AT IT AGAIN.

"We regret to see in the columns of the Gazette the following animadversions upon the Y. M. C. A., P. C. A. of Thursday; then follow the portions objected to and criticisms on them. We have a decided objection to the use of the words 'columns of the Gazette' as indicating the source of the matter criticized. It is quite true that the portions quoted appeared in the Gazette and therefore that, literally, the Advertiser has a right to use the words 'in the columns of the Gazette' to describe the place where they appeared. But without any further explanation the use of those words 'in the columns of' conveys a wrong impression to the reader as they are ordinarily used to indicate the editorial and reportorial matter contained in any given newspaper. The matter criticized in this case was portion of a letter addressed to the Editor of the Gazette and therefore by all rules of journalism he is not expected to be responsible for it. But by admitting this fact a great deal of the force of the Advertiser's comments would have been lost as their article was undoubtedly written so as to convey an impression that the Gazette, as a public journal, held these opinions which the P. C. A. criticized. The sharpness of the move will be apparent when we draw attention to the fact that for a few weeks past the Advertiser has taken every opportunity of vilifying and sneering at those prominently connected with the religious organizations of this city, and impugning their motives for that connection.

POLICE COURT.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.
Friday, May 4—F. Kelly, drunk, forfeited $6 bail. A. Nielson and C. Kingsly, drunk, fined $5 and $1 costs. C. Kingsly, assault and battery, remanded until moved on. Kauhane, remanded from 3rd, defendant withdraws plea of guilty, and is committed for trial to Supreme Court at next July term.

A WHIMPER is heard that the Tiger is also to have a libel suit against it on account of its recent utterances against a certain editor and pastor.

LOCAL & GENERAL ITEMS.

CONCERNING that Palace wall again, what was the divy between the two?

It appears that the s.s. Abergeldie did not touch at Valparaiso at all.

Removals of a change in the management of the Tiger are current.

"NINETEENTH Century Lessons from a Biography 3500 years old," will be Mr. Cruzan's subject Sunday morning, evening subject, "S.?"—a talk with business men.

Mr. Irvine, formerly freight-clerk and purser on the James Makee, is now freight-clerk of the C. R. Bishop, vice Mr. Du Pree, resigned, for the purpose of going to the Coast per City of Tokio.

We received an advertisement too late for insertion yesterday that the Kapiolani Park Association would take charge of the races on the 11th June. The adv. will appear in Monday's issue.

The Portuguese immigrants by the Abergeldie were put ashore at Kakaako yesterday afternoon. There were 264 men and 190 women. One death of an infant occurred on Thursday morning.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms were open last night for the first time. They will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day. All are cordially welcome. The Secretary, pro tem., will be in attendance.

A conundrum suggested by the following sentence from the P. C. A. of yesterday: "During the passage there has been 15 births and 9 deaths; the latter all children." If the latter were all children, what were all the former?

Soon after the Abergeldie anchored in the stream on Thursday afternoon she was surrounded by boats containing numbers of Portuguese. As they drew nigh the immigrants shouted and cheered them. This was kept up for some time.

The Social at the Bethel on Thursday evening was well attended. The programme rendered was unusually attractive, consisting of songs and recitations. Afterwards a very nice refectioa was served. It was about 10 o'clock when the party broke up, having spent the time well in social enjoyment.

We would again draw the attention of the Road Supervisor to the fact that a considerable portion of Queen street has been metalled and left without having sand or earth put on top and rolled. The complaints of drivers are loud and frequent as the road is worse now than it was before.

We are glad to make the correction that the oranges given to the German immigrants on the Makee on Tuesday night were donated by the generosity of Mr. W. H. Rice. Our thanks are due to our contemporary for pointing out the fact but we had already known of it, although not in time for publication.

COMPLAINTS are made by Hawaiians, especially women and children, of the conduct of a man on Maunakea street who owns a pet monkey. He ties a long string to it and allows it to go across the road, and when anyone passes it jumps at them. This may be fun, and there may be no actual damage done, but owing to their ignorance of the animal the women and children get frightened.

A COUPLE of facts in natural history from the personal observations of a friend are: One variety of squid comes on shore when the hala trees are in blossom, and climbs them, at least part of the way up.—Once, he found no less than ten robber-crabs climbing one cocoonut tree, whose trunk was perpendicular, and hanging one to another so as to form a living chain.

AGAIN this week we present our readers with a supplement. This one will be found more than usually valuable on account of the article on the approaching eclipse (translated from the report to the Bureau des Longitude by a French Government commission.) the description of the raising of the Austral, and the usual entertaining miscellany. Subscribers will do well to preserve their supplements, as it is our present intention to issue them for some weeks more, at least.

No meeting of the Teachers' association was held yesterday afternoon as only the officers were present. No meeting will be held now till the first Friday in October. We would remind teachers that to make their association of any use to them as a body, they must attend regularly and take some interest in it. What benefit can be derived from having an association that has to adjourn regularly for want of attendants is a puzzle to us, and we think teachers would do well to ponder over the matter and go into it more energetically next session.

Two fine pictures by Mr. Strong are now on exhibition at Lyman & Johnson's, Fort street. They will only remain on exhibition for a few days. The first represents a view of Honolulu seen from Mr. Glade's residence on Judd street. In the foreground is Judd Street, to left old Punchbowl looks smilingly down on the city, in the middle distance is the town and harbour with the Madras outside, and the ocean for a background. The other represents a beach scene with Hawaiians pushing off their canoes preparatory to going out fishing. Both pictures are characteristic of the island and are well worth seeing.

HERE are a few more facts about the s.s. Abergeldie: She is 1878 tons burthen, and was 57 days actually at sea and 5 days coaling at Coromandel. She had a passage of 24 days from the latter place, never having touched at Valparaiso. She only draws between 21 and 22 feet of water. None of the immigrants by her were inhabitants of town—they all came from the country districts. The Captain is very popular amongst the immigrants. On their arrival in port they cheered him and shook him heartily by the hand. Afterwards, unsoftened, they presented him with a numerous signed testimonial. One man who hadn't a chance to sign the general testimonial, wrote out one of his own, and, having signed it, gave it to the Captain. No complaints have been made about the food or accommodations, and Messrs Hoffmann & Co. deserve great credit for the way in which they have carried out the instructions given them by Col. G. W. Macfarlane during his stay in London.
