DEPOSITARY BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Effect Will Be To Keep Territorial Funds In Circulation Instead of Locked Up In Vaults—Lunacy Commission Measure With Vicious Feature Also Carried Through Third Reading—Income Exemption Vetoed.

HOUSE

33d Day—Morning Session

The bill to enact the much-needed law permitting the Territorial Treasurer to deposit Territorial funds in the banks of Hawaii instead of keeping the money locked up in the vaults and thus out of circulation, passed the House this morning. There was no opposition whatever to the measure, it being generally recognized that some such law as this is badly needed.

The House was in a peaceful mood this morning. It was almost lethargic, in fact; probably as a result of reaction from the strain consequent upon having constantly before it the prospect of a hard fight over the liquor legislation, which was killed yesterday afternoon.

The nonsensical Lunacy Commission bill, which perpetuates the present weird system of allowing appeals to juries of laymen in insanity cases, also passed its final reading, where its sponsors secretly hope that the ridiculous provision will be amended out of it. Those who had sense enough to see what a farce it is to allow an appeal to a lay jury from the decision of a Commission of experts were afraid to try to cut this out in the House for fear that the really good features of the bill would also be knocked out.

This afternoon the members of the House, under the leadership of General Alfonso, chairman of the Military Committee, is on a visit to the Diamond Head fortifications, on the invitation of Major Winslow. Kapiolani Park is also to be visited before the party returns.

The measure to authorize the deposit of Territorial moneys in banks in this Territory, House Bill 91, was the first bill on the order of the day. On motion of Rice, seconded by Alfonso, the bill passed third reading by unanimous vote.

Another Deposit Bill
 In accordance with its report of yesterday on the bill to authorize the deposit of Territorial moneys in banks, in which was made the recommendation that Section 8 of the bill be stricken out on the ground that it made the bill cover two subjects, the Finance Committee this morning introduced a substitute bill to cover the provisions of that section. The new bill provides that every public accountant other than the Treasurer, receiving and disbursing money belonging to the Territory, may deposit to his official credit and keep all moneys received by him in such banks as may be designated by the Treasurer with the approval of the Governor until such moneys are remitted to the Treasurer as required by law, and such public accountants shall not be responsible for such moneys while so deposited.

An Insane Bill

The insane insanity bill, House Bill 164, introduced by the Health and Police Committee as a substitute for the original sane Lunacy Commission bill introduced by Shingle, was taken up on third reading. This substitute bill continues in force the ridiculous system of allowing appeals to juries in insanity cases, the provision of the present law which recently permitted the laughable farce in the Circuit Court.

Kaniho wanted to make an amendment to make the bill worse than before. He wanted to provide that only persons "known to be insane" instead of those "believed to be insane" shall be arrested and examined as to their sanity.

Douthitt pointed out that such an amendment as that proposed by Kaniho would make the bill ridiculous.

Kaniho was afraid that some of the things he says (without meaning them, of course,) might be "believed" by somebody, and cause his arrest as an insane person. So he insisted on his amendment. The amendment, however, was tabled.

A small amendment was offered by Shingle and adopted, after which the

WILL NOT REDUCE MARINE GARRISON

Executive Order Does Not Affect This Post

"In view of the importance of the Naval Station here, I do not believe that the local marine garrison will be restored to sea duty again."—Major Long.

Major Long, commander of the marines here, stated this morning that the order issued by President Taft, restoring the marines to sea duty, will, he believes, not effect the marines here. The issuance of the Presidential order, he said, means that new men would have to be enlisted to serve for sea duty.

Some of the marines here, officers and men, have served on sea duty, but the order, he thought, would not bind them to return to sea again. It may possibly be necessary to take away a few men from here, but it will not make any material difference.

Major Long said that Honolulu is too important a station to be guarded by a small garrison of marines. Had not the order been issued yesterday, more men would have been sent here. Upon the completion of the Pearl Harbor station, the local marine garrison will be increased to about 1500 men.

He said that at all the large Naval Stations in the United States, such as New York and Boston, a large number of marines is kept constantly on duty.

DETECTIVE CHIEF DENIES ALLEGATION

Says Birmingham Case Was Investigated Diligently

The Police Department is much worked up about the Birmingham burglary case. Sheriff Jarrett is ill, and could not be seen. Deputy Sheriff Ross, however, stated that officers were sent out within half an hour of the robbery being reported. These men, eight in number, stayed out all night, and watched the whole district.

The Chief of Detectives, on being interviewed this morning, said: "As soon as the burglary was reported, I put all my available men on the case and also went out myself. We, nine of us in all, patrolled the whole of the district, and remained out all night. No signs of suspicious characters were seen. I suspected that the thief would try to dispose of the stolen articles at some of the second-hand dealers, and accordingly detailed some officers to watch these stores. No trace of the stolen goods could

LAW PUBLISHING BILL IS DEFERRED

Senate Kills It But Brings It To Life Again

SENATE

33d Day—Morning Session
 House Bill No. 53, giving the Secretary of the Territory power to have the laws, passed by the Legislature, published in newspapers other than those of Honolulu, caused considerable discussion and no little amusement in the Senate this morning when it came up for third reading.

Once it was killed, but before its remains had been interred in the Senatorial bonerary, it was resurrected and action deferred until Thursday. Senator Knudsen moved that the bill pass third reading. Moore amended the motion to one to table. Quinn seconded the amendment. A rising vote showed six in favor of tabling and nine opposed to it. Then there was a little desultory discussion.

President Smith called attention to the fact that, worded as the bill is, there would be nothing to hinder the Secretary from having the laws published on the mainland. Finally, during a period of quiet, the vote was taken, and resulted as follows:

Ayes — Baker, Brown, Chillingworth, Fairchild, Kalama, Knudsen, Noes — Costello, Harvey, McCarthy, Moore, Makekahu, Quinn, Robinson, Woods, the President.

Just as the President started to announce that the bill was dead, "Defer" Makekahu, who had carried on an excited whispered consultation with his neighbors, moved that action be reconsidered. There was a little discussion, but a vote showed nine in favor of reconsidering and only six opposed to it.

Makekahu then moved to "defer" action until Thursday next. His motion

CANDIDATES FOR JUDGESHIPS

Lindsay In Lists And F. M. Hatch Is Mentioned

When it was learned yesterday morning that the Bar Association at its afternoon meeting might endorse a candidate for the Second United States Judgeship, a boom was started for Circuit Judge Alex. Lindsay.

Lindsay is a new man in the field. Whether he will stay is not known. The matter of endorsing candidates was quashed at the meeting as it was apparently feared that the Association could not agree on personality though it might unite on principle. This action throws the recommendation for the Judgeship completely in the hands of the Governor so far as any local recommendations are concerned.

It is reported that there is strenuous opposition to the naming of Judge De Bolt for the Supreme Bench, for which position he was recommended by the Bar Association. This opposition is said to come from the Chief Justice, presumably because De Bolt's opinions have indicated that he does not fall in with the general trend of thought that controls the present Justices. A candidate who would meet general approval for the Supreme Bench is F. M. Hatch, now in Washington, if he would allow his name to be used.
