DINNER TO FERNAND FREAR

Admiral Hoch's training ship, the Soya and Asa, are being decorated today with flags, bunting and electric lights in honor of the Admiral's dinner to Governor Frear and Mayor Fern tonight.

The banquet will commence at 7:30 o'clock, but preceding this the marine band will play appropriate selections, both Oriental and Occidental. Beside the Governor and Mayor, a number of well-known local people have been invited to attend.

Tomorrow night the Admiral will give another banquet in honor of Consul General Uyeno and some prominent local Japanese.

On Thursday, probably in the morning, the two cruisers will take their departure for Hakodate. Hakodate is the northernmost seaport in Japan. It is situated on the island of Hokkaido. From there they will proceed to the Yokosuka naval dock.

WIFE'S DEATH DELAYS TRIAL

Riot Case Continued Until Tomorrow—Juror Bereaved

On account of the sudden death yesterday of Mrs. John H. Jones, wife of one of the jurors drawn in the Japanese riot case, the trial which was to have proceeded this morning has been continued until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. As to whether Mr. Jones can attend then will be a matter of consideration between now and then, but it is highly improbable that the trial will proceed before the latter part of the week. Owing to the conspiracy trial being set for July 1, both sides are anxious to dispose of the riot case as soon as possible.

PIONEER MILL IS ON ACTIVE LIST

Oahu Fails To Show Any Increase In Strength

Pioneer Mill stock, which for days past has hovered around 140-162, took a jump this morning and appeared on the Exchange board at 164 bid, 165 asked. Fifty shares changed hands at 164 1/2, a substantial advance in price. There has been no recent trading in Pioneer Mill but the last sales were at 161.

Oahu Plantation continues to slide downward, owing probably to unsettled labor conditions. Sixty shares were sold today at 29, and 120 at 29 1/2. The quotation today was 29 bid, 29 1/2 asked, against 29 1/2, 29 1/2 of yesterday.

All of the deals have been small ones, and indicate that only the small holders are showing any desire to let loose. Such blocks as are offered are quickly snapped up.

THE QUESTION WHAT IS MISO?

Customs Case Before United States District Court

The question at stake—is Miso "rice," "beans," or "rice and beans." It may sound strange, but it is an appeal from the Board of General Appraisers of New York, as to what should be the proper custom duty on the mysterious "Miso" when shipped into this Territory from a foreign port. Deputy District Attorney Rawden appeared in the United States Court this morning, representing the custom officers who imposed the duty, and Attorney Peters appeared for S. B. Fujiyama, who filed proceedings to have the amount reduced on the ground that it was illegal, too high. It now seems to be a question of what classification Miso can be put in, and what the legitimate customs would be. The case went over until July 1. The decision will settle a dispute of many years' standing and numerous shipments imported by Mr. Fujiyama.

A TEST CASE MAY BE MADE

Hotel Men Wrathful Over Action of License Board

While no definite statement could be secured from any of the attorneys who appeared before the License Board yesterday afternoon, the conclusion as the result of a conference last night between the hotel men and their lawyers, is that a test case will be made of the Sunday closing privilege. It is understood one of the hotels will continue selling as heretofore, invite the authorities to bring action against them and fight the matter to a finish in the courts. The hotel and restaurant men are indignant over the action of the Commissioners, and say it means not only a great loss of touring and transient business but the closing of one or more of the hotels.

One of the hotel owners who does not wish his name mentioned at present, said this morning: "The fact that a few may have abused these Sunday privileges is no reason for the Board taking such discriminate action. It will end up in the town being flooded with blind pigs, and work more harm than the Board will be able to unravel for a long time to come."

By the action of the Board of Revenue Commissioners yesterday, all Sunday privileges were taken away from the hotels and restaurants. Following their usual secretive custom the members handed out this last morning during an executive session. It is understood that this drastic step was taken on account of the manner in which the Sunday privileges have been abused in the past.

The Board granted the following licenses: J. P. Medeiros, wholesale; Lewis & Co., Ltd., wholesale; Ah Chow, Hoala, retail; Shigenatanaka, Waipahu, wholesale.

Licenses without Sunday and after-hour privileges were granted to the Moana Hotel, Waikiki Inn, Seaside Hotel, Haleiwa Hotel and Young hotel.

The present license of the Waipahu saloon was extended three months in order to give the Deas estate time to settle up its affairs. R. Tanaka, Honolulu, requested a rehearing of his case, but was turned down. Both the requests of the Union Grill and the Royal Annex for a rehearing were refused. E. L. Berndt, Harbor Saloon, requested to have his license transferred to Matthew Heffern, but was rejected. Permission was granted James Thompson to keep his saloon on Alaka street open until July 3, as his Bethel street place will not be ready for opening until that date.

Attorney Peters appeared in behalf of Alexander Young, owner of the Moana and Young hotels, and made a statement before the Board that the cancelling of Sunday privileges meant a great loss to these places, and would compel the closing of at least one of the two hotels. Judge Edings argued in behalf of the Union Grill, for the

COURT WILL WAIT; JACKSON MUST RACE

Marathon Aspirant Asks Court To Wait While He Runs

Time may pass, juries can wait, and the wheels of justice stop, but Nigel Jackson, the alleged high-geared sprinting champion of the Hawaiian islands, must participate in the Marathon race to be pulled off at Hilo July 4, or something will bust, break or go up in smoke.

Judge Whitney was on the bench, the jury was waiting to be sworn and County Attorney Cathcart was ready for action, aided by his deputies. But Attorney Clem Quinn saw a chance to crack in some eloquence on behalf of the wonderful sporting proclivities of Hawaii and he spread it on thick. He told what a great race of sports "we were" and what a dreadful thing it would be if the "aforementioned" Marathon race was not pulled off. And how could it without the principal, the originator, the "Champion of the Hawaiian Islands," who had spent only $100 in preparation? Certainly not. What mattered if Parker does stand charged with swiping Officer C. Apana over the head with a bottle, making him look like he had been through a saw-mill. And it was of little consequence whether the court waited to try Parker on the indictment brought against him, now or later. At least Parker and his counsel were impressed with the importance of the Marathon race, and the necessity of Jackson "getting his sea legs on," though what for, when a Marathon is generally pulled off on land—Mr. Quinn alone knows. Well the Judge considered, the jury was sworn and Mr. Cathcart challenged Parker's claim as Champion Marathon Racer, or anything else in the sporting line. But the County Attorney said he did not wish to interfere with "manly athletics" and so the trial was continued until July 6. Funny, wasn't it?

ST. LOUIS OFFICERS WILL DANCE AT MOANA

One of the most delightful hops of the year will be given at the Moana hotel tonight to which the officers of the U. S. S. St. Louis; local army and navy people and town folk are cordially invited by the management.

Tonight bids fair to be the most propitious for the occasion as the moonlight and surf at the Moana are delightful and specially fine native music will be furnished by the Royal Hawaiian Quintet Club.

Those who have never danced to Hawaiian Music have a treat in store for them and a good time is assured for everyone.

Granting of after-hour privileges. Peters also represented Al Thurlow, of the Royal Annex Cafe, against which rested the charge that bottled goods had been purchased and taken away from the place on Sunday. Thurlow strenuously denied the charges. Fenell said he had seen two men enter, and leave the place with bottles under their arms. Attorney Douthitt made an extended argument on behalf of J. B. Deas, executor of the estate of the late P. A. Deas, to keep the Waipahu saloon open for at least six months longer. M. P. Prosser represented S. Osaki, against whose place charges have been made as to the conduct of the saloon. Douthitt also spoke in behalf of Ah Chow.

$25 AND COSTS FOR HAROLD CASTLE

Magistrate Will Put A Stop To Auto Scorching

In the Police Court this morning Harold Castle, who was arrested for careless and furious driving of an automobile, pleaded guilty to the charge, and was fined $25 and costs by Judge Long.

Former Judge Ballou appeared for the defendant. He said that Castle was driving his machine on a rainy night, and the pavement was so slippery that it was impossible for him to slow down at the point where the accident happened.

Prosecutor Brown asked that, under the circumstances, that some penalty be imposed on Castle, as had been handed out to other offenders. This was ordered accordingly by Judge Long.

The case against Blackwell, autoist of ex-Governor Carter, on the same charge, appeared before the court, but as his attorney, Frank Thompson, is absent on the island of Hawaii, his case was postponed until July 6.

Manuel Dutro charged with assaulting his wife, who was married only four months ago was given a stiff lecture by Judge Long. The newly-married couple after they have stood before the bar of justice, decided to smooth down the troubled waters, and to start a new and happy life. After he was convinced of the good intention of the couple, Judge Long suspended the sentence of Dutro for thirteen months.

APPRECIATES HONOR WILL DO HIS BEST

Lloyd Conkling Regrets Leaving His Old Position

"While I feel highly honored by the appointment as Treasurer," said Lloyd Conkling upon his return from Hawaii, this morning, "I feel more regret in leaving my present position than pleasure in taking the new one. Here I have become thoroughly acquainted with all details, and know just how to handle matters. The other is all new work. However, I will do my best."

Summoned back from his trip by Governor Frear to take the Treasury position, Mr. Conkling found himself an extremely busy personage this morning. A mass of correspondence lay before him on his desk, the telephone kept up a merry jingle, and people besieged him from all sides. Congratulations were many and the only thing that spoiled it all was the thought of leaving the old stand. Nevertheless it is the opinion of Mr. Conkling's friends that he will bring to his new appointment the same painstaking methods and energy that has made him such a success as chief clerk in the Executive department. After a has qualified on his bond of $25,000 this afternoon, Mr. Conkling will take hold of the reins of the department, and break into the harness. General surprise that pleasure is expressed on all sides over the appointment of Mr. Conkling.

In regard to the naming of a man to succeed him, Governor Frear said this morning: "Several persons have made applications, but the matter has not been decided as we are in no particular hurry and Mr. Mott-Smith really makes this appointment. The chief clerk, however, has been acting as clerk of this office also."

Henry C. Hapal, Registrar of Public Accounts, said this morning: "I am very much pleased to hear of Mr. Conkling's appointment and believe he will make a good treasurer. I have served under seven Treasurers, and believe we will get along all right, if he wishes me to remain."

Mr. Hazel has proved himself a valuable public official in the position he has had for over ten years, and he has the confidence and esteem of the entire administration as to his ability, integrity and the systematic manner in which he conducts the affairs of his office. He will probably remain as Registrar under Mr. Conkling, and there will be no change in the office force.
