ITS SPHERE

There are spheres of advertising as well as of political influence. The clearest defined are those of the daily newspapers. The Republican with its large and constantly increasing circulation is read by all classes, but it has a great influence with the sturdy and numerous middleclass—the people who buy the bulk of the goods and whose patronage is indispensable to the general advertiser.

The Republican gives the best advertising value in Honolulu for the price charged. Live news on every page and only eight pages.

Poor old 'Tiser'! Things do not seem to come its way at all in these days of its dotage.

If the Territory holds the Channel wharf by tolerance only, what is the use worrying over it?

The political situation in the Fourth district doesn't seem to be to the liking of the Advertiser and its political clique. This combination is never happy unless it rules. When not ruling, it stands for ruin.

The American republic is founded upon manhood, not money. The citizen counts not his dollars. There is no property test; property is safe-guarded by law. These are matters the Advertiser seems inclined to overlook.

There is nothing small about the republicans of Hilo. They will not sink in their tents, but will be at the Territorial convention in force, demanding county and municipal government from the next legislature. That is their important fight—home rule.

If the wireless telegraph will work over the sea a distance of sixty miles, as the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiserin Maria Theresa is reported to have done, there is every reason to hope for success at greater distances from permanent stations.

Notwithstanding the many calls for money upon the American people, the committee of one hundred of New York city has raised a quarter or a million of dollars for the starving people of India. The cry of the unfortunate always reaches the heart of America, a healthy and hopeful fact. When the hearts of the people are right the nation is all right.

They have a law in Greece that a man sentenced to death must serve two years in prison awaiting execution. The idea seems to be to make the punishment more severe, the contemplation of one's dissolution for two years being anything but cheering. The plan is not a bad one for another reason; it seems to us that it would be likely to prevent the occasional hanging of men convicted on circumstantial evidence.

There is no truth in the story that the Volcano House is to be abandoned. It was an idle rumor. Instead, the company owning it will make improvements and render the place still more attractive. With a rapidly expanding population and the steady growth of individual wealth the patronage of the place ought to increase rapidly. Aside from its scenic and other attractions it offers a happy refuge from the sometimes too tropical climate of the valleys.

The Belgian hare had, which took the form of speculation on the mainland, has collapsed. No more fancy prisons are in vogue and the price of rabbits has fallen to 3 and 4 cents a pound. The meat of this hare is excellent food, but he is so enormous a breeder that he hopelessly ruins the market. Farmers even as far east as Iowa are arming themselves with shotguns against this new pest, for fanciers, finding no sale for their pedigreed stock, are firing of the cost of feeding them and turning their rabbits loose, to the dismay of horticulturists and agriculturists. Hawaii ought to guard against this pest.

The original republican revolutionists of Hawaii—or those who gathered the fruit of that revolution—are not nearly as happy, politically, today as they were six and seven years ago. The outside world has not been so kind to them as they were. There was no one to say them nay. Now the humorist native, with his ballot in his hand, is as powerful as the mightiest revolutionists, and iron-clad native combinations, while they are to be deprecated, have eminent precedent. The natives appear to have been apt pupils of the provisional government people and of the methods of the republic, and those who taught them so will have little cause for complaint today. Political sins, like curses, come home to roost.

The band has had a busy week and has given thousands of visitors as well as residents great pleasure. Captain Berger's band is one of the institutions of the city just as much as the capitol and the court house. It is a fixture and will be retained as one of the very best things that have come down to the Territory from the monarchy. The concert on Emma square Monday evening and on Thomas square on Tuesday evening were musical treats—instrumentally and vocally—and the strangers within our gates were largely impressed with social life in Honolulu by our music.

The execrable service which the telephone company has been giving Honolulu was fully discussed before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The ventilation was timely and every person using the line will hope that the promises of reform will be speedily redeemed. The fault may be largely with the superintendent, but not wholly. A little more intelligence and courtesy and a great deal more of discipline in the central exchange would help out amazingly.

The congested condition of the narrow streets in the down town, or wholesale, section of the city certainly call for a remedy of some sort. A conference between the superintendent of public works, the high sheriff and leading merchants ought to result in a plan that would bring some relief, at least.

Latest Sugar Prices.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Sugar: Raw, strong; fair, 10.15; refined, 11.00; granulated, 11.10.

A Note of Warning.

(From the Independent.) We do not admit for a moment that the candidates for legislative honors nominated by Wilcox & Co. will be elected. We doubt that they can carry the votes on Hawaii, Maui or Kauai, where he has succeeded in making himself unpopular, but it will be difficult to get the Hawaiians to vote for men who publicly have declared themselves republicans or democrats. Remember that right here in Honolulu this morning 2,350 voters were registered and out of that number 1,400 were Hawaiians. What can you do against such overwhelming odds besides feeling sure of disastrous defeat? The missionary wing cares nothing for the split in the republican party. They will stand aloof from the election, see the Sewall clique defeated, the independents win, and then they will work on the members of the legislature as only they know how to work. And, alas! heretofore they have won every time.

Tonight's Concert.

The band will give another of its excellent concerts at the Hawaiian hotel grounds this evening, commencing at 7:30. Captain Berger has arranged for two vocal solos in the program. It will be a concert well worth hearing.

Thirty-Year Lease Sold.

The lease to lot No. 93, situated on Kilauea street, midway between Halekuanui and Allen streets, was sold to the Hawaiian Electric Company for $1,025. The lease is good for thirty years. The bidding was quite spirited.

Extension of Kekaulike Street.

The road commissioners have recommended that Kekaulike street be extended from Hotel street to Beretania street. The recommendation is now with Superintendent of Public Works McCandless, who will probably act upon it in a short time.

CALEB POWERS GETS LIFE.

But Judge Cantrill Suspends Execution Pending an Appeal.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Sept. 5.—Judge Cantrill today overruled the bill of exceptions in the case of ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers, convicted as an accessory before the fact to the assassination of William Goebel, and sentenced the prisoner for life.

Judge Cantrill made an order suspending execution of the sentence for sixty days in order to enable the defendant to procure a transcript of the record to be filed in the court of appeals, and an appeal was allowed.

Beware the Soda Fountain.

CHICAGO, September 8.—The local health department was notified today of the poisoning by ice cream soda of three persons, one of whom may die. The victims: Clarence Smith, 5 years, condition critical; Mrs. T. C. Smith, will recover. Mrs. E. Smith, will recover. The ice cream and soda was taken yesterday.

PHONE MISMANAGEMENT

UNDER VERY SWAMP FIRE.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

TAKES UP THE UNSATISFACTORY SERVICE.

Remedy Promised Within a Month—Chinatown Fire Bills Must Await Legislative Action—New Members Elected.

All claims in regard to the Chinatown fire will have to be put off until the next meeting of the Legislature, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce read a letter from Secretary H. M. Cooper to that effect at the Chamber's meeting yesterday morning. J. B. Atherton made a statement to the meeting in regard to the telephone lines, saying that they were arranging them in order and would present them to the next Legislature.

The same reply was given to A. C. Gordon, a black lantern entertainer in California, who desired the Chamber to furnish him with island notes. Mr. M. Swamy desired the Chamber to make a complaint to the telephone company, but J. B. Atherton assured the meeting that the management was going all it possibly could to perfect the system.

The universal dissatisfaction with the telephone system was voiced by Mr. Swamy, which he very properly thought was a matter for the chamber to discuss. He said that nobody could admit that it was a good system. Twenty-nine men out of a hundred would call it execrable. The telephone was no longer a toy, but an important business convenience. He was a little surprised at the call of the Mutual Telephone Co. in asking pay for such a service. As a representative of some few business men he had never been informed of the company's financial affairs, so did not know whether lack of means was the cause of its inefficiency. A vigorous protest ought, however, to be made by the chamber. It did come within the chamber's concern. He would suggest that a protest should be sent to the company. It was some public action was taken, he thought.

Mr. Atherton took exception to Mr. Swamy's remark about not getting information. He could inform himself in fifteen minutes at the company's office. While the speaker knew the difficulties and complaints, the company hoped to have an expert here before many weeks to put the system in proper shape. In changing from one system to another the work had got a little beyond the superintendent.

Mr. Swamy denied having intimated that he could not get information. He thought it would be better to get an expert to take permanent hold instead of merely getting the system changed. It was agreed that the secretary should write the company in line with the views expressed.

A note was addressed to High Sheriff Brown and Superintendent McCandless, calling attention to the crowded and congested condition of several streets in the downtown city. The Chamber asked that policemen be stationed at various corners, and that all heavy traffic be excluded from Fort street as much as possible.

HER HUSBAND'S ASHES.

They Were Carried in This Toledo Woman's Dress Suit Case.

(From the Philadelphia Press.) Because the crowd about the outward bound baggage office of the Southern Terminal station at Boston was exceedingly dense and because the baggage checks reading Vanhousen, Mass., and Vanduesen, Mass., happened to hang side by side back of the rail, the officials of the baggage department of the Boston & Albany railroad have been in a perfect fever of excitement and activity since Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Lawrence Goode of Toledo, Ohio, arrived in this city the morning of that day, together with a party of friends from the west, en route for Mt. Desert and Bar Harbor, went to the south station intending to take a train for Vanduesen for a day's stay with friends of her family at that place. She checked a suit case for Vanduesen, as she supposed, and boarded the train. But when Mrs. Goode arrived at her destination and applied at the baggage room for her suit case it was not forthcoming. She waited until two more trains rolled in without a sign of the looked for piece of luggage.

In great excitement Mrs. Goode wired the baggage master at the south station. The wired description of the suit case was sent on to all the stations along the Berkshire division of the Boston & Albany, and the missing property was finally located at Vanhousen yesterday morning. Mrs. Goode called in answer to a message that her property would reach this city early yesterday morning. She entered the office radiant and joyful. She soon had the case opened, and diving deep into the case, she lifted a beautiful rosewood casket from the bottom and pressed it to her bosom with tears in her eyes as she thanked the officials of the baggage department for their efforts to find and restore the dress suit case.

As she repacked her things she told the story of the casket. The value she attached to it centered not in its exquisiteness as an example of the jeweler's art, but in the fact that it contained the ashes of her husband. His death two years ago cut short a charming married life. Faithful to a promise made to him on his death bed, Mrs. Goode had his remains cremated and has since been inseparable from the treasured rosewood casket containing them.
