GRANGEVILLE, IDAHO COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1919

DEATH CALLED EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

"America's Most Typical American," Known All Over the World.

DIED WHILE ASLEEP

"Put Light Out Please," Last Words Spoken—Passing Entirely Unexpected.

News of the death of America's foremost citizen, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was flashed over the wires Monday night and was a severe shock to the many admiring followers of the great statesman.

The press dispatches of Tuesday from Oyster Bay, the colonel's home, stated that he died in his sleep early Monday at his residence on Sagamore Hill, it being believed death was due to rheumatism, which had affected his heart.

A severe attack of sciatic rheumatism was suffered by the colonel on New Year's day, but it was not believed the illness would prove fatal.

The former president sat up most of Sunday and retired at 11 o'clock that night. He went to his home on Sagamore Hill from the Roosevelt hospital on Christmas day, and was stricken a week later. The rheumatism affected his right hand and it had become much swollen. He remained in his room and efforts were made to check the trouble.

Selected Burial Spot.

The remains of the colonel were laid to rest without pomp or ceremony in Young's Memorial cemetery at Oyster Bay Wednesday afternoon. He was buried on a knoll overlooking Long Island sound, a plot which he and Mrs. Roosevelt selected soon after he left the White House. In the words of the clergyman who conducted the funeral service, "America's most typical American," known in every corner of the earth, will go to his grave as a "quiet democratic christian country gentleman beloved by his neighbors."

Funeral services were held at 12:45 in Christ Episcopal church, the little frame structure where the colonel and family had attended worship for many years, immediately following prayers at the Roosevelt home at which only the immediate family was present.

At the request of Mrs. Roosevelt no flowers were sent. The altar was decorated only with laurel placed on it for the Christmas season. There was no music and no eulogy, only the simple service of the Episcopal church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. George E. Talmage.

The death of Colonel Roosevelt is believed to have been hastened by grief over the death of his son Quentin and anxiety over the serious wounds suffered by Captain Archie Roosevelt while fighting in France.

He was proud of his son's sons and their heroism, but he was a devoted father and he grieved for the one who gave his life for his country as well as for the other who was wounded. He hid his grief from the world, however, in the hope that he might set an example for other fathers and mothers who had given their sons to the nation.

To the last Colonel Roosevelt had been preaching "Americanism," and few realized that his health had been shattered. It was believed that the rugged constitution which had stood him in such good stead through so many years of "stronious" life would not fail him and that he would regain his usual health. His messages of late, however, had been delivered through the medium of editorials or public statements instead of addresses.

Even to his neighbors in Oyster Bay it seemed impossible that life had ended so suddenly for the Rough Rider hero of Spanish American war days; the statesman who as governor of New York and president had welded the "big stick" so fearlessly; the big game hunter of tropical jungles; the citizen who preached preparedness long before his country entered the world conflict.

The former president died in his sleep, painlessly, at 4:15 Monday morning. His death was due directly to a blood clot lodged in one lung, the result of inflammatory rheumatism.

"Put out the light, please," were the former president's last words. They were addressed to his personal attendant, a young negro who had been in his service since he left the White House, and who was sitting at the foot of his bed.

Mrs. Roosevelt, the only member of the family at home at the time, had cable messages sent to Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Captain Kermit Roosevelt, who are in the service in France, and telegrams to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, to Captain Archie, and Mrs. Ethel Derby, who is in Aiken, S. C. Colonel Emlen Roosevelt, a cousin of the former president, was telephoned, and started immediately for Oyster Bay. Miss Josephine Strickler

CHANGE AT "HUB" STORE.

Head Man Here From Lewiston, Inviting and Installing New Manager. C. J. Broder, owner of the Hub chain of stores, arrived here from Lewiston Monday evening and was occupied on Tuesday involving the stock of the branch at this place before turning the establishment over to the new manager in the person of A. S. Kennedy, formerly in the employ of the Salmon River Stores Co., at White Bird.

K. S. Nelson, the former manager, will remain in the city for a few days before departing for the coast where he expects to benefit his health.

Mr. Broder departed for the Thursday morning to invoice the stock in their store at that place.

Mr. Kennedy, who comes here highly recommended as an up-to-date young merchant, is well known in this section, having spent many years in Idaho county, and he will probably soon hit the pace that has become an established fact among the Broder Hub stores at other places.

RETURN FROM CAMP MEADE.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Millhorn are just in receipt of a letter from their son, J. F., of the U. S. signal corps at Camp Meade, Md., stating that he would soon be home. James went to Moscow last June, one of the first to enter the student's army training camp at that place, and from there was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, where he spent two months, later being sent to Camp Meade. If the flu had not hit their camp and 50 per cent of the membership being afflicted with the disease, he would have gotten "across," the letter states, the armistice being signed a few days too soon, just before the quarantine was lifted from their camp. This is very pleasing news to the family, as Mrs. Millhorn has been a sufferer from the flu for several weeks past and is now in very poor health.

IN ROYAL BOX WITH KING AND QUEEN

Kenneth Reed, Former Grangeville Boy, Witnessed Entry of King Albert.

The Portland Telegram of Jan. 4th, contained a story and an illustration on the front page reproducing an invitation to meet the king of Belgium, a picture of Lieutenant Kenneth Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Reed, who resided at this place for a number of years, and the building in which the lieutenant was quartered. The story which is followed by extracts from the letter accompanying the picture appear below:

To have been in Brussels to witness the triumphal entry of King Albert and the queen; to have sat in the royal box with the king and queen, the prince of Wales and other notables; to have witnessed the stirring sight that will go down in history as one of the notable events of peace has been the experience of Lieutenant Kenneth S. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Reed, of this city. Lieutenant Reed, who is General Caldwell's aide, and brigade liaison officer of the 348th machine gun battalion, writes an interesting account of thrilling experiences in a letter to his parents dated November 23. Extracts from the letter follow:

"I have just finished a march of 24 kilometers (in the Cadillac) and don't feel a bit tired. Whenever we move the general sends me ahead to pick out a P. C. (post command) and billets for the officers and men of brigade headquarters.

"At 6 a. m. I arose, grabbed breakfast and Captain Sijonnie (French officer attached to these headquarters) and left for Brussels to witness the triumphal entry of King Albert and the queen. We arrived in Brussels at 9:30 a. m. and certainly were looked at. Wherever I went they yelled 'Vive l'America! An American officer or soldier is a rare specimen in Brussels and I certainly was 'it' for once.

Sees Many Notables. "General Caldwell was given two seats in the royal box and an invitation to meet the king. He didn't want to go, as it was a 51-kilometer ride each way, so he sent me. Besides the king and queen we saw the prince of Wales, Princess Marie Jose, of Belgium, General Massing and General Deunoutte, both French and several Belgian generals. During the parade there were about 15 or 20 French and Belgian planes doing fancy stunts over the city so that we had something doing every minute. After the parade we went back to the burgomaster's house where we left the car, and Mrs. Burgomaster asked us in to tea. We made dinner out of the latter, told her good bye and spent the next hour and a half driving around town.

"They continued their 'Vive l'America!' wherever we went, the kids cheered us; the old ladies waved their handkerchiefs, and the girls threw kisses.

"It was some experience, though, and I was certainly a lucky American to be there and see what will probably be a very historic event. All shops, hotels and in fact everything

The signature of the chief executive made Albert H. Wilson of Clark's Ferry, adjutant general of the guard with the rank of brigadier general. His appointment to the place has been announced before. General Wilson is a captain in the U. S. Army and has served for about two years. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and a native of Nebraska.

The governor's message was delivered at two o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Emma Drake, the woman member of the House from New Plymouth will be the second state in the union to ratify the measure. The new house was unanimous in passing it. Two members were absent.

The senate concurred with the house when it passed by unanimous vote house joint resolution No. 1, introduced and championed by Mrs. Emma Drake of Payette county, one of the women members of the lower house.

The vote was unanimous for the resolution, there being 38 yeas. Senator Whitcomb, president pro tem of the senate, was excused from voting. The resolution came up under suspension of the rules and a roll call was taken placing a record vote in the journal. Senator Whitcomb explained that he did not desire to vote for the resolution because that as a lawyer, and because of his legal training, he did not believe that an amendment of the constitution was the right way to reach and eliminate the evil sought.

Out of respect to the memory of the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the legislature recessed the morning until 2:30 this afternoon, when special memorial services were held in the house of representatives. The speakers were James H. Hawley, former governor of Idaho; Frank S. Dietrich, judge of the federal district court; Senator Lloyd Adams, of the senate, and Representative Raymond L. Givens for the house of representatives.

These arrangements were made by committees from the house and senate composed of Senators M. B. Yeaman and John D. Robertson and Representatives C. L. Weeks, W. S. Shearer and R. L. Givens.

The speakers at the memorial service paid eloquent tribute to the memory of the martyred ex-president. Senator Adams asserted he was the great typical American of the age and Representative Givens asserted he had died leaving a wonderful example to all Americans of good citizenship. Ex-Governor Hawley referred to personal contact with Roosevelt, telling of his visits to Idaho, Judge Dietrich gave a scholarly address on the life of the ex-president and his high ideals as a statesman.

The first bill to appear in the house was introduced this morning by Representative D. L. Young of Ada county, calling for an appropriation of $75,000 to meet the expenses of the legislature and pay the per diem of members.

It was announced a second member of the house had come down with the "flu" and would be incapacitated for service for some time. He is Representative Greenwood of Minidoka county. The other member ill with the disease is Representative George L. McGowan of Custer.

WENT TO POGUE RANCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Vansie left Sunday morning for the Pogue ranch on Fiddle creek, in the Salmon river section where they will make their home in the future. The Pogue ranch is one of the big cattle propositions of the section of the country. Clyde will find the work somewhat different than garage work, particularly in the summer time. But then he will have Doctor Pogue's Maxwell to work on occasionally which will probably keep him from becoming lonesome. It is a fine place

PICTURES FROM FRANCE.

Claude Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard, who is in the wireless division of the government service, now stationed in France, recently sent the home folks some steel engravings of an ancient castle in Luxembourg, and a fine view of the city. The information accompanying the pictures was very meagre and it is difficult to tell whether the pictures were made before or after the war.

FORMER PROFESSOR VISITS US.

Lieutenant N. E. Bashore, Principal and Instructor of English Here.

Lieut. N. E. Bashore, formerly principal and instructor of English in the local schools, arrived last Friday evening from Camp Greenleaf, Ga., where he has been engaged in the sanitation corps. Lieut. Bashore has been in the service somewhat over a year and has two silver chevrons to show for his service "on this side." He obtained his preliminary training at Camp Deming, New Mexico, and succeeded in getting his commission, that of second lieutenant, at that place. While in the city Mr. Bashore was renewing old acquaintances and enjoying himself with friends. He departed Tuesday morning for Berkeley, Calif., to spend the remainder of the winter.

Last week B. Auger, keeper of records of Buffalo Hump Lodge, Knights of Pythias, issued notices to all members of the local organization, announcing that regular meetings of the lodge would be resumed on Monday evening at which time election and installation of officers would take place. A good attendance responded and the following members were chosen and installed:

G. W. Eimers, M. W.
W. W. Brown, M. E.

The local lodge of Knights of Pythias has nine members now in the service of the country, and the service flag of the order bears the gold star for Henry J. Hesterman, who was killed in action in France on November 2.

IDAHO COUNTY BOY MAKES SACRIFICE

Belated News of Ralph Brockman, Killed in Action, Just Received.

The belated news of the death of Ralph Brockman, who was killed in action in France some time ago, was received here this week by Bert Brockman, an uncle of the young man, the message coming from Mr. Brockman's sister, who resides in Texas. Ralph was 24 years of age and the son of Doctor Brockman, a former resident of this place, who removed to Texas a few years ago. He left here with the September draft for Camp Lewis where he received training for a short period before being sent across the water. The news received by Mr. Brockman was very meagre, not even the date of his death being given, but it is presumed that it must have taken place just before the armistice was signed. Ivan Brockman, a brother, died at sea while crossing to France in September, which makes the shock to the family seem doubly severe.

Ralph was a fine specimen of young manhood and had hosts of friends in this community who extend sincere sympathy to the family in this dire affliction.

The usual list of monthly bills were allowed and no matters of any great importance came before the meeting. Just before adjournment was taken however, it was moved and seconded that the monthly allowance given to the band leader be discontinued at the close of this month. Since the influenza epidemic the band has been unable to give their usual concerts.

A DAUGHTER BORN.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay O. Rhoades of Pollock, announce the birth of a daughter on the 6th of January, 1919 at Portland, Oregon. A short time ago the Globe reproduced a squib taken from the Meadows Eagle to the effect that Mr. Rhoades had gone to Portland to get acquainted with his son. We hope this will not be a disappointment to Jay.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE SEATS MONDAY

Only Four Changes From Old Personnel, Treasurer, Sheriff and One Commissioner

DEPUTIES ARE NAMED

W. N. Knox, Deputy Treasurer, Ben F. Robertson and John Harriman Deputy Sheriffs.

Officers of Idaho county elected in November will assume their offices on Monday, January 13. There are only four changes from the present personnel of the officers, being the sheriff, treasurer, one commissioner and coroner, the other officers having been reelected.

Henry Telcher, who was appointed by the board of county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Auditor J. P. Eimers, resigned, was reelected to this position. He will retain the present force of clerks, with Miss Florence Murray deputy auditor, and Harold Harris deputy clerk of the court, Miss Margaret Robinson, Miss Myrtle Fuller and Mrs. Derrig, copyists.

Calvin Hazelbaker was reelected to the important office of county assessor. He will retain Mrs. Fred White as his chief office deputy, which position she has held for a number of years.

Mrs. Otie L. Cone succeeds J. A. Bradbury as county treasurer and ex-officio tax collector, and will have as her chief deputy, W. N. Knox. Mr. Knox has spent years of his time as a deputy in the auditor's office and will soon become familiar with the work of the treasurer.

William Eller, for several years outside deputy under our present sheriff, Lafe Yates, will succeed to the office of his former chief. Mr. Eller has chosen Ben F. Robertson of Green creek as his office man, and John Harriman of this city as his riding deputy. Mr. Robertson is a prosperous farmer of the Green creek country and has resided in Idaho county for a number of years. Mr. Harriman is a retired farmer. The selections of Mr. Eller will no doubt meet with the approval of the people and be entirely satisfactory to himself.

There will be no change in the office of the probate judge, the present incumbent, Wilbur L. Campbell, having been reelected. This office does not enjoy the luxury of a deputy at the expense of the county, so the judge will be assisted as in the past by his father, G. B. Campbell.

Miss Margaret Sweet, county superintendent of schools, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. J. Staley, was reelected and will retain Miss Bessie Coyne, who has filled the position of clerk since Miss Sweet took the office.

On the board of county commissioners one new face will be seen during the coming term, that of Edward S. Vincent, who succeeds Robert Griffith, appointed by the governor to fill the unexpired term of J. O. Rhoades, resigned. Chairman John D. Long and Commissioner Dale Clark were reelected by large majorities, the taxpayers voting their approval of the fact that these gentlemen had given the county the same faithful service that is characteristic of them in their private affairs.

B. Auger, of the lead firm of Hattabaugh & Auger, will succeed E. M. Griffith as prosecuting attorney. Mr. Auger is a young man and has had considerable experience as public prosecutor in the east. He was defeated by Mr. Griffith two years ago.

Undertaker A. J. Maung of this city will fill the position of coroner, having been elected on the Republican ticket, succeeding Geo. W. Trenary, of Kootenai.

The office of county surveyor was not filled in the recent election.

CLARK MCGAFFEE DISCHARGED.

At a preliminary examination in the probate court Wednesday Probate Judge Wilbur L. Campbell discharged Clark McGaffee who was accused of the theft of a steer belonging to Byron & S. West. The complaint alleged the offense was committed in October but the evidence was deemed insufficient to hold the defendant in the district court. E. M. Griffith represented the state and the defendant's cause was conducted by R. M. Hattabaugh.

LIBERTY LOAN PAYMENTS.

The fourth installment on Liberty bonds is due and payable on or before the 16th of January. This is a 20 per cent payment. All fully paid coupon bonds are here and ready for delivery.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED.

Last Saturday the partnership herebefore existing between Chester Arnold and W. S. Hunter, was dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Arnold will continue the business at the tinning and plumbing shop and Mr. Hunter will devote his time to lighting and heating systems. Many of our Camas and Nez Perce prairie farmers already have Mr. Hunter's system.
