THEIR STAY IN MANILA
AND TRIP TO CANTON

Games They Played and What Was to Australia—A Trip to Old Canton

BY H. L. BAGGERLEY

(Special Correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin with the All-American Club)

After a tour of 15,000 miles Reach's All-American Baseball Club arrived today on the Mongolia. There is a short series scheduled with the local club, after which the tourists will renew their journey. The All-Americans will return home on the Tenyo Maru, which is due at San Francisco on Feb. 16, and while the Oriental trip has been delightful in every respect, the players will shed no tears when they catch a glimpse of the glorious Golden Gate. We sailed from Manila on Jan. 5th and six weeks will pass before completing our journey home. Is it surprising that the players are anxiously looking ahead to their homeward return?

If ever a baseball club had a surfeit of travel this one has. Only one club—the famous Spaldings, who toured the world in the eighties—have seen as much of this mundane sphere. I can say without fear of contradiction that the trip has been an unqualified success and Promoters Fisher and Woods are entitled to all the glory. From a financial point of view it has been successful. Money has been made—not a mint of money, but enough to remunerate the enterprising promoters for their labor and loss of time. The expenses have been heavy. Hotels in the Orient know how to charge. While their service may not be up to date, they have the faculty of making your bills quite as large as you anticipated. When a baseball manager is carrying twelve hungry athletes he can rest assured that his bills will be sufficiently steep. But the large attendance has enabled the management to meet their obligations and leave a neat balance on the right side of the ledger. In view of the fact that Manager Fisher is already turning his eyes toward Australia for next winter, should indicate that the present trip has not been a failure. While money makes the mare go, money—sordid money—is not the only element to be considered. The All-Americans have done some noble missionary work. They have made scores of converts to our national game. It would be a great thing if a team could tour the Orient annually. Interest in baseball would intensify with every visit. Japan has caught the spirit, and will welcome with open arms any and all ambassadors of our national game. Upon our reception at the hands of the baseball fans of Manila I dwell in previous letters. Our farewell is another story. We "finished the season" by playing twelve games, losing two and winning ten. There were two benefit games for the players and ten for the management. In addition to these the players were tendered a benefit by the only theater at Manila just before the club sailed away. In this way the players picked up enough pocket-money to purchase little presents in China and Japan for their sisters and sweethearts at home. A word about that other game, the second and only one lost. It was the New Year's engagement. Pat Flaherty had the bad luck to lose the second as well as the first. Two games were billed for New Year's, and our players were in poor condition to play. Attending sinks at the clubs and "hole hold-ups" the previous night deprived them of sleep. The morning game, which was with a Philippine club, took out what little ginger the All-Americans had in stock. This was the only game with a native team and it was a benefit. Though there were popular prices at the gate and a Filipino club on the field, the followers of Aguinaldo gave little support financially. New Year's being a holiday, the natives divided their time between the cockpits and racetracks, where there was gambling. If there

Bill Also Has Some

Editor Evening Bulletin: After conferring with our friends here at the Capitol, I have asked the Senate Committee on Commerce to hold my coastwise suspension bill without further action for the present. Meantime we are doing all we can to assist the movement to secure passage of the mail subsidy bill now pending.

In view of the divided sentiment in Honolulu on the question of special shipping privileges, I hesitate to press my bill for passage even if the subsidy measure should fail. While I would be hard for this legislation at the session when expressions of public sentiment at Honolulu were practically unanimous in its favor, I regard it as a very different question to ask for special legislation when a considerable portion of the expressions of public opinion are now opposed to the step.

As matters now stand, I am disposed to let the bill lie in committee unless the community shall evidence a fairly united desire to have further efforts made to secure its passage.

Reclamation Bill
I have introduced a bill for extending the reclamation service to Hawaii, and am now arranging for a hearing on the same.

I shall endeavor to have Director Newell appear before the committee to show from his standpoint the importance of having Hawaii share in the benefits of the Reclamation Act. Of course the obstacle is that in Hawaii the proceeds of the public lands go to the Territory instead of to the Federal Government, but we shall endeavor to overcome this objection, if possible.

River and Harbor Bill
At this writing the prospect for a general river and harbor bill at this session has become much poorer. Senator Fry, who is chairman of the Senate committee handling these bills, has this week announced his opposition to passing a bill at this time, and he is using his influence

MANDAMUS PROCEEDINGS
NOW BEING PREPARED

Treasurer Pays All Warrants Issued
Except Those in Cases Where

Auditor Bicknell today issued City and County salary warrants. Treasurer Trent refused to pay the warrants of men whose right to hold their positions is in dispute.

The City Attorney is preparing mandamus proceedings against the Treasurer. The long awaited issue between the Democrats and the Republicans in the City and County fight has finally been brought up squarely, and the contest which will let the courts decide the burning questions which have arisen between the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors, is now started.

The Auditor this morning, on the advice of the City Attorney, issued warrants for all the City employees for their services until January 15, he having not the time to prepare the warrants for the entire month, except in the case of the fire department employees, who got warrants for the full month's services. A large crowd of employees swarmed into the Auditor's office and got their warrants.

Many of the possessors of warrants issued by the Auditor were doomed to meet with disappointment when they went to Treasurer Trent to have them cashed, Trent refusing to cash warrants held by men whose appointments were in dispute.

On answer to a request that he state his position in the matter of the refusing of the payment of these warrants, Treasurer Trent made the following statement:

"It is with very deep regret that I feel forced to refuse to pay some of the warrants drawn on the city and county treasury in favor of persons who have rendered service to the city and county; and I especially regret to have to hold up warrants drawn on behalf of the large number of road men who have faithfully worked during the month just closing. I am aware of the fact that these men are in immediate need of the money for which they have worked, and no one is more anxious than I to see them get it at the earliest possible moment.

"And in refusing payment I want it distinctly understood that I am not attempting to pass judgment on the legality or illegality of the acts of the Mayor or the Board of Supervisors. I do not pretend to know which side is right or which side is wrong on the matters now in dispute between them. But I do know that there is a section in the new Municipal Act (and which was not in the old County Act) which

GOVERNOR'S AT-HOME

Winthrop Is Angry

Editor Evening Bulletin: I also called at the Treasury Department in an endeavor to have action taken in regard to plans for the Honolulu Federal building.

Assistant Secretary Winthrop was evidently piqued at the blocking of the site exchange which had favored, and he said no decision had been reached as to whether or not the department would call for competitive plans, and no immediate action was contemplated.

I shall take this matter up direct with Secretaries Cortelyou and Garfield, and endeavor to secure action without regard to Mr. Winthrop.

Very truly,
J. KALANIANA'OLE,
Delegate to Congress.

A Man's Taste

IN DRESS MEANS A GREAT DEAL. It isn't the PRICE of the fabric that counts, so much as the quality of tailoring and the "color scheme" of the pattern.

You may depend on it that BENJAMIN CLOTHES are all that could be desired in both these respects. That is what made the house of Benjamin & Co. New York's most popular clothing store—that and the high quality of materials used in all their clothes.
