The protection of principle should be the first consideration of every investor. But it's not always an easy matter for the ordinary investor to determine the safety of the issues offered him.

The character of an investment, however, is usually reflected in the concerns which offers it. Investments offered through this institution warrant your confidence.

John A. Bagley will go to Salt Lake tomorrow to attend the funeral of his son-in-law, Sergeant Whitley, who died at Fortress Monroe last Sunday.

Now is the time to fatten the hogs while the weather is mild. Plenty of chopped feed at the mill.—Montpelier Milling Co.

Mrs. J. G. Merrill returned yesterday from a three weeks' visit with her son, Jed, at Tacoma. She had the pleasure of spending a day at Camp Lewis.

The annual election of officers for Bear Lake Chapter, American Red Cross, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 23. All members are requested to bear this in mind.

Men's and boys' mackinaw coats and sweater coats at last year's prices at Whitman's. Call and see the complete line.

Mrs. Peter Hauck received a letter this week from her son, Carl, saying that he had arrived safely in France, and was enjoying good health and the fine scenery of that country.

Mrs. Pyle, an old time operator on the Short Line, has succeeded R. N. Regner, as ticket agent and day operator for the Western Union at this place.

We are permitted now to sell you your year's supply of flour. Now is a good time to purchase while the regulations are such.—Montpelier Milling Co.

Martinus Nelson of Ovid, who is serving a term in the penitentiary at Boise for grand larceny, was granted a pardon last week to become effective on Dec. 24 of this year.

The first snow to visit Montpelier this fall covered the high tops of the mountains last Sunday morning, but quickly disappeared with the bursting forth of the sun from a cloudy sky.

Call and look over our stock of blankets in both wool and cotton. Remember, we have always sold these goods cheaper than our competitors.—H. B. Whitman.

Frank Davis was held at Kemmerer all last week on special work by the railroad company, running between that point and Green River. He managed to get home for a few hours last Sunday, when he was again detailed to the same run for at least another week.

Yesterday Miss Nellie Ridd received a letter from her brother, Roland, who is in France, in which he stated that he had been quite ill in a hospital for a month but was then much improved and hoped to be able to join his company in a short time.

Quite a number of letters were received yesterday from Montpelier boys who are now in France. We will gladly publish extracts from these letters next week if the parents and friends will send them to this office.

Leslie Byington of Lava Hot Springs, died at Camp Meade, Maryland, on Sept. 30. Death was caused from pneumonia. The body went through here last Sunday on No. 17. The deceased was only 18 years of age.

Miss Krista Jensen was treated to a pleasant farewell at Staley's cabaret last Tuesday evening by a number of her lady friends. The evening was spent in dancing, singing, fortune telling and a good time generally, after which refreshments were served.

L. G. French recently sold the residence property in which he was living to J. Pepper of Burley, who, with his family, have removed here to make their home. Mr. French has purchased the house a block east of his old property, which was built by Chris Sorenson of Pocatello.

You will find our shoe department very attractive; new stock arriving nearly every week. Our prices have always been right on shoes. Our winter's stock of rubbers, overshoes and elk goods is here; call and see them.—H. B. Whitman.

Sergeant W. A. Whitley of the coast artillery corps, a Salt Lake youth, died at Fortress Monroe, Va., last Sunday. He is survived by his mother, one sister, wife and three children. Mrs. Whitley was formerly Miss Van Horn Bagley of this city. The body will arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow and funeral services will be held Sunday.

Although a little late in mentioning it, we wish to call the attention of the public to the beautiful lawn on the city hall grounds, and we desire any section of this old earth to produce a finer lawn in one season. Much credit for this is due to Mr. Bird, who has taken great pride in the care of the grounds. It can truly be said that the city hall and grounds are the one beauty spot in Montpelier, of which every citizen is highly proud.

The much heralded picture, D. W. Griffith's latest war production, "Hearts of the World," was shown to capacity houses both Monday and Tuesday nights, and the matinee on Tuesday afternoon was also well patronized. If there was a sorrowful person to attend either of the performances we have not learned of it. It was truly one of the most enjoyable events of the history of the opera house and one of the biggest and best attractions that we have been privileged of witnessing on the movie screen.

CHAS. L. PORTER A VICTIM OF SPANISH INFLUENZA.

Chas. L. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Porter, formerly of Fairview, but now residents of Montpelier, died at Camp Dix, N. J., on Wednesday, Oct. 2. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, which so frequently follows an attack of the influenza. Some weeks prior to his death he underwent an operation for rupture but had fully recovered from the effects of the operation when he fell a victim to the influenza. He was 30 years of age.

Mr. Porter left Star Valley the fore part of last June. He was sent to Logan where he received special training as auto mechanic. From Logan he was sent to New Mexico, where he was stationed for a time, and then transferred to Camp Dix, preparatory to sailing for France.

On June 5th of last year he was reunited in marriage to Miss Nellie Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parker of Lanark.

Besides his wife and parents, he is survived by three sisters and two brothers, one of whom is now at Camp Lewis.

The body arrived here yesterday afternoon and was taken to Lanark for burial. Short funeral services were held at the grave.

LEWIS COUNTY COUNCIL AFTER BOND SLACKERS

Some people think that county councils of defense do not have any authority to enforce their demands. Read what is being done elsewhere in this state:

The Lewis county council of defense is composed of good financiers in the opinion of Montie B. Gwinn, chairman of the state liberty loan committee. At one session with Peter Fox, a wealthy land owner in that county, Mr. Fox was induced to raise his ante from nothing to $3000 in liberty bonds and in addition to give $500 for the seven war activities as soon as the drive is opened. Mr. Fox was first asked to buy a $500 liberty bond.

Concerning the action of the Lewis county defense council, Mr. Gwinn received the following report:

"Peter Fox, one of the most extensive landowners of the prairie country, purchased his quota of liberty bonds this morning following an interesting session with the defense council last night. It is estimated Fox's holdings are worth $90,000 and he was assessed $500 on a section of land north of Nezperce. When the liberty bonds committee asked him to subscribe for that amount, he not only refused to buy bonds but gave the members of the committee a good scoring. He was brought before the county defense council last night and the decision was that Fox should buy liberty bonds in the amount of $3000 and he was given until noon today to make the investment. He bought the bonds as soon as the banks opened this morning.

"It was also the decision of the defense council that Fox should subscribe to the fund for the seven war activities in the sum of $500 and this subscription must be made on the opening day of the drive which will begin in a short time.

"The sentiment of the entire community is behind the defense council and the meetings have disclosed that an equitable responsibility will be placed on all citizens who are able to buy bonds.

"W. E. Marckel of the Vollmer section, appeared before the defense council Friday evening to show cause why he has not purchased liberty bonds in the amount of his quota. Marckel has been solicited by three members of the Vollmer committee and has refused to buy bonds. It is stated he bought no bonds of the third loan and when visited by the soliciting committee this week he insulted the members of the committee and definitely stated he did not intend to buy bonds."

The result of his conference with the committee was that Marckel shook loose Monday $3000 for liberty bonds and will drop $500 to the war activities fund when called upon.

While returning from Georgetown to Bennington last Wednesday evening, the car in which Wright Weaver, Mrs. Horace Weaver and baby and several others were riding, struck a rock or some other object and turned over twice. Mrs. Horace Weaver and baby and Mr. Weaver were quite badly bruised, but none of the occupants received any broken bones. That some of them were not killed is a little short of a miracle. The car was badly damaged.

Hirashi Ota, called for examination for military service by the local draft board, is the Japanese with an American wife who made Montpelier his home for the past two months and was employed at the railroad shops until a week ago, when he was given charge of a section foremanship and sent to a station near Rawlins, Wyo.

WALL PAPER AT VINCENT'S.

Last Wednesday was the 47th anniversary of the starting of the great Chicago fire. H. H. Hoff, who was living in Chicago at the time, reminded us of the fact.

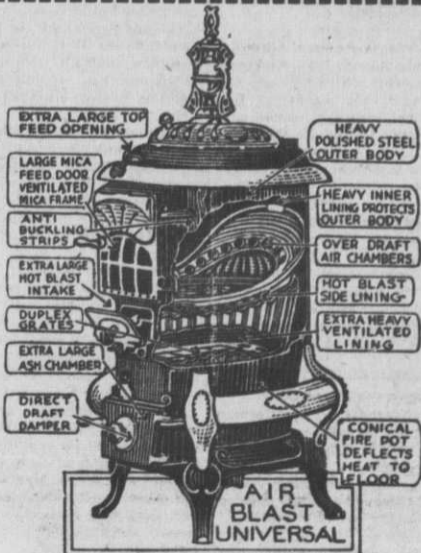

The rain the first of the week revived the ranges and put the ground in fine shape for fall plowing, and we are now having as fine fall weather as any one could ask for.

If you want a new or second hand sewing machine, or supplies of any kind, see John Black, agent for the Singer; first door east of Whitman's.

The local draft board has received orders to entrain five men for Fort Rosecrans, Cal., within the five-day period beginning Oct. 21. Only white men qualified for general military service will be inducted under this call.

Mrs. Chris Jensen and children left yesterday for Portland to join Mr. Jensen, who has been working in the ship yards there for some time. They expect to make their future home in the Rose city.

Miss Mollie Wohlwend, one of the instructors in the Ovid schools, met with a painful accident last Friday as she was mounting a cart to come to Montpelier for over Sunday. A fractious horse suddenly started up before she had fully entered the vehicle, throwing her to the ground and the result was she received a sprained wrist. "Doc" Enfield prescribed for the painful member, and Miss Wohlwend left Sunday evening to resume her work as though nothing had occurred to prevent her doing so.

See what happened to him.

Well, he wasn't satisfied to leave in the bank and add to it and let it grow. He had the "get-it-in-a-hurry" idea so he tried gambling with his good, honest money and now it belongs to some one else.

If he's got the heart to start all over again he will leave it in the bank where it will grow.
