Idaho Weather and Crop Conditions

Boise, Idaho, May 21.—While the past week was not quite so cold as the one preceding, it was still too cold for crops, except wheat, to make normal progress. Light to moderate rains fell in the northern counties but the amounts in many localities were too small to do much good. Reports indicate that rain is much needed in practically all districts. Fair weather with abundant bright sunshine predominated during the week and conditions for outdoor work were all that could be desired. Farm work is mostly well in hand. Drying winds prevailed during much of the week, robbing the soil of much needed moisture.

The cool weather was not especially detrimental to wheat which in most localities is doing well. However, in Jerome, Power, and Cassia counties the crop is much in need of rain, and in Bonneville county some fields were damaged by drifting soil. In the northern counties the crop was much benefited by the rains of the 11th and 15th.

While the cold, dry weather was not favorable for the rapid growth of alfalfa and pasture grasses, meadows and pastures are generally reported in good condition and a few warm days will bring into quick growth again, especially if warm rains occur. In the northern counties the range was improved by rains; in Cassia county the high range is good but the low range needs rain badly and forage is short. However, in most grazing districts range feed continues ample and livestock are still thriving. Range lambing continued with conditions not particularly unfavorable for although there were cold winds there was little inclement weather. A fine lamb crop is reported in Clark county.

Fruit trees came into bloom in some of the higher and later districts during the week and there was some frost damage but the great commercial fruit districts suffered no further injury. Garden and truck crops made little or no growth, except that canner peas in Boundary county are growing nicely. Sugar beets are in good condition in the Twin Falls district, but in the Idaho Falls and Pocatello districts the soil has been too cold and dry to start the seed, and in the former district seed beets are at a standstill.

GREENLEAF BOY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

The 9-year-old son of T. H. Griffiths of Greenleaf narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when a horse hitched to a two-wheeled cart in which he was riding, became frightened and ran away. An older boy who was in the cart was thrown out almost immediately. The horse ran up Kimball avenue to Albany where it turned to the right and ran up Albany for two blocks and again turned onto 10th street. Upon reaching the alley between Albany and Belmont it swerved again to the right and ran up the alley to the courthouse where it collided with a tree throwing out the little boy and finally coming to a halt on the courthouse lawn. The child's screams attracted quite a crowd who followed the flight until they were met by Mrs. B. M. Holt who had pursued the runaway in her car and had picked up the boy and was bringing him back to town.

It seemed almost inevitable that the child would be badly hurt and the onlookers were greatly relieved to find him absolutely uninjured except for a slight scratch above the knee.

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN MAY RUN HOOSIER RACE

While Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, is running the campaign—his party's presidential campaign—he himself may be elected governor of Indiana. Senator Harry S. New of Indiana says Hoosier state Republicans are back of a Hays boom and that the national chairman is so popular that he may win without a campaign.

They also discovered that lines had been extended to sparsely settled communities and maintained at a loss to give them a service that folks in the cities had to pay for to a large extent, at least meeting the deficiency up to a certain point.

That also caused a change of sentiment farming communities relative

PICKING THE PRESIDENT

If precedent in any way rules the political affairs of the nation then the United States will have a "war" president following the election of 1920, say students of the game. Already both big parties are looking over the lists of men available on such a platform. In the Democratic ranks, Secretary of War Newton Baker is mentioned as a logical candidate to give a good race to any opponent put forward, while the great personal friendship which existed between the late Colonel Roosevelt and Major General Leonard S. Wood, makes the latter a candidate who might be acceptable to both wings of the Republican party and at the same time furnish all the military timbre needed to win.

ALL CLASSES SHOULD COME TOGETHER

Conditions Could Be Improved by Great State Co-vention—All Are Dependent Upon Each Other

Boise, Ida., May 22.—If it were possible for a state convention to be held in Idaho, composed of delegates representing farmers, laborers, banks, corporations, mercantile institutions, professional life and that body went seriously to work to solve the industrial problems of Idaho the situation would merely reflect a frame of mind that is finding individual expression in increasing volume.

"We've got to get together,"

Mr. Tarr said that this suit was bought at the Hedrick sale, which by the way brought the highest prices on any livestock sale ever held in the United States, the stock bringing on an average of over $2000 per head.

Mr. Tarr said Monday: "A person must have supreme confidence in the future of this country to buy this kind of stock. I have that confidence. I believe my judgment will be vindicated in time."

The Fonda Limes of Fonda, Iowa, has a short article in its issue of May 20th concerning one of the Shorthorn sales which Mr. Tarr attended. The Limes says in part:

"The sale of Shorthorn cattle held here Tuesday was largely attended by breeders from all over Iowa and surrounding states. Thirty-two head of fine Shorthorn stock was put up and averaged over $800 per head. The top price of the sale was paid by Miss Mae Mercer of Caldwell, Idaho, who in connection with her brother-in-law, T. W. Tarr, is operating a large cattle ranch near there. The field man of the Kennedy sale said that with the purchase of the Tarr and Mercer made at the Shorthorn sale, and of Baldwin's at Hedrick, Herkeman's at Elwood with those bought a year ago at Atlantic, they now have the finest herd of cattle ever sent into the state of Idaho."

Such a tribute to Kennedy's field man is worth something, as he is an authority. Mr. Tarr is very proud of his herd. He is a progressive.

to the cities, and it has also resulted in the farming population having a better understanding of the serious problems confronting legitimate corporations, the success of which in Idaho spells success for everybody.

All over the state this feeling of mutuality of interest is manifest, and is becoming so pronounced as to attract favorable attention on the part of the home-seekers and investors, both of whom are sorely needed in Idaho at this time.

Ice Cream Social

There will be an ice cream social at the Huston school house Friday evening, May 23, to raise money for the French orphan adopted by the school. Come, play croquet and other games, see Uncle Sam and watch the May Pole winding. Ice cream served at six and later.

Bryan Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Harding, is home from overseas, having been with the American Expeditionary Forces. Young Harding was right up to the front and saw some of the hardest fighting of the war. For several months now he has been in Germany with the army of occupation. Bryan says he is glad to be home again and most assuredly his friends and relatives are glad that he is at home.

In the probate court this week L. R. Rice, who gives his age as 21 years, was bound over to the district court on a charge of forgery.

CALDWELL FARMER BUYS FINE IOWA CATTLE

Thos. W. Tarr Brings in Some of Best Ever Brought to This State

Thos. W. Tarr, the well known Fargo farmer and stockman, returned a short time ago from Iowa where he purchased some of the finest cattle ever sold in that state. Saturday a carload of this cattle arrived in Caldwell. Some idea of the class of stuff Mr. Tarr bought may be gained from the fact that the average price per head for the entire car was $1100. One cow and calf cost Mr. Tarr $2900, a 16-month old heifer cost $2100.

Mr. Tarr said that this suit was bought at the Hedrick sale, which by the way brought the highest prices on any livestock sale ever held in the United States, the stock bringing on an average of over $2000 per head.

Mr. Tarr said Monday: "A person must have supreme confidence in the future of this country to buy this kind of stock. I have that confidence. I believe my judgment will be vindicated in time."

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED FOR PAST WEEK

The majority of the building permits for this week were taken by J. Frank Bales, contractor, who has one permit for a $1500 residence on Linden street; three $3,000 houses at 1318, 1320 and 1324 Everett street respectively; two $2,500 houses at 809 and 803 N. Kimball avenue, and five $1,500 houses on Aven street in the Calloway addition. All Mr. Bales' buildings will be modern and are all built for sale.

W. H. Redway will build a $1,500 house at 1001 Chicago street, and E. M. Kendon has taken a permit for a house to cost $3,000 at 1507 Cleveland boulevard.

Also permits were issued for a $1,500 addition to a residence at 910 Chicago street and a garage at 1109 Blaine to cost $170, owned by Mrs. M. E. McKinley.

The permits for the past two weeks aggregate in the neighborhood of $30,000.

People are beginning to wake up to the seriousness of housing conditions in Caldwell and realize the necessity of meeting the demands of the home-seekers who are pouring into the city daily.

Jobs For Disabled Yanks

Washington, D. C., May 21.—An executive order recently issued by the president and received by cable amends the federal civil-service rules so as to permit the U. S. Civil Service commission to waive the physical requirements under certain conditions in favor of men who were injured in the military or naval service.

The civil service regulations specify certain physical defects which debar from all examinations and other defects which will debar from certain examinations. These regulations are based upon the requirements of the service as established by the several department heads.

Upon the recommendation of the commission, after consultation with the federal board for vocational education and the U. S. Employees' Compensation commission, the president issued an executive order, as follows:

"Provided, that the commission may, in its discretion, exempt from the physical requirements established for any position a disabled and honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine upon the certification of the federal board for vocational education that he has been specially trained for and has passed a practical test demonstrating his physical ability to perform the duties of the class of positions in which employment is sought."

In submitting its recommendation to the president the Civil Service commission said: "Where it is apparent to this commission that his (the disabled soldier's, sailor's, or marine's) physical condition is such that he would not ordinarily be accepted, the case will be referred to the federal board for vocational education. That board will then decide whether it is practicable, to educate him for the position sought. If considered practicable, the rehabilitation and education will be given, and when completed certification of that fact will be made to this commission. Where the board does not consider it desirable to attempt the education for the position sought some other positions will be considered and suggested to him, but he will not be admitted to the one for which his physical condition constitutes an irremediable bar."

A decree of divorce was denied in the district court Friday to Mrs. Mae Neil. Judge Bryan held that the grounds were insufficient. The plaintiff alleged that the husband, Charles Neil, was subject to epileptic fits at the time the marriage was contracted and that his condition was unknown to her.

W. P. Lyon, cashier of the First National bank, left Sunday afternoon for Salt Lake City, where he was called on business.

S. DAK. SENATOR GUNS FOR BOLSHEVIKS

Senator Thomas Sterling of South Dakota is gunning for bolshevism. He will father a bill in the next congress asking that unloyal aliens be deported without trial if caught participating in revolutionary riots to prohibit the red flag, and censorship of literature which preaches disloyalty.

City Water Superintendent Betty has been having trouble with the reclamation service. The new canal along the brow of Canyon Hill crosses the water mains and the workmen have been rather careless in their work there. Once or twice the water had to be shut off on account of carelessness on the part of contractors. Mr. Betty is keeping a close watch on the work; has impressed the contractors with the necessity of carefulness; and is in hopes that there will be no more trouble.

W. H. Redway who returned from Chicago last week has started in with characteristic energy and enterprise to doing things. He has already started to renovate and improve the residence in which he will live; let the contract for another cottage and is making plans for a number of cottages. Mr. Redway sees the needs of Caldwell and will do his part toward supplying those needs.

Do You Enjoy Life?

A man in good physical condition is almost certain to enjoy life, while the bilious and dyspeptic are despondent, do not enjoy their meals and feel miserable a good share of the time. This ill feeling is nearly always unnecessary. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets to tone up the stomach, improve the digestion and regulate the bowels is all that is needed. Try it.

City Water Superintendent Betty has been having trouble with the reclamation service. The new canal along the brow of Canyon Hill crosses the water mains and the workmen have been rather careless in their work there.
