A daughter registered at the home of J. B. Tueller last night. They now have three little queens at the Tueller home.

George J. Hoff of Georgetown, and Zelma Mathison of Montpelier, were united in marriage in Salt Lake last Wednesday.

Pure life insurance protection at reasonable cost; see S. N. Kunz, Montpelier; phone 223.

While coasting Wednesday a ten-year-old son of Arnold Eschler ran into a wire fence and sustained several deep and painful cuts about the neck and face.

Mrs. R. H. Earl has located in the city and would be pleased to take a few pupils in voice culture and piano. She has studied under Profs. Hand and McClelland of Salt Lake.

We still have a good assortment of ladies' winter hats which we are offering at a big reduction in order to close them out.—Paris Millinery, Hotel Burgoyne block.

Ivan Loveday was sent to the L. D. S. hospital at Salt Lake Wednesday morning with a broken shoulder blade. The accident happened while he was at work in the shops.

A son of M. Sorenson of Ovid, had his left leg badly lacerated Tuesday while coasting. A sharp stick, which was protruding from the snow, penetrated the flesh and tore it badly.

Seymour Hoff of Georgetown, who has been in the service of Uncle Sam for the past 15 months at Vancouver, Wash., returned home Wednesday, having been mustered out of service.

Mose Lewis went to Logan last Sunday to spend several days looking after his business affairs there. He will go to Salt Lake before returning home to attend to some business and personal affairs.

A lady's old black hand bag was left at this office. It contained a silk handkerchief, a ten cent piece and some other articles; owner can have same by calling, proving property and paying for this notice.

When you want to make a date with the chiropractor, phone 57; calls made afternoons and evenings.—O. E. Farrott, chiropractor.

Dr. A. L. Chilton of the Pocatello Optical Co. will be at his office in Goodman & Christman's jewelry store Jan. 27, 28, 29 and 30 and Feb. 1, and at the Stucki home in Paris from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Jan. 31, if quarantine will permit.

Joe Einsinger, with a detachment of overseas patients, arrived at the army hospital at Fort Douglas Wednesday. He will be mustered out from there just as soon as the surgeons in charge feel that his condition will permit.

Mr. Alonzo C. Irving and Miss Wilona Nelson, two of Montpelier's well known young people, were united in marriage at Paris on Thursday, Jan. 2. That evening a delicious wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents in this city.

A large number of men and teams from Star valley have been noticed on our streets this week, which reminds us of times before the outbreak of the flu epidemic, and which also reminds us that any further prohibition of public gatherings, schools included, is without necessity in fact.

At an early hour on New Year's morn the stork paid its first visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt of Champaign, Ill., and left a little daughter. A recent letter from there stated that the mother and babe were doing nicely. Mrs. Wyatt was formerly Miss Genevieve Hoff of this city.

Tom Hartman arrived home Wednesday from Camp Lee, Va., where he had been for a couple of months. He was mustered out at Camp Dodge.

Elisha and Charlie Strong went to Evanston this morning to attend the funeral of their sister, Effie, who died there yesterday. She was 70 years of age.

The late Wm. R. Roberts of Salt Lake and J. E. Simmons of Soda Springs, both carried insurance in the Modern Woodmen of America, the former $1,000 and the latter $3,000. Last week Harry Hull, clerk of the order in Montpelier, received checks in payment of these policies and they were forwarded to the respective beneficiaries.

George Koford and family returned last week from Portland, where they had been for the past five months. Mr. Koford worked in the ship yards there up to the time the war ended. Since then there has been but little doing in the yards and as there was no work in other lines he decided to return to Montpelier and he says that he is glad to get back.

Mrs. O. H. Groo went to Laramie Wednesday to visit for a couple of weeks at the home of her son, Hayes.

"Dad" Bryan received a welcome message Wednesday morning from his son, Bates, announcing his safe arrival from overseas. Bates stated that he would be detained for demobilization for a couple of weeks, but that he would be at home just as soon as he could get here after being mustered out of service.

Rev. J. G. A. Martin returned Wednesday from Boise where he went last week upon being informed of the illness of Mrs. Martin, who is still ill though improved. He stopped over at Pocatello on his return trip to visit a married daughter. Notwithstanding there are a large number of cases of influenza in both Boise and Pocatello, the ban on public meetings and gatherings are lifted with no apparent danger of the spread of the disease, he reports.

Charley Cheney returned Wednesday from an auto trip to Star valley. Charlie said there nothing unusual about making an auto trip to that section, but he does claim that it is unusual to make the drive in an auto at this season of the year in the remarkably short time in which he made it. He drove from here to Afton last Sunday in just two hours and thirty-five minutes, and made the return trip Wednesday in two hours and fifty-five minutes. He was delayed fully fifteen minutes coming home by meeting teams.

We have had more steady cold weather the past month than this section has experienced for a number of years. There have been winters when we had colder weather than that of the past month, but the cold spell has not lasted so long. Since the 10th of last month the thermometer has registered below zero on 19 nights. The coldest was on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, when the thermometer registered 18 below both nights. Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week it was 12 below. The highest temperature of any night since Dec. 16 was 16 below zero on the night of Dec. 14.

Mrs. Mose Lewis left for Salt Lake this morning upon receipt of a message that her husband was under quarantine, having contracted the flu since leaving here for Logan and Salt Lake on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Kunz went to Salt Lake Monday morning to attend the funeral of the latter's brother, Frank L. Brown, who died at Charlotte, N. C., on Jan. 1st. Death was caused from pneumonia. Mr. Brown had been in charge of the Joseph Smith memorial farm at South Royalton, Vermont, for the past eight years, and had only recently left Vermont to spend the winter in the south. They were accompanied by Mrs. Josephine Tribbs, sister of Mrs. Kunz. They will return from Salt Lake tomorrow.

OFFICERS NAB AUTO AND BIG QUANTITY OF BOOZE

Last Tuesday Sheriff Athay and Chief of Police Hillier located about fourteen cases of "perfectly good booze" which had been cached a couple of miles north of town. The booze was the property of three men who were taking it from Kemmerer to Soda Springs and other points in Bannock county. The first clue that led to the discovery of the booze was a disabled auto, which was found just at the south edge of town on Monday. When closely examined by the officers there was a strong smell of booze about the car which bore a Wyoming number. When the car broke down some time Sunday night, the men hired some one to convey the booze to the point, where it was found by the officers. Monday morning two of the men—Carey and Stensen—returned to Kemmerer, while the third man—Johnson—went to Lava presumably to get some one there to come after the booze in a car. When he returned to Montpelier Tuesday night on No. 4 he was taken into custody by the officers. He admitted that he was an occupant of the booze laden car when it broke down, but denied having a financial interest in the booze. He gave the officers the names of the other two men and said the car belonged to Stensen. Neither he nor Carey have yet been apprehended.

The car has been confiscated by the sheriff, and the owner will not only lose his car, but his interest in the booze, of which the officers estimate there is about $800 worth. The booze is now under lock and key somewhere in Paris and we presume that in due time it will, by order of the court, go gurgling down a sewer instead of the throats of some of the good citizens of Bannock county, who would willingly have paid $3 or more a pint for it, had the forbidden liquid reached its destination.

WILL DISCUSS QUESTION OF OPENING THE SCHOOLS

A public meeting will be held at the city hall Monday night, Jan. 13, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the question as to whether or not the public schools should be opened. The doctors of the city and the board of health will be present and the patrons of the schools are urged to attend the meeting and express themselves freely on the question.

ONLY FOUR HOMES IN CITY UNDER QUARANTINE

There are only four homes under quarantine in Montpelier this morning. Yesterday two or three cases of flu developed among the railroad men and they were taken to the hospital. Charlie Hager is also a flu patient there. All of the patients have it in mild form. Conditions in the county are also improving, not a death having occurred either in the city or county during the past ten days.

CLEARANCE SALE.

A clearance sale that will make its mark supreme in value giving. You are urged to attend while the selections are complete. Ladies' coats and suits and misses' coats at less than manufacturer's cost. We have values that will stir the enthusiasm of every dress goods buyer:

Wait For

Your Eyes Are Precious.

Take no chances, have none but the best. DR. J. F. ALEXANDER, manager of the Alexander Optical Co., will give you his personal attention at Hotel Burgoyne Tuesday and Wednesday, January 14 and 15. At Paris Hotel January 16th.

FISH-HAVEN NOTES.

Fish Haven, Jan. 8.—The flu situation is clearing up here in fine shape. Every home will be released from quarantine today, except one and it is not yet certain that the members of this family have the disease. There has been a good deal of excitement in the neighboring towns over the influenza situation here. Some of the towns have gone so far as to forbid any one from here going into their villages, even to get a load of hay. Others have called over the phone to ask when certain parties died and when they would be buried. Still others state they were told that there were 35 families quarantined and each family had an average of four down with the dread disease.

Now the facts of the matter are, we never had but eight families under quarantine with 21 cases of colds and influenza. There were only four or five of this number who were at all bad. While we think that people cannot be too careful about exposing themselves to the influenza, still we do not see the use of throwing the whole county into a panic "just for the fun there is in it," and it would be a good idea for other towns to call up some one in Fish Haven and ask for a statement of the facts before they fly up in the air over nothing.

The following soldier boys have returned: Burns Erickson, Milford Loveland, Daniel Curless, Richard Nelson and John Vaterlaus. Others are expected soon.

We have had but very little snow here but there is plenty of fog. The skating is good on the lake but there is now sleigh riding.

J. L. Gardner has moved to Logan for the winter, and the home of Lavon Gardner is for sale as he has also moved to Logan.

ASKS PERTINENT QUESTIONS ABOUT MOISTURE IN FLOUR.

Born, Jan. 7.—Editor Examiner: The article you printed Jan. 3, 1919, from the Montpelier Milling Co. seems a very worthy one and one of much interest to both bread raisers and bread users. I am going to ask you, Mr. Editor, for answers to the following, which I know will be of much interest to your readers and especially to myself:

Is or is it not necessary to have a certain amount of moisture in wheat before a miller will try to grind it? If so, how much moisture? Can he have as much or as little moisture as he may desire?

Can he have or does he have less moisture in hard wheat when he starts grinding than he has in soft wheat?

Is or is it not true that when sacked at the mill a 98-lb. sack of hard wheat flour has just as much moisture in it as does a 98-lb. sack of soft wheat flour?

After being sacked and while in the sack will one kind of flour gain more moisture or lose more moisture or gain it faster or lose it faster than does the other?

How many more pounds of water can a baker put into 98 pounds of hard wheat flour, like the Montpelier Milling Co. recommends than he can put in a 98-lb. sack of all soft wheat flour like the milling company does not recommend?

ROBERT SCHMID.
ATTENTION, MR. FLOUR CONSUMER.

It occurs to the writer that a great majority of the people do not appreciate the value of hard wheat flour as against soft wheat flour.

The facts and figures in the matter are this: One hundred pounds of genuine hard wheat flour will make up at least ten loaves more bread than will 100 pounds of soft wheat flour. Ten loaves at 10 cents per loaf, $1.00.

We are not exaggerating at all when we state that 100 pounds of the genuine hard wheat flour is worth $1.00 more to the consumer than 100 pounds of soft wheat flour.

A baker's test this day proved beyond any question that the Turkey Red hard wheat flour manufactured by the Montpelier Milling Co., will absorb 20 per cent more water in mixing the dough than soft wheat flour.

The above mentioned test was made by the Royal Bakery of this city with the Montpelier Milling Co.'s Turkey Red hard wheat flour and a soft wheat flour manufactured at Cache Junction, Utah, which was sold to some of the local dealers by an unscrupulous agent, representing it to be hard wheat flour.

The Montpelier mill has on hand a very heavy stock of No. 1 hard wheat, every bushel of which grades No. 1 hard and are not using one bushel of soft wheat in making flour.

Every sack is guaranteed to be genuine or money refunded. Ask your grocer for a sack of the genuine Turkey Red and make a test for yourself, weighing flour, yeast and water.

Why not buy a local product when quality is best and actual cost much less?

Please accept our good wishes for a Happy and Prosperous 1919. Montpelier, Idaho, Jan. 1, 1919. MONTPELIER MILLING CO.
