mand can not be depended upon to continue so strong for the length of time it did for your last season's crop. Yet the demand will be good until midwinter, after that—well you guess. Then blame Alfred if you miss it; but don't forget what I told you last year and am telling you now. It is better to buy good cattle and sheep, and feed your hay on the farm, than it is to ship it out at $20.00 on board the cars.

OUR WORK

Must our soldiers win the war alone And all the rest go free? No, we'll buy our bonds, thrift stamps, and save The things our soldiers need.

We'll help the French and Belgians too, Whose homes are all consumed. We will have a part in all the work The Red Cross have to do.

O, Glorious Day, when our boys come home, We'll shout from every door; Kaiser Bill in chains; his rule put down, And peace on earth once more.

An appropriation of $5,000 has been made for the institution of the plant. As the dairy will be operated by convalescent soldiers the cost of maintenance will be comparatively small.

KICK HIM ONCE!

Oh, the kaiser hears the knell that will kick him into hell for the Yankee lads are rampsin', rampsin' on his trail; he knows they've got him going and no mercy will be showing till they've gouged him in the liver or have landed him in jail. It's a joy to see them chase him for we know they'll surely place him in a corner where they'll get him—where they'll get him sure as sin; with their bayonets they'll nick him, with enthusiasm lick him, for its written in the record that the Yanks are bound to win. But it takes a lot of bullets and it takes a lot of grit to squirt hell into the Hienles till the Hienles want to quit and the Yanks are needing money for the Yanks throw in the Hienles till the Hienles all are dead—oh, the Yanks are needing shot for you've got to shoot a Hienle before the brute'll rot, and the moral of this story I am dishing out to you is DIG UP THAT DINERO AND SEE THE YANKEES THROUGH! While the Yanks are fighting, dying, why in hell ain't you a buying War Stamps every day to back up the boys in France? You can hear the kaiser holler every time you spend a dollar for a War Stamp for a War Stamp helps a soldier kick the kaiser in the bosom of the pants.

SOME FACTS ABOUT GUNS AND MUNITIONS

United States Making Record in the Production of War Material

The following are some facts about guns and munitions told by the secretary of war:

We are constructing a big gun plant at Neville Island. We signed a contract with the United States Steel corporation to build and operate without profit this plant for guns of the larger calibers. This is the biggest plant of this kind ever conceived and will build guns of not less than 14 inch. The site is just below Pittsburg and covers about 1,000 acres. The housing will be on the hills south of the island. The amount of money involved is $150,000,000 which is being supplied by the United States government. This plant will handle a tremendous amount of material, and will be retained by the government after the war.

The production of rifles has been about 200,000 per month.

We produce more than 50,000 pistols and revolvers per month.

COST OF EQUIPPING AND MAINTAINING A SOLDIER

Statistics gathered under direction of Brig. Gen. R. E. Wood, acting quartermaster general of the army, show that the cost of equipping and maintaining a soldier overseas is $423.47 a year. To equip and maintain a soldier in the United States costs $327.78 a year.

Substance, figured at 69 cents a day, amounts to $251.85 per man overseas; figured at 52 cents a day in the United States, it amounts to $189.80 per man. The cost of the initial equipment for the soldier the last year in the United States is $115.30. The cost of the initial equipment of the soldier overseas for the first year is $42.41. This cost of $42.41 is for articles which are issued for overseas use only and which are in addition to the regular equipment. Thus it appears that if the soldier going overseas did not take with him a great deal of his equipment already supplied him in the United States, the contrast between the cost of equipping and maintaining a soldier in this country and abroad would be much more marked.

To assist in the campaign which the United States department of labor is conducting to train workers for service in war industries the Chicago board of education has donated a vacant school building and voted $10,000 for preliminary expense in equipping it. Leading manufacturers of the city are installing training machines and experts in production from their factories will outline the policies subject to the control of the board of education under the general supervision of the training and dilution service of the department of labor.

FARM MARKETS DEPARTMENT
Bulletin No. 30
Potatoes

By order of the Federal and State Food Administration, the grading of potatoes will now be made compulsory on the part of licensed dealers seeking markets outside the state. This grading must be done in keeping with the rules prescribed by the Department of Agriculture, and promulgated by the State Director of Farm Markets October 10, 1917.

The acreage planted to potatoes in Idaho this year is much less than last year. The yield per acre is a little below normal. The quality is unusually good.

The prospect for future potato prices are very good, providing cars can be had at proper time for shipping. Those having suitable storage and well matured potatoes free from disease and frost, run little or no risk in holding for advanced prices. Transportation and weather conditions being favorable, prices should go below $1.20 for U. S. No. 1; $1.35 for U. S. No. 2; and $1.50 for Idaho Fancy.

Onions

I would advise growers not to hold for late winter or early spring market, but to sell early as possible when reasonable prices are offered.

Hay

Reports are being circulated to the effect that an embargo has been declared by Oregon against the shipment of Idaho alfalfa hay through that state consigned to California, Washington and Northern Idaho. This is not correct and cannot be done.

Western and Northwestern demand is good and offering for Idaho alfalfa f. o. b. Southern Idaho common points $5.00 to $6.00 above that quoted in the Farm Markets Department Bulletin No. 29 for the various grades in the stack. But growers are very slow to bale and ship, being reluctant to assume the risks incidental to shipping, weighing and grading at terminals.

We now have orders for hundreds of cars waiting to be filled, but many are being recalled and placed with growers and dealers in other states, because we cannot get them confirmed.

Local stockmen are deferring their purchases. Grass and pasture are exceptionally good and feeders will not buy until they can better determine amounts they will require and with hope that present prices will be forced down. They certainly will be unless growers avail themselves of outside markets, because there is in Southern Idaho, a surplus of alfalfa above that required for local feeding.

Farmers, if you intend to sell, you had better begin rolling your hay while cars can be had and the demand is good. If you will not assume the risks you must either sell to some one who will, or hold some of your hay.

I told you in July the prices you could get, and have found market for you at those prices. If you do not care to avail yourselves of it, the Farm Markets Department can be of little service to you in this particular.

Last year, I early gave the same information and obtained ample market, but the farmers held off until the car shortage and congested traffic prevented and delayed shipments, causing heavy losses. I warned you of the car shortage, told you of the surplus hay that must seek outside market, but—

Our shipping facilities will be some better this year, but the outside de-

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right, on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.
