

WHY NOT BE COMFORTABLE?

You can get stoves that will keep you warm night and day—you can get others that won't. There is only one best—it is spelled S-T-E-W-A-R-T.

HOT BLASTS.—And, by the way, do you know that there is all the difference in the world in Hot Blasts? Some are built to insure the dealer a big profit, (never mind the customer) some on honor and for service. Some are planished iron—some are steel—ask your dealer which his is. There is no cheap sheet iron used on the Stewart.

AIR TIGHTS—The acme of stove science.

OAKS, WOOD HEATERS, COOKS and RANGES for WOOD or COAL.

STEWART STEEL RANGES are world famous. Do you want the BEST, or will you pay nearly as much for cheap goods that look well while they are new?

QUALITY IS REMEMBERED LONG AFTER PRICE IS FORGOTTEN.

THE CHURCH AND SECRET ORDERS.

In another column will be found extracts of the speeches made in Salt Lake Sunday, by prominent Mormon church officials, concerning secret orders. All of the speakers took strong ground against any member of the L. D. S. church joining these orders. Some of the arguments they put forth are, indeed, ridiculous. The principal point made was that a man could not belong to one of these orders and be a good churchman. Another point was that the insurance paid by some of these orders to the widow and orphans was a "mere pittance," for which the man sacrificed his chances of eternal life, to provide.

The EXAMINER doesn't propose to defend the organizations, though its editor is a member of four of them, for they are amply able to take care of themselves, but we want to call attention to the fact that many of the members of some of these organizations are Mormons, and it would be hard to make these believe that a lodge man cannot be a good churchman, or that the insurance paid by some of these orders is a pittance to be dispised.

The Catholic church has been the foe of secret orders for years and yet these orders have grown twice as fast as the church. It will be so with the Mormon church. If they make open war on the secret orders, the orders will grow even more rapidly than they do now right in Utah and Idaho.

The Mormon church leaders are at liberty to attack the lodges if they desire, but the lodges will never return the compliment by attacking the church, and therein they will have the strongest appeal to the people.

The nomination of Dubois, as senator, has cost the democrats nearly every county in Southeastern Idaho, and one of them, Fremont, was the banner democratic county too. No wonder nearly all of the democrats are taking sides against any more fusion.

PROOF OF THE PUDDING.

The Salt Lake Tribune, and its faint reflection published at Pocatello, profess to believe that Idaho has put a chunk under her wheel of progress by electing the fusion silver ticket. The Salt Lake oracle says "decent people will stay clear of this state," and the Gate city wiseacre says, "we stand in our own light by not being in touch with the republican president," and further, that the "state has been put back ten years."

Everyone who has taken any trouble to look the matter up knows that these sheets are slobbering over themselves, but there may be some who have not kept posted on this subject and to these, we cite the following:

For examples, we will take Utah and Wyoming, both as new and undeveloped as Idaho, and having equally as good natural resources as this state. Both Wyoming and Utah have republican state officials, and have had, while Idaho has had four years of fusion government, only to make a record on.

According to the census this year Idaho increased her population very nearly 100 per cent, Wyoming only 50 per cent and Utah about 30 per cent. Everyone knows that the great bulk of Idaho's increase has been in the last four years.

Again, more new companies have been organized to do business in Idaho under the fusion administration than in Utah and Wyoming put together.

More miles of new railway have been built in Idaho than in either of the other two states.

In fact Idaho has increased more all the way round than both the other states combined. This being true, where are the grounds for the Tribes' wail. There isn't any, and Idaho will grow as fast in the future as it has in the past, under a fusion administration, too.

L. D. S. Meeting.

Elders B. H. Roberts and C. D. Fjeldsted of the First Council of Seventy's, visited the quorum in this city Saturday afternoon. In the evening they addressed a large audience up town. Elder Roberts was the principal speaker, and took as his text the Ten Commandments, admonishing the people to keep those commandments. He laid great stress upon the one relating to the profaning the name of the Deity. Said it was a growing evil among the young men of Israel, and that it should be proclaimed against in all the assemblies of the Saints. He stated that in traveling among the people it became more and more evident that this evil was a growing one, and that it had got so far that it was being practiced among the ladies to a greater or lesser extent, and he implored all who are addicted to the habit of using the name of God in vain to refrain from it, "because," said he, "there is a heavy penalty attached to the violating of this commandment. In former days the punishment for this sin was capital, and it is as much a sin now as it was in former days."

The meeting was an unusually large one, and the best of order and attention was manifested.
