GERMAN SHELLS FALL IN PARIS

Paris, March 22—The Germans have been firing on Paris with long range guns, and the announcement has been confirmed this afternoon. Measures for counter attacking the enemy's cannon are under execution.

Since 8 o'clock this morning, shells of 400 millibarrels, peeling the walls and suburbs, bombarding the capital and sub-districts at intervals of a hour, killing about ten persons and wounding. The shortest distance from Paris to the front is over 100 kilometers (62 miles). Some of the shells have been smashed by the French ironclads, and others that have been dropped on Compiegne and other places in lower countries.

Several machines advanced further to the south but were forced to turn back by the fire of the settlers. The alarm was given in Paris and a half hour later the "all clear" signal was sounded. Apparently the Germans had intended to raid Paris but the French airmen were out in force over the capital.
