

Make Safe Investments

The protection of principle should be the first consideration of every investor. But it's not always an easy matter for the ordinary investor to determine the safety of the issues offered him.

The character of an investment, however, is usually reflected in the concern which offers it. Investments offered through this institution warrant your confidence.

The public should bear in mind that the banks now close at 3 p. m. each day.

Mrs. George Ashley and children went to Logan last Monday to visit a couple of weeks with relatives.

The Montpelier Milling Co. has discontinued buying wheat for the present. However, they will continue to exchange flour for wheat.

Mrs. Q. B. Kelly of Salt Lake, visited over Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Ed Rich and Mrs. Jesse Perkins.

Alvin Perkins arrived home last Friday from Ft. Rosecrans, Cal., having been mustered out of service.

Miss Nellie Toomey of Pocatello, has been a guest at the home of the Wallentine girls of this city, for the past week.

When you want to make a date with the chiropractor, phone 57; calls made afternoons and evenings.—O. B. Parrott, chiropractor.

Nicholas Laughter, Edmund Clossner and Bill Graff, who are employees of the Short Line in Pocatello, ate Christmas dinner with relatives in Montpelier.

A son registered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Law last Sunday. The mother is now ill with the flu but she and the babe are getting along nicely.

Mrs. F. J. Sullivan received a telegram the first of the week from her husband announcing his arrival from overseas. Mrs. Sullivan was formerly Miss Bertha Beckwith.

Miss Helen Gray returned to Salt Lake last Monday to renew her studies at Rowland Hall, which had been closed for some time on account of the influenza.

Sheriff-elect Oakley of Lincoln county, and his family removed this week from Afton to Kemmerer. Mr. Oakley will assume the duties of sheriff next Monday.

Rev. J. G. A. Martin left yesterday for Boise on receipt of news that Mrs. Martin was ill. He will return the first of the week if the condition of Mrs. Martin will permit.

Miss Lucile Wallentine, who came home to spend the holidays with her parents and friends, will return to Pocatello Sunday to take up her work again in Russell's "ready-to-wear store."

Sergeant Arthur L. Gidney and wife returned the first of the week from a short visit with his parents in Salt Lake. Sergeant Gidney was in training at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., for the past eight months in the signal corps, first provisional regiment.

The people of Ovid did the proper thing on the last day of the old year by going "over the top" in the purchase of War Savings Stamps. Ovid's quota was $5,000, but they went better than that by something like $100.

The wholesale and retail liquor house of Sigmund Kohn of Kemmerer, was destroyed by fire at an early hour last Tuesday morning. The loss on the stock of liquor was about $5,500, which was partially covered by insurance.

Owing to the presence of influenza at Albion, the state normal school will not re-open until Jan. 13. Students returning to school will be required to present a health certificate signed by their family physician before they will be permitted to enter classes.

Dave Parker phoned in from Bennington yesterday to tell us that he and his family are now convalescing from a siege with flu. Mrs. Parker had the most severe attack, of any of them, and is still quite weak but doing nicely. The two nurses leave today. Dave said he feels that they all owe their recovery to the good nursing that they received and he advises any one who gets the flu to secure, if possible, Miss Laker or Miss Sorensen, as they will pull them through if any nurses can.

L. D. S. TABERNACLE NEARLY COMPLETED

The L. D. S. tabernacle is rapidly nearing completion. Brough & O'Connor have completed the installation of the lighting system, and the last "finishing touch" will soon be done. The $2,500 pipe organ arrived the first of the week and an expert from San Francisco will be here today or tomorrow to set it up. No time has been set for dedicating the tabernacle. President Rich informs us that they will wait now until health conditions are improved throughout the county, but he hoped to be able to dedicate it not later than the first of February.

S. W. BRAMMER IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

At four o'clock last Saturday afternoon Stanley W. Brammer, the agent of the Oregon Short Line Railroad Company, died at the L. C. M. hospital, death being caused by pneumonia. Mr. Brammer had suffered with a severe cold for several days and was obliged to take to his bed on the morning of December 24th, and at 10:30 in the evening of the same day he was taken to the hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

His condition at once became critical and the next day it was the opinion of the attending physicians that he could not live. He became gradually worse until the end came Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Brammer is survived by his wife and four children, Kenneth aged 13 years, Hazel aged 12 years, Ruth four years of age, and Mary aged six months, and also by two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Bourne, and Miss Netta Brammer, both of Montpelier, Idaho.—Kemmerer Camera.

RALPH PERKINS WRITES FROM ST. JAUVINE, FRANCE

Miss Grace Perkins is in receipt of a letter written on Dec. 2 by her brother, Ralph, in which he gladly acknowledges having received a letter from home and says in part:

We are still enjoying ourselves, but are expecting to leave in a few days, but where we are going do not know, and to us it makes little difference.

There is a big show on here in camp tomorrow night, some kind of a dance and a picture show besides, so you see we get a little enjoyment out of life over here.

You will notice by the heading of this letter that I have given the name of the town near which we are located and by looking on the map you can tell about where we are. I have sure seen lots since we moved up to this position and will try and tell you a few of the things, or rather places I have visited.

Last Sunday I went over to Verdun and went through the city. It sure is a wonderful place. I will tell you all about it when I get home. One day last week we were over to hill 304. It is known here as dead man's hill, being a place held by the Germans from the fall of 1914 until about two months ago, when the Americans captured it. From there we went thru the Argonne Forest. You could never imagine what these places look like unless you had seen them yourself. All of the little villages around here are shot up so badly that about all there is left of them is a few stones and a lot of wood that looks like kindling. I guess you can get an idea of what things look like in this country from the pictures you see in magazines and current events.

I think I have told you about enough for this time, so will close. I will tell you more about our trip and movements the next time I write.

DR. HINCKLEY OF SALT LAKE, LOCATES IN MONTPELIER.

Dr. E. E. Hinckley and family arrived from Salt Lake the first of the week and will become residents of Montpelier. The doctor will engage in the practice of his profession here and has established offices over the Modern Drug Co. While he has been engaged in the study and practice of medicine for the past eighteen years, he has given special attention to diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat for the past seven years, and if the field here is sufficient to justify him, he will confine his work strictly to the treatment of these organs.

Last September Dr. Hinckley was commissioned a captain in the medical corps, but was held in reserve in Salt Lake. As his services were not required after the war ended, he was honorably discharged on Dec. 8.

Dr. Hinckley comes with high recommendations and there is no question but what he will be able to acquire a good practice here in his special line of work.

FLU ABOUT HAD ITS RUN IN MONTPELIER

The flu situation in Montpelier is better this morning than it has been at any time in the past two months. Officer Hillier informs us that only eight homes are under quarantine, but several of them will be released tomorrow. If no new cases develop there will not be a home under quarantine by the middle of next week.

The situation in the county, however, is not as good as it was a week ago, as the disease has made its appearance in Geneva, Lanark and Wardboro, but the cases are all mild ones.

ATTENTION, MR. FLOUR CONSUMER.

It occurs to the writer that a great majority of the people do not appreciate the value of hard wheat flour as against soft wheat flour.

The facts and figures in the matter are this: One hundred pounds of genuine hard wheat flour will make up at least ten loaves more bread than will 100 pounds of soft wheat flour. Ten loaves at 10 cents per loaf, $1.00.

We are not exaggerating at all when we state that 100 pounds of the genuine hard wheat flour is worth $1.00 more to the consumer than 100 pounds of soft wheat flour.

A baker's test this day proved beyond any question that the Turkey Red hard wheat flour manufactured by the Montpelier Milling Co., will absorb 20 per cent more water in mixing the dough than soft wheat flour.

The above mentioned test was made by the Royal Bakery of this city with the Montpelier Milling Co.'s Turkey Red hard wheat flour and a soft wheat flour manufactured at Cache Junction, Utah, which was sold to some of the local dealers by an unscrupulous agent, representing it to be hard wheat flour.

The Montpelier mill has on hand a very heavy stock of No. 1 hard wheat, every bushel of which grades No. 1 hard and are not using one bushel of soft wheat in making flour.

Every sack is guaranteed to be genuine or money refunded. Ask your grocer for a sack of the genuine Turkey Red and make a test for yourself, weighing flour, yeast and water.

Why not buy a local product when quality is best and actual cost much less?

Please accept our good wishes for a Happy and Prosperous 1919. Montpelier, Idaho, Jan. 1, 1919. MONTPELIER MILLING CO.

This has been a week when the plumber has had his harvest. Frozen pipes are to blame.

At 3 o'clock Tuesday morning the thermometer at the railroad shops registered 25 degrees below zero, the lowest of the season so far.

HOW MANY HAVE YOU GOT IN THE BANK?

"Put off" and "put off," next week, and next week, and so it goes until some chance comes along and then you say:—"Oh, if I only had the money now"—and some other fellow buys the bargain, or the real estate and makes money.

Why don't you have a bank account and make it grow so you'll be prepared for a good business chance?
