese have always show much zeal toward the acquirement of knowledge of the English language. The movement spoken of started on April 25th. After much deliberation and thought, the six young men, members of the Chinese Y. M. C. A., announced that they would give lessons on each night of the week, Sunday and Wednesday excepted, in the rudiments of English, to all Chinese who had any desire to take advantage of the opportunity. The lessons would be free of charge. About 17 answered the call and now the list has swelled to 57 while the actual attendance is 40. This number promises to be twice as large in a very short time. The six young men are among the brightest of the subjects of the Chinese Emperor to be found in Honolulu and have given up their pleasant evenings at home for the sole purpose of developing the intellectual power of those whom they claim as their countrymen.

The classes instituted are peculiarly advantageous to those who compose them as so much that is hard to explain is communicated directly in Chinese, this giving a complete understanding of the subject in hand.

Wide Tires in Minnesota.

It was demonstrated beyond question, says the Minneapolis Tribune, that wide tires keep the surface smooth and firm, and that when the roads are full of ruts the broad wheels tend to restore them to good condition and thus materially lessen the cost of repairs. The universal adoption of the wide tire in Minnesota for all vehicles carrying heavy loads would save the taxpayers of the State thousands of dollars annually in road repairs and would save the farmers and teamsters ten times the amount in expense of hauling and wear and tear of horses and vehicles.
