BRILLIANT in every respect was the reception on Tuesday morning at Washington Place, when the world and his wife betired themselves to rejoice with Queen Liliuokalani to congratulate her on her seventy-fifth birthday. Hundreds of people gathered there between the hours of 11 and 12, beautifully dressed, gay, each one happy to have this opportunity of showing his or her admiration and love for the fragile little queen who once ruled so graciously over these islands. One entered the grounds of Washington Place to the step of the Royal Hawaiian Land, which played old native tunes on the lawn. Within doors one heard the haunting rhythm of native melodies chanted by Hawaiian attendants. The air was filled with the fragrance of plumeria and flama, and one felt, as one walked among palms, lowly, of exotic flowers, and tall kahilis, sentinels of a former royalty—that one had stepped into the romantic world of the old monarchy.

The queen received with the Princess Kawannakoa. Her throne was draped with royal yellow robes and surrounded with the standards of the kingdom. The queen was dressed in gray chiffon and velvet lined with mauve, and trimmed with a collar of rare old lace. She wore beautiful diamond jewelry, an exquisite coronet of diamond stars capping her soft gray hair. About her shoulders was the cape of royal yellow feathers.

The beautiful Princess Kawannakoa was attired in white with black chantilly lace and the royal feather lei.

The guests were presented by Mr. E. K. Liliuokalani. Col. Iauka also assisted in the reception.

Queen Liliuokalani's reception. Queen Liliuokalani's luncheon. General and Mrs. Macomb's dinner. Craig-McCorriston nuptials. Mr. Warren's dinner. Lieut. and Mrs. Jackson's dinner. Casserole supper. Mr. and Mrs. Warren's dinner. An afternoon with the travelers. Luncheon for the Princess. Miss Gibson's Five Hundred Party.

leather address book, and Mr. Billy Noble, a Japanese tumbling doll as booty. Delicious refreshments were served at about ten. Among those present were Miss Mildred Chapin, Miss Gertrude Wiley, Miss Ruth Stacker, Miss Rachael Wood, Miss Marjory Armstrong, Miss Clemence Gifford, Miss Doris Noble, Mr. Luther Hough, Mr. Albert Bush, Mr. Leroy Bush, Mr. Billy Noble, Mr. Ralph Gray, Mr. Wright Henderson, Mr. John O'Dowda and Mr. Sam Carter.

Luncheon for the Princess. Mrs. Francis M. Gray was hostess on Wednesday at a most charming luncheon given in honor of the Princess Kawannakoa. The affair took place at the Gay residence at Wailele, and was so delightfully informal, that after luncheon most of the guests went for a plunge in the splendid Wailele pool. The table was adorned with lovely baskets of maiden hair fern and crisp sprays of pink begonia. Covers were laid for eighteen.

Lance for Ivan Graham. Mrs. W. Mottrose Graham entertained at a delightful dance last evening for her son, Midshipman Ivan Graham. Her home was beautifully decorated with Chinese lanterns, and garlands of pink paper roses. Dancing lasted until midnight, when a delicious supper was served. About a hundred of Midshipman Graham's old friends and school-mates were asked.

Surfing Party. The Misses Mary and Louise Worthen entertained at a jolly surfing party on Wednesday at Waikiki. After riding a dozen or more waves in canoes, the party took a plunge in the ocean, finishing with tea at the Outrigger. Those present were Capt. and Mrs. A. B. Owens, Miss Emily Eleanor Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Miss Carol Tripp, Mr. Camp, Mr. Ware Camp, and Mr. Hamilton Agee.

Yachting Party. One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the yachting picnic given by Mr. Warren Wood and several others on Sunday last. The party sailed to Pearl City and around the lochs, spending as large a part of the time in the water as on it. The picnic lasted all day, the picnickers returning lightly sun-baked but rejoicing in a delightful time. Among those present were Capt. and Mrs. A. B. Owens, Miss Emily Eleanor Owens, Mr. Warren Wood, Mrs. Wood, Lt. and Mrs. L. O. Mathews, Miss Betty Case, Miss Helen Alexander, Miss Katherine Winans, Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss Louise Worthen, Lt. W. Rose, Lt. N. Campanole, Lt. Carl Hardigg, Dr. L. Mudd, Lt. E. Kelly, Lt. W. Baxter, Lt. Jenkins and Mr. Caruthers.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jackson's Dinner. Miss Emma Cooley was the guest of honor at a delightful dinner given on Wednesday by Lieut. and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson at the Country Club. The table was decorated with maidenhair and fluffy tulle bows while graceful branches of purple bougainvillee adorned the pillars and trellises of dining room and lanai. After dinner the time was devoted to dancing, music being furnished by the popular electric piano. Among those present were Miss Emma Cooley, Mrs. Bodrero, Mr. and Mrs. George Potter, Major and Mrs. John T. Myers, Mrs. Richard Cuits, Lieut. George Halloran, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. James Wilder, Paymaster Izard and the host and hostess.

An Afternoon Tea With the Travelers. Mrs. F. E. Blake of Manoa valley was hostess at a delightfully interesting afternoon on Monday in honor of the returned travelers, Miss Anna Johnson and Miss Mary Winne. A dozen or more ladies bent over dainty bits of sewing while the guests of honor related amusing anecdotes of their wanderings in Europe. A delicious repast was served at about 5. Those invited to meet Miss Johnson and Miss Winne were Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Mrs. Heapy, Mrs. Fred Lyser, Mrs. W. Goetz, Mrs. Otto Bierbach, Mrs. Fred Waldron, Mrs. Jared Smith, Mrs. Percy Morse, Mrs. George Brown and Miss Mabel Armstrong.

Casserole Supper. Capt. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson of Fort Shafter celebrated their return from Haleiwa last Monday by entertaining informally at a casserole supper. Their guests were Capt. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Lieut. and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson, Miss Fisher, Miss Emma Cooley and Lieut. N. Campanole. After supper the party motored to the Country Club, where they spent the remainder of the evening dancing to the tunes of the electric piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall spent most of this week at their summer place at Waikole.

Picnic at Kaaiawai. Miss Alice Hastings was the guest of honor at a delightful picnic at Kaaiawai, given by Mrs. George Herbert. The morning was devoted to swimming and beach pastimes, followed by a delicious lunch. In the afternoon, music, sewing and lazier amusements were in order. Among those present were Misses Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter, Margaret Center, Pauline Schaefer, Ruth Soper, Helen Wilder, Thelma Murphy, Lady McFarlane, Wilhelmina Tenney, Elsie Wichman, Ruth Anderson, Alice Hastings, and Mr. Jack Galt. Mr. Carter Galt, Mr. Fred Schaefer, Mr. Carl Schaefer, Mr. Vernon Tenney, Mr. Alexander Anderson, Mr. Francis Brown, Mr. Allan Kenton, and Mr. Oswald Stevens.

Miss Gibson's Five Hundred Party. Miss Inez Gibson was hostess at a jolly little five hundred party on Tuesday at her home in Kaimuki. The prizes were awarded to Miss Rachael Wood—a box of dainty correspondence cards, Mr. Luther Hough, a

SOCIAL NOTES

Judge and Mrs. William B. Lymer were registered recently at the Bellevue Hotel in San Francisco.

Lieut. and Mrs. L. O. Mathews entertained informally at dinner on Wednesday at their home at Fort Shafter.

Mrs. William Heilbron of Honolulu is still at Castle Crags where she enjoys motoring over the splendid mountain roads.

After paying a short visit to Santa Cruz, Mrs. George Orway of Honolulu has continued her journey as far as Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. H. Watkins of Arizona is spending several weeks in Honolulu as the guest of her niece, Mrs. Charles Heiser, in Manoa valley.

Miss Eva Stevens has returned to Honolulu after two years' wandering in the corners of the Old World. Miss Stevens spent considerable time in Germany, where she devoted a large portion of her leisure to the further study of the piano and harmony.

Lieut. Homer Preston of Fort Shafter is a passenger on today's transport, having secured two months' leave of absence. Lieut. Preston will join Mrs. Preston in San Francisco, the latter having accompanied her daughter, Mrs. William Reed, to the States several months ago.

Mrs. Pope, wife of Lieut. Pope of the revenue cutter service, formerly stationed on the Thetis, has arrived in Seattle from Baltimore, and will spend the rest of the summer with her mother at Winslow.

Surgeon George Tucker Smith, U. S. N., who left Honolulu several weeks ago, for duty on the east coast, is registered at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mrs. Doris E. Paris, who has been the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewers, since the departure of her daughter Katherine, has returned to her home on Alexander street.

The younger set are deeply charmed to hear of the pending departure of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Conrad (Margaret Creighton). Since their marriage in June, the young couple have been ensconced in the Harry Gray place on Makiki street, and their friends sincerely hoped that they would settle permanently in the islands. But it was not to be, and the Wilhelmias next Wednesday will number them among its passengers bound for California.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Drey of Honolulu spent several days in Santa Cruz as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tyler, leaving later for Alta where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Nelson Tyler.

Mrs. Will Wayne was hostess at an informal luncheon at the Hotel Alana on Thursday.
