STOOD UP FOR HIS RIGHTS

Drafted Man Fully Realized He Was Enjoying His Last Moments of Independence.

A drafted man from a dry state reached San Francisco at night, and was to go to Angel Island the following morning. That night he took a careful census of the city's wet places, and got down to the Angel Island boat in the morning, about one minute before the boat was due to leave.

"Get aboard here, and be quick about it," commanded the lieutenant in charge.

Instead, the recruit smiled, lighted a cigarette as best he could, and then sat down on the dock.

"When I step on that boat," he said, "I'll be a soldier and have to take orders from you. Right now I'm a plain citizen. This is my last chance to tell anything in English. Now, you blankety-blankety-blank sonofagun, if you want me on that boat, put me on it."

The lieutenant had his men put him aboard, but the recruit's first taste of army discipline has not been recorded.—San Francisco Chronicle.

All He Had in His Hand.

Bill Sikes had been charged with stealing a watch and had been found not guilty. Just as the verdict had been given a charge of assault was heard against the complainant.

"He beat me all about the head with a brick, an' near killed me, yer honor!" declared the victim.

"Why didn't you defend yourself?" asked the magistrate, rather bored with the proceedings. "Had you nothing in your hand?"

"Well, yer honor, I had his watch, but what was the use of that against a brick?"

IDAHO TAKES ACTION AGAINST ANARCHY

MEASURE ADOPTED BY HOUSE WOULD PUT STATE ON AN EMERGENCY BASIS.

Measure Designed to Prevent an Outbreak of Anarchy Among the Mine and Timber Workers of the Northern Part of State.

Boise.—The members of the Idaho legislature are determined to place every safeguard around the Idaho citizen against an outbreak of anarchy in this state.

For the purpose of putting the state on an emergency basis, a bill providing acceptance of terms of the national guard act was passed under suspension of rules by the Idaho house of representatives on February 8, and sent to the senate with the hope of getting speedy action in the upper house.

While no outbreak has occurred, possibilities of I. W. W. agitation in the mines of the northern part of the state and among the timber workers, resulting in an outbreak of anarchy is responsible for quick action on the bill.

At the same time there was introduced a memorial to congress urging that pending legislation before that body calling for the deportation of aliens who waived their citizenship during the period of the war so that they would not have to fight for the country of their adoption be deported. It was held, in the first instance, that the state is now without protection, having no regiment or national guard, and, in the second, that a man who would not fight for the country of his adoption ought to be deported to the country he came from.

Following a heated debate, the house amended and recommended for passage the measure that provides women engaged in industrial and occupations of various kinds in this state shall not be worked longer than eight hours per day, nor for more than six days per week in any one week.

The measure was amended, removing the provision which exempted women engaged in the orchards, and the prior portion of the bill was amended to include women engaged in canneries. As it reads now, it applies to all mechanical and mercantile establishments, canning factories, laundries, hotels and restaurants.

The Carbon county division bill, creating a new county out of Bannock, amended to carry an enabling act, was passed by the senate. The amendment were approved by the house and sent to the governor for approval. The amendment permits residents to vote whether or not they want to be included in Carbon county. Should they vote against the inclusion they will belong to Bannock. If they vote for it they are included in the new county. This bill, therefore, creates the forty-fourth county in the state.

Governor Davis attached his signature to the Jerome county division bill on February 8, which act brought into being the forty-third county of the state. Jerome is made the county seat. The new county includes territory taken from Minidoka, Lincoln and Gooding counties.

Besides passing the defense act bill, the house also passed house joint memorial No. 6, by Patterson, asking that the Thunder mountain section in Idaho county be included in a forest reserve.

Among the important bills introduced in the house were the following: Bill No. 150, by Brownell, creating a small claims department of justice courts; Nos. 151 and 152, by the committee on revenue and taxation, appropriating $200,000 and $900,000, respectively, for the construction and maintenance of state highways; No. 153, by Stranger, appropriating $20,000 for the university extension department.

Legislative Notes

A new method of taxation for power interests is provided for in a bill introduced in the house. Under its provisions they would be assessed according to the amount of power they develop, or, if they are held for power purposes but not developed, according to the amount of power it is estimated they might produce.

Although passed unanimously in the house, a bill by Representative Tyer of Ada authorizing county commissioners to add a trained nurse to the county officer list was made the subject of lengthy general debate before it was approved by the senate.

Emergency employment by authority of county commissioners for the benefit of persons out of work who have been residents of the state not less than six consecutive months is provided in a bill introduced in the senate by F. H. Judd, Clearwater.

Under suspension of rules, the house unanimously passed house bill No. 109, by Givens and Featherstone, creating a powerful soldier settlement board to acquire lands and develop and irrigate them for settlement by Idaho soldiers and sailors. An appropriation of $100,000 is provided in the bill.

Reconsideration of a vote accepting a committee report that house bill No. 53, by Gough and Bonnell, an enabling act for county division questions, be not printed, resulted in the measure's being brought to life in the house of representatives.

LAWMAKERS PLAN TO FINISH CAPITOL

BILL CALLS FOR APPROPRIATION OF $900,000 FOR BUILDING PURPOSES.

Blue Sky Law Cause of Debate in the House, While County Division Measures Take Up Much Time.

Boise.—Idaho proposes to complete its handsome new capitol. The plan to do so was launched on February 7 in the legislature in the form of a bill fathered by the appropriation, state affairs and judiciary committee of the house calling for an appropriation of $900,000 to build the two big wings of the main section now occupied. The city of Boise has worked out a civic center plan by which the approaches to the big building will be cleared.

County division again loomed on the legislative horizon on February 7. The house heatedly debated the measure to annex part of Bingham to Bonneville county and then defeated the bill on a close vote. The senate wrestled with the house bill creating Caribou county, finally attaching an enabling clause to it to put it up to the people in that portion of Bannock county. The opposition to the Jerome county division measure that is now with the governor addressed an open communication to him urging a meeting with the people in that portion of Minidoka wishing to be included in Jerome, before signing the bill.

The "blue sky" law proposed by Hall of Oneida was also the subject of a long debate in the house. It proposes that all agricultural enterprises furnish the state with a bond as a guarantee that the money that they collect will go into the enterprise advocated. Hall declared that the people were entitled to this protection, having been lured for so many years by "wildcat" promoters. The house recommended the bill for passage.

Every school district in the state will throw open its books to an expert accountant at least once in four years, if a bill introduced in the senate by J. F. Lowe of Adams county finds its way into the session laws.

Following the lead of the house, the senate passed under suspension of rules a memorial urging upon congress the immediate construction of irrigation projects designed to reclaim 2,000,000 acres of arid Idaho lands.

W. Lloyd Adams' measure aimed at combinations to control insurance rates provides that the licenses of agents guilty of attempts to throttle competition may be revoked by the state insurance commissioner.

AT THE CAPITOL

Sharp definition of principles on which a revised workmen's compensation act may be based will be made a task of the current legislative session if opinion expressed in the senate finds reflection in positive action.

Exclusion of agricultural lands in tracts of five acres or more from the corporate limits of municipalities by district court decree is provided in a measure sponsored by E. W. Whitcomb of Lemhi, which was passed by the senate 32 to 7.

Congress is petitioned to include a tract of land 54 miles square in Idaho county within the Nez Perce national forest in a memorial by N. B. Pettibone which was accepted unanimously by the senate under suspension of the rules. Protection for timber and wild life on the land in question is the object sought by the memorial.

All bills carrying appropriations hereafter will be referred to the committee on finance before they are considered on third reading in the senate.

Following out a recommendation made by Governor D. W. Davis in his message, two bills and a resolution which, if enacted, will increase the state supreme court from three to five members were introduced in the house of representatives by the judiciary committee.

Rigid laws will govern practicing chiropractors in the state if legislative approval is given house bill No. 114, by Storey, Shearer and Miller. Only graduates of legally chartered schools of chiropractic requiring a three-years' course would be permitted to take examinations for licenses under the proposed law.

An appropriation of $57,120 will be needed by the state department of education for its work this biennium, according to a budget prepared by the state board of education.

A state highway from Star to McCall is provided in a measure introduced in the house by Weeks. An appropriation of $100,000 is provided, and the road must be completed by December 1, 1929.

Hour and wage standards for women and minors will be decided by the department of immigration, labor and statistics if the legislature passes a house bill presented by White and Drake, women members of the lower house.

Eradication of the present state library board by vesting its duties in the state board of education and the board of regents of the University of Idaho is proposed in a measure introduced in the senate. The bill is sponsored by the upper house state affairs committee.

A Terrible Ordeal!

Gravel and Kidney Stone Caused Intense Suffering—Doan's Brought a Quick Cure.

Edw. J. Turcek, 4332 Eichleburger Ave., St. Louis, Mo., says: "I was taken with a terrible pain across the back and every move I made, it felt like a knife being driven into my back and twisted around. It lasted about half an hour, but soon came back and with it another affliction. The kidney secretions began to pain me; the flow was scanty and burned like fire when passing. I had severe headaches and my bladder got badly inflamed, too, and I noticed little particles of gravel in the secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills had been recommended to me and I began their use. The first half box brought relief and I passed a stone the size of a pea. It was a terrible ordeal and afterwards a sandy sediment and particles of gravel settled in the urine. I got more of the pills in the urine. The inflammation on the left and there was no more pain or gravel. I now sleep well, eat well and my kidneys act normally. Doan's Kidney Pills alone accomplished this wonderful cure."

Weekly Health Talks

Where Most Sickness Begins and Ends

BY FRANKLIN DUANE, M. D.

It can be said broadly that most human ills begin in the stomach and end in the stomach. Good digestion means good health, and poor digestion means bad health. The minute your stomach fails to properly dispose of the food you eat, troubles begin to crop out in various forms. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the commonest forms, but thin, impure blood, headaches, backaches, pimples, blotches, dizziness, belching, coated tongue, weakness, poor appetite, sleeplessness, coughs, colds and bronchitis are almost as common. There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it. When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that these remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

If piles are torturing you, get and use Pierce's Anodyne Pile Ointment. The quick relief it gives is hard to believe until you try it. If constipated Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken while using Anodyne Pile Ointment. Few indeed are the cases which these splendid remedies will not relieve and usually overcome. They are so good that nearly every drug store has them for sale.

GIGANTIC TAX BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

MEASURE GOES THROUGH BY A VOTE OF 310 TO 11, AFTER LONG DEBATE.

Party Leaders Join in Propheying That the Bill's Tax Levies Are Too Low, and Predict That Higher Taxes Must Be Provided.

Washington.—The house on Saturday, February 8, concluded its work on the record-breaking war revenue bill by adopting, 310 to 11, after six hours' discussion, the conferees' agreement on the measure. It now goes to the senate for final approval, which is expected in a few days.

The conference report, which proposes to raise six billion dollars in taxes this year and more than four billions annually until repealed, will be taken up by the senate immediately after disposal of the woman suffrage resolution. Its adoption by the senate and approval by President Wilson are regarded as assured.

During debate in the house Saturday, Democratic and Republican leaders joined in declaring that the bill's tax levies were too low, both for this year and 1920, and predicted that higher taxes must be provided by the next congress.

Opposition to the report was not based, however, on its tax imposts, but to minor amendments, particularly the child labor legislation.

Besides the child labor provision, several house members criticized as "pittance" the $60 pay bonus provided for persons discharged from military service.

Representative Kitchin, Democratic leader, made the principal address, commending the bill as a whole, but declaring it should have imposed higher taxes and that it would not meet future requirements. He expressed the belief that expenditures this year would total $20,000,000 and $10,000,000,000 in 1920, and that by the end of the next fiscal year the bonds outstanding would aggregate $30,000,000,000. He explained, however, that to enact the bill and take $1,700,000,000 more than under existing law from "profligators," charged with conducting propaganda against its passage, the house conferees were compelled to give and take.

THE ARMADILLO AS A DIGGER

In a Tug-of-War With a Boy the Animal Won Out in Quite Easy Manner.

One day I was standing on a mound when an armadillo bolted from a mound and running to the very spot where I was standing began vigorously digging to escape by burying himself in the soil.

Neither men nor dogs had seen him, and I at once determined to capture him unaided by anyone and imagined it would prove a very easy task.

Accordingly I laid hold of his black bone-cased tail with both hands and began tugging to get him off the ground, but couldn't move him. He went on digging furiously, getting deeper and deeper into the earth, and I soon found that instead of me pulling him out he was pulling me in after him.

It hurt my small boy pride to think that an animal no bigger than a cat was going to beat me in a trial of strength, and this made me hold on more tenaciously than ever and tug and strain more violently, until not to lose him I had to go flat on the ground. But it was all for nothing. First my hands, then my aching arms were carried down into the earth, and I was forced to release my hold and get up to rid myself of the mound he had been throwing up into my face and all over my head, neck and shoulders.—From "Far Away and Long Ago" by W. H. Hodson.

TREE PUZZLE TO FORESTERS

Peculiar Formation of Spruce Has Caused Speculation Among Men Learned in That Lore.

A cross section of a great old spruce tree from Alaska tells the story of a tree which executed a spin, like a ballet dancer. This cross section shows a most peculiar spiral structure, which has caused a great deal of speculation among the various foresters throughout the country and a very interesting explanation is advanced in American Forestry.

It is known that a tree growing at a slant forms on the lower side of its trunk a dense reddish wood known as "rotholz." This spiral in this case is of such sort, and as it is a continuous formation, winding from the center within half an inch from the circumference, it is surmised that it was growing in an inclined position on the edge of a glacier, where by some shifting it was caused to rotate, so that all sides of the tree were successively on the downward side. Thus as the tree grew, and its rotation continued slowly, the "rotholz" developed into a spiral.

"Cepatomtegoatating"

Schoolmasters have often serious problems to solve. The following note, containing only one word, was recently handed to a Thonet pedagogist: "Cepatomtegoatating."

The missive was tendered by one of the boys on behalf of a neighbor's child.

The schoolmaster was nonplussed for the moment. But he had received too many weirdly worded notes in his time to allow this one to baffle him. Albert it was not till the work of the school was over and much tobacco had been consumed that the word at last yielded its mystery: "Kept at home to go a-tutoring!" London Chronicle.

Playing Safe.

Billy wrote a letter to Santa Claus and when he finished he asked his father for a check. "Cause," said the little fellow in way of explanation, "of course Santa Claus has to pay his helpers or maybe they'd go off and work on Christmas eve."

Doleful Prospects.

"I suppose the people of Chicago are particularly liable to the influenza epidemic."

"Why should they be?"

"Because they are constantly in the ill state."

High Cost.

"Anyway, coal has not continued to go up in price."

"I don't know about that. The our janitor collects tips in the weather, coal would figure at about cents a lump."
