SUBSCRIPTION, $2.00 PER YEAR.

Entered as second-class matter March 9, 1911, at the post office at Jerome, Idaho, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Mr. Clifford, the furniture man, is a business visitor in Gooding this week.

Miss Charlotte Winter was called to Gooding Tuesday on account of sickness.

See our line of beds, springs and mattresses. We will save you money. Frasers-Pence Co.

Avoid chilly rooms in the morning by using Cole's Hot Blast Heaters. They are fuel savers.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johns, who reside in the Grand View district.

H. L. Bartley, who conducted the Majestic range demonstration at the L. C. Thompson hardware store, left for Burley Sunday.

A complete line of Monarch Ranges and Charter Oak and Perfection heaters just received. Call and see this line. L'Herisson Furniture Co.

Dr. E. H. Field left Tuesday to enter the service of Uncle Sam, having recently received a commission as captain.

F. A. Bailey and family will leave for Molton, Wash., Monday, where Mr. Bailey has taken employment in the shipbuilding yards.

Mrs. Blanche Carr has moved her Beauty Culture Parlors to the Woman's Exchange, where she will be pleased to see her friends and patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart have gone to San Diego. Mr. Stuart is stationed at that place and Mrs. Stuart will remain with her husband for three months.

Miss Marie Worthington returned from Boise Saturday. She has been attending college at that place and came home until the "flu" epidemic subsides.

G. M. Robinson has purchased the James Erickson ranch northeast of Jerome. The deal was consummated through the administration of the Erickson estate.

Don't buy until you have seen our complete line of Monarch Ranges; also Charter Oak and Perfection heaters. L'Herisson Furniture Co.

Mr. C. E. Strong, of Arlington, Wash., was a business visitor in Jerome, looking after his business interests here. Mr. Strong was a former resident of Jerome.

The Otto Brown place, lying two and one-half miles southwest of Jerome, has been purchased by Cheyenne, Wyo., parties, who will take possession in the near future.

Among the recent commissions of Idaho men in the military service was noted the name of Dr. E. H. Fields, of Jerome, who has been appointed a captain in the service.

All kinds of harness repairing done in a workman like manner by James Summers, the pioneer harness man.

Miss Jessica Carson, cousin of Mrs. J. Nelson Shepherd, who has been visiting at the Shepherd home for the past few weeks, returned to her home in Portland, Ore., the latter part of last week.

During the past few days a number of parties have left Jerome to hunt big game in the hills. A number have returned with trophies of the hunt while a few have returned contented with just the "game."

Mrs. J. G. Lawrence came home from Twin Falls Sunday where she had been confined in a hospital convalescing after a recent operation. Mrs. Lawrence is doing nicely, her many friends will be pleased to learn.

C. J. Schaffer, manager of the Richfield hotel, passed away yesterday with pneumonia. Mr. Schaffer was well known to a number of Jeromites who had occasion to stop at the Richfield hotel while in that place.

H. A. Hass, living five and one-half miles north of Jerome, will hold an auction sale at his place Wednesday, Nov. 6. He has put some nice stock, household goods, etc., on the block. See his big ad elsewhere in this issue.

Don't buy until you have seen our complete line of Monarch Ranges; also Charter Oak and Perfection heaters. L'Herisson Furniture Co.

Miss Fay Gentzler, who has been managing the local branch of the Western Union, will leave Sunday for Montpelier, Mont., where she will make an extended visit with her sister. J. Lawrence will handle the key during her absence.

The building formerly occupied by the Pastime pool hall is being rapidly remodeled and redecorated for occupancy by the F. L. Thomas merchandise store. The Pastime is now located in the building formerly occupied by the Progressive market.

Mr. Roy J. Black, Republican aspirant for the office of Attorney General, was making calls on his constituents and shaking hands with his many friends in Jerome. Mr. Black is a gentleman that is worthy of your support at the polls on election day.

Buy your window glass at the North Side Pharmacy. We handle a complete stock.

Captain W. T. Stafford, who is running for District Judge, Fourth Judicial District, was making campaign calls in Jerome last Tuesday. The captain has a great number of friends in this vicinity who will all doubtless give him their undivided support at the election November 5.

Registration for the coming election which is to be held Tuesday, will close Saturday. If you wish to vote at the election, you must register if you did not do so for the primary election. Those who registered for the primary do not have to register again for the general election.

Last week George Hogshire received a copy of an eight-page paper containing almost in its entirety half tone photos of members of the 20th Engineers. The copy was presumably sent him by Sergeant Harry S. Wright, a former resident of Jerome. Sergeant Wright's photo appeared in the edition.

On account of help shortage in the post office, it was deemed necessary to change the mail routes and delivery from 2 p. m. to 9 a. m. While this change is inconvenient to many, it had to be made on account of lack of help and everybody is asked to co-operate with the postal authorities as much as possible.

A complete line of Monarch Ranges and Charter Oak and Perfection heaters just received. Call and see this line. L'Herisson Furniture Co.

The Spanish Influenza epidemic seems to be gaining headway in Jerome and at the present writing there are several cases reported and several that act like grippe but may turn out to be the "flu." With proper precautions and co-operation upon the part of the public with the health officials it is believed that the disease can be successfully combated and that it will subside in a few days.

RED CROSS NOTES

MARINES—The War Department regulations for Christmas parcels for soldiers overseas will be observed in the case of every marine whose address is "American Expeditionary Forces." This address indicates that the marine is serving overseas in an army capacity, and temporarily detached from the navy.

For all other marines, whether in training or serving actively in this country, at naval posts and stations duty, navy regulations will govern.

Instructions for sending Xmas boxes to our boys overseas: Each soldier overseas will be provided with one Xmas Parcel Label. This label will be forwarded by him to the person in the United States from whom he wishes to receive his Xmas package. Parcels that do not bear this label will not be accepted by the Red Cross for delivery to the post office authorities. Labels that are lost will not be duplicated. Cartons to hold these packages may be obtained from county headquarters. No message or writing will be allowed to go into these packages. When they are packed but unwrapped, they must not weigh more than 2 pounds, 15 ounces. When packed, the box unsealed and unwrapped and ready for inspection, should be taken to the nearest collection station designated by the Red Cross. No package will be accepted by the Red Cross for shipment after Nov. 20.

Articles barred by post office regulations:

All spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquors.

All kinds of poisons and articles containing poisons.

Explosives of all kinds.

Inflammable materials, including friction matches.

Infernal machines and mechanical, chemical or other devices of composition which may ignite or explode.

Liquids, fragile articles.

All other articles which may kill or in anywise harm or injure another or damage or in otherwise deface or injure the mails.

All information regarding the sending of Xmas packages may be obtained at county headquarters.

Directions for sending Xmas packages to the navy were printed in a prior issue of this paper.

At the post office—For the convenience of the public the Red Cross will establish headquarters at the post office after the Xmas parcel labels have been received, for the purpose of receiving, inspecting and wrapping all overseas Xmas packages. The final mailing date for these packages has been extended to Nov. 20th.

Our Juniors are at work making story books for the use of soldiers in hospitals abroad.

We hope the Juniors will aid as much as possible in collecting the tin and the fruit pits and nut shells. The need for these war materials is urgent.

The Juniors now have a badge of office which should be worn by all Junior members while on any Red Cross duty. It consists of an official headress, patterns for which are to be found in the new Junior Manual—A. R. C. 607.

Idaho now has 184 registrants for Student Nurses with their papers all sent to Washington. Some have received their appointments, others are anxiously waiting.

Do not forget the position of hospital assistant offered by the army school of nursing. Eligibles must be married women between the ages of 21 and 40, whose husbands are overseas, or single women between the ages of 35 and 45, graduates of high schools or its acceptable equivalent. They will be assigned to convalescent hospitals in this country where training school units are not established. For further information, inquire of the Surgeon General's Office, Washington, D. C.

We again request help in meeting our local problem regarding nurses. A special notice is printed elsewhere in this paper.

AN EXCELLENT OFFICIAL

Harlan D. Heist is entitled to be re-elected by an overwhelming majority. He has been with us from the beginning of our project. He was practicing law long before many of us came to Lincoln County. He has financial interests on the North Side project that are by no means small, and he has always stood with us in our political fights, when our project was struggling for its very existence, and this he did regardless of political parties. Mr. Heist is a young man of unquestionable integrity, a tireless worker, and one in whom any trust however large, can safely be imposed. He is a lawyer and devotes himself religiously to the practice of his profession and has been very successful. He has appeared in more than 154 cases during the past 20 months as a part of his duties as prosecuting attorney. He has served as prosecuting attorney for nearly six years and it has been nearly five years since the people of this county have been called upon to meet the expenses of a trial of a criminal case in the District Court that resulted in an acquittal. This is sufficient proof that each case has been well considered, prepared and tried upon its merits, and our courts have not been permitted to be used to satisfy the personal grudges or feelings of any persons. Mr. Heist is also government appeal agent, and has served since the conscription law went into effect. He will be re-elected by a handsome majority.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE

F. L. Tillotson, Democratic candidate for the office of Judge of the Probate Court, has been a resident of Lincoln County for seven years, is owner of a farm five miles northeast of Jerome, which he himself reclaimed from sagebrush to its present state of cultivation, also putting up his own buildings. Born in Minnesota, a student but not a graduate of the university of Minnesota, the main part of his life was spent in that state as a printer and sometime publisher, with some slight experience in clerical law work. Mr. Tillotson will bring to the office of Probate Judge, if elected, experience that will help in administering its duties also a deep sense of responsibility in performing the duties of this important office and a conscientious desire to serve the people to the best of his ability. With a full realization of the scope of the work, he asks support of the voters of Lincoln county.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE

Shoshone, Ida., Oct. 31, 1918. To the Voters of Lincoln County:

As you are perhaps aware, I am a candidate for Probate Judge of this, Lincoln county, at the election to be held November 5th. Owing to the prevalence of influenza and the danger of spreading that disease, I have refrained from making a campaign of any kind and owing to the further fact that the duties of my office as Probate Judge of this county require all my time have been unable to meet my friends throughout the county.

As to my ability to discharge the duties of the office of Probate Judge I refer to any lawyer in Lincoln and adjoining counties with whom most of the business of that office is transacted.

I have been a resident of this state since the year 1874, served in the civil war three years in the First New York Dragoons. Have served nine years as Probate Judge of this county.

I have three sons now in France as American soldiers in the terrific war now raging in Europe.

I most respectfully solicit the support of yourself and friends.

Yours very truly,
J. L. FULLER.

BUY A BOND.

Composed by Rev. S. S. Cryor. Would you like to hold a mortgage on Uncle Sam's domains? Would you like a safe investment? That will surely bring you gains? Would you like to run the government? And help to hold the reins? Then buy a bond.

Would you like to own some paper whose value will not cease, but as the flying years go by will steadily increase. Till it goes far beyond mere par in coming days of peace? Then buy a bond.

Would you like to keep your self respect in years that are to be? Would you like to have a vital part in making this world free? Would you like to help our laddies who are fighting o'er the sea? Then buy some bonds.

Would you like to leave your family an inheritance they will prize? Would you like to be a hero in your children's children's eyes? Then heed your country's calling and you surely will be wise. To invest your all in bonds.

We are living in the birth throes of a coming golden age; We can get into this drama, Play a part upon the stage; And write our names and influence on history's fair page. By buying bonds.

For God, our God, is giving us A chance to do the right, By freely lending what we have With a sure return in sight; For God himself needs money To help us win this fight— So buy some bonds.

We Are Anxious to Help

WOMEN AND THE WAR

By MRS. HENRY P. DAVISON
Treasurer War Work Council
National Board Y. W. C. A.

In an Illinois prairie town lives a widow who launders seventeen baskets of wash a week and every night thanks God for having put pity into the hearts of women.

Mrs. Davison had been hoarding her dimes and quarters against this day. The money was scarcely enough. Nevertheless she started. She walked the first eighteen miles. Then her strength gave out, and she took a train.

She did not know that visitors to Camp Funston stay in Junction City, eleven miles away. So she got off the train at Fort Riley. An officer set her right and she reached Junction City after dark. Somehow she found a rooming-house. Some one there stole five dollars from her—five of the precious dollars she had earned over the wash tub and saved by walking. Terror-stricken, she crept out of the house when no one was looking.

Later in the night a soldier found her trembling in the street, and took her to the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association, rooms which the War Work Council had opened as a clearing-house for troubles. The poor frightened woman was put to bed, but she was too miserable to sleep. The matron got up at daybreak, built a fire, and comforted her. The son's commanding officer was reached by telephone early in the morning, and the boy came to his mother on the first trolley-car he could catch.

The two spent long, low-voiced hours together, perhaps the last hours they will have this side of heaven. Every moment was as precious as a month had been last year. The old lady had still one present worry. The boy's bad cold might turn into pneumonia if she left him. But she had not money enough to stay another night and buy a ticket home. When the matron told her that her bed was free, she broke down and cried and cried.

"I did not know there was so much pity left in the world," she sobbed. She stayed till her boy's cold was better. Then she went back to her seventeen washings and her memories.

Because of the certainty of just such cases as this was Governmental sanction given to the activities of the War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A. From the Pacific to the Atlantic its field extends. Every state in the Union has its members. Urgent appeals for help are its cause and its inspiration. Women of every race and creed are its wards. The task of the War Work Council is tremendous.

When the United States entered the great war the Young Women's Christian Association was, as always, working among women. With the call to new duties its members did not abandon their old responsibilities. The War Work Council was formed as an emergency measure to take care of the women who were caught in some of the mazes of war, just as the parent organization has taken care of them through many years of peace. The varied activities decided upon by the War Work Council follow closely the needs of the different communities of the country. Secretaries trained in the methods of the organization were sent out broadcast. They were instructed to report to the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association in New York the lines of work which could be best followed in the various localities. These secretaries work in close cooperation with ministers, women's clubs, chambers of commerce, churches, military officials, and charitable societies. The record of a day's doings of a secretary reads like a novel, an economic treatise, and a psychological essay all compressed into a line-a-day entry.

A secretary sent out by the War Work Council must be equal to any emergency. Miss Lillian Hull at Chillicothe, close by Camp Sherman, hurrying along the street at nightfall came upon a forlorn couple. A Finnish soldier had found a job for his wife, so that she might come on from Cleveland. When she arrived she was refused the place because she spoke no English. Their money had been all spent on the railroad fare, and the soldier was due back at Camp. The situation was bad.

Thanks to Miss Hull a Chillicothe housewife now has an industrious and grateful domestic, a soldier is happy, and a soldier's wife is safe.

Army folks often benefit even more directly from the secretaries' work. In Bremerton, Washington, a secretary was accosted on the street by a sailor. She was a slender woman, and he had mistaken her for a girl.

"May I walk along with you?" he asked.

"Surely," she replied with mature understanding and intuition. "What is the matter? Are you homesick?"

The lad's story came out with a rush. Yes, he was homesick, so hopelessly, despairingly heartick that he was on the verge of deserting. But this woman gave him genuine sympathy and encouragement. She saved him to his country.

From north, south, east and west these pioneer secretaries sent in their reports. The appalling size of the undertaking was revealed to the War Work Council. Systematization of the work was the first step. Out of the multitudinous phases certain lines of work were revealed.
