JOIN IN LEARNING THE ARTS OF WAR

REGULARS AND GUARDIANS ARE IN CAMP AT MT. GRETKA, PENNSYLVANIA

First Military Instruction Camp Estated

August 15, 1803

General Grant in Command.

Camp Dent, Mt. Gretna, Penn., Aug. 15, 1803

Mr. President:

The question of the week is, whether it is about to rain or not. If it is to rain, it will come in the form of a thunderstorm, and the water will be carried off by the wind. If it is not to rain, the water will be carried off by the sun, and the crops will suffer. The selection of a camp site for the training of the army is a matter of great importance. The camp must be located in a place where the climate is favorable, and where the climate is favorable, the crops will thrive.

The government of the United States, in the interests of its citizens, is doing everything in its power to prevent the spread of disease. In order to do this, it is necessary to have a large number of public schools, where the young men and women can be taught the arts of war. The government has also established a number of hospitals, where the sick can be taken care of.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Secretary of War.

CAMP ROOSEVELT, MT. GRETKA, PENNSYLVANIA.

August 15, 1803.

Mr. President:

The selection of a camp site for the training of the army is a matter of great importance. The camp must be located in a place where the climate is favorable, and where the climate is favorable, the crops will thrive.

The government of the United States, in the interests of its citizens, is doing everything in its power to prevent the spread of disease. In order to do this, it is necessary to have a large number of public schools, where the young men and women can be taught the arts of war. The government has also established a number of hospitals, where the sick can be taken care of.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Secretary of War.