Construction to Start On Important Roads

PUUKAPELE, OLOHENA ROADS TO BE CONSTRUCTED AT ONCE

Construction on the Puukapele and Olohena roads will start immediately according to the information given out by the county engineer's office this morning.

Grading has already been started on the Olohena road near the Cheatham place and it is expected to move the crusher from Lihue on Friday. The crusher will be set up at the corner of the Jensen homestead and should be in operation in about a week or ten days after moving. The first part of the road to be constructed will be the 4,000 feet from the Jensen homestead to the Kapaa, Waialua border. When this is completed, the work will continue in the opposite direction for about a mile and a quarter.

The crusher will then be moved to a point near the reservoir and the rest of the road completed from this spot.

Anyone who has had the misfortune to be forced to travel over the present road after a heavy rainfall will not doubt that this road is going to be a boon for the homesteaders in this district.

In regard to the Puukapele road according to law it is necessary that bids for the construction must be called for, but it is doubtful if any or the bids will meet the approval of the board of supervisors and the work therefore will be done by the county.

The first part of the work will be the first mile and half above the cane, necessitating removing 6,000 yards of earth. There will be no macadamizing on this road, grading being the only work to be done at present. When this portion is completed, another section will be worked until a total of about six miles of grading is completed.

This will bring the graded road about eight miles above the government road which is the worst section of the road at present.

With this improved road, there is no doubt that travel to Puukapele and Kokee will be stimulated, as the main drawback to visiting this district is the condition of the road.

COUNTY WARRANT FORGED; NO CLUE TO THE OFFENDER

A forged county warrant was cashed at the Lihue bank early last month and as yet the forger has not been apprehended. The warrant was issued to a Kapaa laborer who claims that he never received it. Investigation proved that the warrant had been cashed but the endorsement did not agree with the endorsements on previous warrants to the same party.

The sheriff's office was notified and they made an investigation and searched among the cashed warrants for a handwriting similar to that on the forged warrant. One was found that was thought to be similar and this person was brought to the bank. He was asked to sign the forged name and it is alleged that the forged endorsement was very similar to his effort.

The bank clerk who cashed the forged warrant stated that the suspected man was not the person who presented it for payment. As there was not enough evidence to hold the suspected man, he was released.

MAKAWELI MARRIED MEN EASILY TRIUMPH OVER MCBRYDE BENELECTS

McBryde claims that part of their team got lost in the mazes of Makaweli and they were forced to play with only six men and they just dare the Makaweli gang to come over to their lot and they will show them what will happen to them.

Just at present Makaweli is resting on their honors and it is not known whether or not they will accept a return game with the Mackmen.

To Call Grand Jury On September 6th

THE TRIAL JURY WILL MEET JUST TWO WEEKS LATER

The semi-annual criminal term of the circuit court will be held in September, the grand jury being called on September 6th, while the trial jury will be called on September 20th.

Several cases have been committed to the grand jury by the district courts, among them Shige Akahane, who is charged with embezzlement in connection with certain shortages in the Bank of Bishop at Waimea, James Ward who is charged with seduction and a number of Filipinos charged with felonies.

There is also a number of appeal cases from the district courts on the calendar, but these will not necessitate the use of the jury.

The months of July and August according to law are the rest periods of the circuit court, no court being held during these months, but this has not prevented Judge Achi from handing down decisions in two cases that have been pending in the local court.

The judge will now take a well earned vacation not having had one since he took over the local court and he intends to spend his vacation at Kokee and hopes to be primed for the heavy calendar ahead of him.

He came over to Kauai last Friday to look over the situation here and expressed himself as highly pleased and is looking forward with pleasure to his assignment here.

Accompanied by Frank S. Pugh, vocational superintendent for Kauai, Mr. Jackson saw the island from Elele to Haena and was enthusiastic in his praise of our climate and scenery. He returned to Honolulu Saturday evening.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW LIHUE SCHOOL

The first four units of the new Lihue school are now under construction and the second four units will be started within a short time. The work is progressing in a very satisfactory manner.

Each unit will contain three rooms which will give a total of 24 classrooms for the school. This is exclusive of the administration building which is now completed which contains the principal's office, a dispensary and other rooms and offices necessary in the administration building of a large school.

Henry Wise is the contractor on the eight new classroom units.

Tax Appeal Cases Are Compromised

NO DECISION IS REACHED IN THE KEKAHA APPEAL CASE

The tax appeal of Gay & Robinson in regard to Hanalei lands that was to come before the local board has been settled by compromise. The real estate which was originally assessed at $5000, while the return which was offered by the company was $1700. The compromise was set at $3400.

The cattle on the lands were returned at $700 by Gay & Robinson, while the tax board valued the cattle at $1100. The company appealed from this valuation, but the territorial officials held out for the original amount which was the amount that was finally agreed upon.

In regard to the Kekaha Sugar company's appeal, the company's brief must have been filed before the board yesterday. The territory will have until the 15th of August to file its briefs.

Reports from tax officials state that very little trouble in regard to delinquents has been had except in the Kawahau district. The main difficulty in the Kawahau district is due to the homestead situation which with the advancing price of sugar should clear up materially.

JACKSON R. MYERS DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Jackson Randolph Myers, former manager of Kilauea plantation, died at 12:30, Sunday, July 23, at his home in Berkeley, California, according to wireless news received in Honolulu by relatives last Tuesday morning. No particulars were given in the message but it was known that Mr. Myers had been in poor health for some time past.

Mr. Myers was well known in Hawaii as one of the most modern sugar men. He resigned as manager of Kilauea plantation about three years ago, going to California, where he established his new home.

Born in California, Mr. Myers was 53 years old and is survived by the widow, who before her marriage was Miss Clara Dekum.

KAPAA NOTES

The girls of the Kapaa Hi-Y club entertained the boys at the Hawaiian hall last Saturday evening with a dance and other amusements. About forty young people attended and all departed satisfied with an evening well spent. The boys are planning to give the girls a return party some time in the near future and have promised to do so out of the generosity of the girls.

Daijiro Doi, centerfielder of the Makee team, had the pleasure of receiving a visit from the stork last Thursday morning, Mrs. Doi being the recipient of a baby girl. No wonder he collected three hits at Makaweli.

A heavy White truck hauling a full load of lumber for the remodeling of the Kwong Chong Kee store hit one of the soft spots in the empty lot of the American Factors and buried its left hind wheel in the soft dirt. Heavy jacks and planks were brought into play and the truck was extricated after more than an hour of strenuous work.

A Chevrolet truck of the Keala store, evidently getting tired of traveling on the rough government road and preferring to run along the rails like a locomotive suddenly headed for the new tracks of the Ahukini Terminal & Railway company, opposite the Keala church. Nobu Fugitani, the driver, leaped just as the car turned for the tracks but the truck stopped on the brink of the new cut. A loose nut on the steering mechanism caused the trouble.

Oke manufacturers, bootleggers and others in a similar line of endeavor were conspicuous by their absence last week, not a single case being reported by Prohibition Officer Joseph Buttencourt.

Herman Wolters, manager of the Makee Sugar company, had the misfortune of having his car overturn on him at Waipouli last week. He escaped without injury, but the Overland roadster needs some minor repairs. A defective steering gear was evidently the cause of the accident.

Princess Organizes Hawaiian Women

MOVEMENT IS NOT POLITICAL, BUT TO AWAKEN THEM TO CIVIC DUTY

A delightful luau was given by the Kaunua chapter, Order of Kamehameha, at Waimea, last Saturday afternoon in honor of Princess Elizabeth Kahanu Kalaniano'le, whose husband, the late Prince Kalaniano'le, was the Alii Aimoku (king) of the order. There were gathered Hawaiians from all corners of the island to do honor to the Princess. Her kindness and winning ways quite captivated the hearts of her people. After dinner, Hon. A. G. Kaulukou, Kaukau Alii of the order, in a few well chosen words introduced her to those who were present so that she might express what she had in mind for the welfare of her people. Many a heart was drawn toward her on her perfect use of the Hawaiian of the long ago, and those who knew her husband remarked on the similarity of their use of Hawaiian words.

As is well known, the Princess is on a tour of organizing her people, especially the women folks into cohesive units, so that they may act as one in any important matter which may come up for consideration. She considers this a duty she owes her people. At Waimea she explained this subject nearest her heart to those who were there. Because of the insinuations made by those who thru malice would like to see her fail in this noble purpose, that she is working for John Wise especially, she took occasion to deny these insinuations; she made it perfectly clear that her one idea is to organize the Hawaiian women so that they may act as a unit in all matters. That at the primary, each one is free to choose her candidate, but when the candidate is once nominated, then it was the time for everyone to get in and work for the success of the candidate. She advised that in the selection of the candidate, at the primary the main thought should be to select one who is honest, fearless, well informed and who has good prestige.

After discussing the matter and all angles, in which the women were assisted by some of the brother voters, the Waimea women agreed to form a Republican club of Hawaiian women. Mrs. W. O. Crowell was chosen president, Mrs. Lucy Wright, vice president, Mrs. Frank Cox, secretary, Mrs. Koani assistant secretary, Mrs. George Huddy, treasurer; and an executive committee composed of the president, secretary, treasurer and Mrs. Kamalle, Mrs. Waipa and Mrs. Kaiwa. Those women who were present from the other districts were requested to go back to their districts and arrange for meetings of organization. As the Princess was to be at Hanalei on Sunday to a Sunday school rally at Waiooli church, it was decided that a meeting would be held at Hanalei on Monday morning and at Kilauea on Monday evening. Anahola will gather at 10 a. m. to receive the Princess; lunch will be served at the Kapaa hall about noon on Tuesday, and at 2 p. m. the Kapaa women will organize.

The Princess will be at Koloa on Thursday at 9 a. m. and at Lihue on Friday forenoon. She will probably leave for her home on Saturday unless her work makes it necessary to wait until the following week.

This is the Princess' first visit to Kauai and she has fallen a willing victim to the charms of our island. On the other hand, Kauai is glad to have her here. The Hawaiians especially are appreciative of what she is trying to do to perpetuate the good work inaugurated by her husband, our lamented Prince.

The Princess is the guest of Mrs. Emma Wilcox and is accompanied by Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Rowena Richardson Hose, Mrs. Jennie Clark, Mrs. Elizabeth Booth, Mrs. Mark Robinson, Mrs. Myra Iona and Mrs. Lam Yum.

George Betsul, manual training instructor at Elele school, who has been attending summer school at Honolulu, returned on the Kinau last Wednesday morning.
