SAD FAILURE IS SEEN IN FOURTEEN POINTS

Washington, June 16.—Members of the Senate have been making a comparison of the fourteen points promulgated by President Wilson 18 months ago with the actualities of the treaty of peace made at Versailles and have found that practically every one of them has been lost sight of, though the Germans accepted them as a basis for the Armistice. Here they are with the facts in parenthesis:

1. Open covenants openly arrived at. (Not even the Senate, sharer in the treaty-making power, or the American people have been informed of the secret negotiations at Versailles.)
2. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas (subject to the continued dominion of the British fleets.)
3. The removal as far as possible of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions. (The President himself now urges a protective tariff on chemicals.)
4. Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety. (No provision has been made for this and Congress is planning proper defense.)
5. A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon a strict observance of the principle that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the government whose title is to be determined. (Witness, Santung wrested from China and given to Japan, and the interests of the populations of Ireland, India and Korea.)
6. The evacuation of all Russian territory. (8,000 additional American troops now ordered there.)
7. Belgium restored. (Fulfilled)
8. French territory freed and the invaded portions restored. (Fulfilled.)
9. A readjustment of the frontiers of Italy should be effected along clearly recognized lines of nationality. (Fiume, 63 per cent Italian, kept from Italy by the President.)
- 10-13. Autonomy of people in Austria-Hungary, the Balkans, Asia Minor and Poland. (Fulfilled.)
14. A general association of nations must be formed, under specific covenants, for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike. (Witness the peoples subjected to the British and Japanese empires.)
