HAWAII NEEDS $150,000 FOR EXPOSITION

McCLELLAN WOULDN'T BE GOVERNOR

POLITICS DELAYS FISHER

BY C. S. ALBERT.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—The investigation of Governor Peary's administration will not be undertaken until after the two nominating conventions have completed their labors. The unexpected and terrible onslaught made by the forces of Colonel Roosevelt on those of Mr. Taft have rendered it necessary that Secretary Fisher should here and contribute his aid toward the extrication of his chief from a serious dilemma.
Secretary Fisher informed the Bulletin correspondent that he has definitely decided to postpone his trip until after the conventions adjourn. He said his specific instruction from the President to visit Hawaii and investigate Governor Peary's administration has not been recalled or modified. It has been considered advisable for him to defer the inquiry until political affairs reach a breathing spell.
This announcement by Secretary Fisher corresponds exactly with the attitude of Delegate Kalmann, who will be a delegate to the Chicago gathering. He will not be in a position to leave for Honolulu until after that body concludes its work. The program for the Secretary and the Delegate to make the journey together still holds good.

HAWAII SITE O.K. FAIR WILL BE BEST

Chairman Of Exposition Commission Urges Big Display

Honolulu ought to have $150,000 at least for the building and exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. This is the estimate made this morning by H. P. Wood, chairman of the Hawaii Fair Commission and secretary of the Promotion Committee. Mr. Wood has returned on the Wilhelmina from a brief trip to San Francisco, declaring that Hawaii has been given a magnificent site for the building, that great things are expected of the Territory and cooperation is ready, and that the exposition affords Hawaii a remarkable chance to attract tourists worth literally millions of dollars to this port and the islands in general.
"The Hawaii site is not only satisfactory; it is everything we could have hoped for," said Mr. Wood today. "It is on Ocean Boulevard, without a thing but the boulevard between the site and the bay. On the beach in front we can put surfboards and outrigger canoes. The beach is fine, too. The site is 300 feet fronting on the boulevard and ranges from 200 feet in depth downward. What is more, the site is at the intersection of two of the principal boulevards, and thus our building will have a center of attraction all to itself. It will be in a commanding position where everybody can see it. We certainly owe much to the wisdom and energy of the special site committee in San Francisco who represented us. Mr. W. G. H. King, Mr. George Rolph, Mr. Wallace Alexander, Capt. Marston and E. M. Walsh.

CAMERON DAM OUTLAW MUST SERVE LIFE TERM

MADISON, Wis., May 14.—John Dietz, the "outlaw of Cameron dam," must serve his life sentence for the killing of Oscar Harp, special deputy sheriff, on October 8, 1910. The State Supreme Court today refused to reverse the conviction secured in the lower court. Dietz was sentenced to serve the life sentence after a desperate legal fight in which he himself conducted a large part of the defense.

"WANTON ATTACK," SAYS McCLELLAN

GEORGE McK. McCLELLAN

Secretary Answers Newspaper Slur Involving Him In Governorship Situation---Wouldn't "Take It On Silver Platter"

George McK. McClellan, secretary of the Hawaiian Commercial and Shippers Association, today answered a slur in the Hawaiian Star of April 17, the following words were printed in the official paper. As for the secretary's reply to his answer to an attack in the Star in connection with the governorship situation, "It would be idle to ask the editor of the Star to make adequate correction of his wilful misrepresentation," observes Mr. McClellan. He says that no effort whatever was made to get the facts in the case by the paper, and even by the Star's own Washington correspondent.
"Such an attack," says Mr. McClellan, "deserves the contempt which all fair-minded men have for a man of the black-and-white type."

GOODALE, HOME, SEES NO GREAT TARIFF DANGER

MANAGER W. W. Goodale of Wailua plantation returned from Washington this morning convinced that Hawaii need not worry about any radical revision of the sugar tariff now.
"Of course, I've been out of the world, you might say, for a week, and I do not know what has been happening in Washington during that time," he said to the Bulletin today in a short conversation over the telephone.
"When I left Washington, it seemed pretty well understood that no radical revision would be effected. Of course the tariff standard will have to come out, but this doesn't hurt us. You've seen the Smoot and the Brewster bills. These show the trend of things in the Senate."
Manager Goodale confirmed the Bulletin's reports that the Secretary of War recommends the leasing of the excess water rights of the Federal military reservation to the highest bidder. "However, the matter is now at a standstill and is still before the committee," said Mr. Goodale, "and no one can say anything."
The Wailua Water Company and the Wailua plantation are both deeply affected by the proposed Federal water rights on the reservation.

3 YACHTS OUT

Bad news in regard to the trans-Pacific yacht race reached here this morning. Three of the certain starters have been withdrawn, and the race will be at best between four boats, instead of the recent field of ten to a dozen hoped for. James E. Jaeger, president of the Hawaiian Yacht and Boat Club, brings the latest yachting news from the Coast.
"Just before I left San Francisco I heard that the Larline, the Marianne and the Sealark had been scratched," said Mr. Jaeger. "This makes a bad hole in the entry list, the withdrawal of the Larline especially being a disappointment. I understand that the man who owns her now is having some sort of matrimonial troubles in the courts, and that his wife claims the schooner as her property, and has had her up to the deck with the local red tape. There is considerable interest on the Coast over the race, and they are all looking for the arrival of the Hawaii."
"This leaves as possible entries besides the local yacht, the yacht Olympia of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, the schooner Anan, owned by James V. Coleman of San Francisco, and the boat Yankee Girl, the entry of Commodore Mitchell of the Sunset Yacht Club of San Diego. It takes three entries to make a race, so there is hardly a chance that the event will fall through entirely."

GOVERNOR OFF; MOTT-SMITH IS NOW CHIEF BOSS

Governor Peary's final official act, before leaving his office today to board the steamship China and sail for the mainland, was to instruct Secretary E. A. Mott-Smith in the duties and responsibilities of Territorial executive, the position he will hold as a territorial governor during Peary's absence.
"For several reasons I am rather sorry to have him go," said Governor Peary, "but for others I am glad to take the trip. There are a large number of matters that must be taken care of, and while I know Mr. Mott-Smith can handle them capably, I would prefer to take care of them personally, if that were at all possible."
"At the same time, it will be a relief to have someone I feel I have been needing. It will enable me to meet my wife and to accompany her on the long trip home, and mean one of the most important features of it, however, is that I will have my first opportunity to meet Secretary of the Interior Fisher personally. He came into office after my last visit to the States, and although I have been in communication with him for

ONE SENATOR HAS UPSET KAU DITCH MEASURE

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—The McCrosson ditch bill has not yet been released from the snare it struck in the Senate. No conclusion has been reached as to the proper course to be taken with the bill, which should be passed. The lateness of the congressional session renders the situation a little gloomy for this important measure. Senator Poindexter, who held on the bill, just as it was being put on that passage in the Senate, does not disclose to what extent his opposition will be carried.
Mr. McCrosson is indifferent to the resolution controlling stock and bond issues. It was his impression until the Senate committee fixed a limitation that the volume of business would govern the sale of bonds and stock. The committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico could not be convinced that this was a better plan than to fix an amount that neither issue must exceed $1,000,000.

NO CHANCE FOR LATEST PROHIBITION MEASURE

(By C. S. ALBERT.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—It is regarded as absolutely certain that no progress will be made in passing the Gronum bill. A majority of the Senators serving on the Pacific Islands and Porto Rico Committee have pledged themselves to not recommend any liquor legislation during this Congress. This action was based on the "gentlemen's agreement" that a vote of the electorate in Hawaii should determine the problem. The "twets" and it is considered unfair to legislate for the territory that followed between the wet and dry.
