Sunday On Amusements

It is charged the women are like a ewel, and that they are in the habit of donning the assumed air of a puritan

to maintain their own reputation or to prevent others from placing any doubt on their respectability.

A smart and well-dressed young man got in the car. Tired and annoyed, his voice was not exactly gentle.

"What's the matter?" I asked in surprise.

"What is the matter?"

"I'm only a little annoyed myself. I'm

a little uneasy about this kind of stuff.

"What is the matter?"

"I'm only a little annoyed myself. I'm not used to things like this.

"What is the matter?"

"I'm only a little annoyed myself. I'm not used to things like this.
