TO STAMP OUT FLU Rathdrum Authorities Took Further Steps Monday.

The alarming spread of influenza throughout Idaho, caused the state board of health to order all public and private schools in the state to be closed indefinitely. A prior order closed all public meeting places, including halls, churches, lodges, theatres, etc., and a later edict also put open air meetings under the ban. The Rathdrum board of trustees, which constitutes the local board of health, adopted an emergency ordinance to safeguard the health of the community. The proclamation and ordinance follow:

GOES OVER AGAIN Success of Fourth Liberty Loan Told In Figures.

Rathdrum precinct subscribed $30,800 to the fourth Liberty loan, according to figures obtained at the Rathdrum State bank at the close of the drive at 4 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. This amount was $4800 over the quota. Success against adverse local conditions was due to the optimistic attitude and persistent efforts of the solicitors under the management of the local advisory committee.

A Coeur d'Alene report Monday states that Rathdrum exceeded its $26,000 quota by $6000.

Coeur d'Alene subscribed $198,100, or $25,600 more than the quota, according to figures compiled by City Chairman A. V. Chamberlin.

Spirit Lake doubled its quota of $30,000. Harrison with a quota of $24,000 officially reported $40,000 subscribed. Rose Lake raised $53,000 or double its quota.

While the exact figures were not obtainable Monday it was stated that Kootenai county was well over its $400,000 quota.

The nation at large oversubscribed the six billion dollar loan, it is reported, but the exact figures are not yet obtainable.

Montie B. Gwinn, state chairman of the Idaho Fourth Liberty loan campaign, reported Saturday night that the state had exceeded its quota of $14,670,000 by $1,116,000, making a total of $15,786,000.

McAdoo's order of last June will be applied on freight rates for apples in the northwest about November 1, and railroads have been advised to revise their tariffs accordingly. F. W. Robinson, chairman of the western traffic division of the United States railroad administration, notified the public utilities commission Saturday.

John W. Hart, C. A. Barton and P. H. Spangenberg have been removed from district draft board No. 2, for southern Idaho, as the result of an investigation which shows alleged irregularities in the manner of their granting three of Hart's sons and a son of Barton deferred classifications. President Wilson through Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder, to whom evidence collected by Herman H. Taylor of Sandpoint, as special investigator, was submitted, notified Governor Alexander in a letter released Friday to place new men on the board, with instructions that the cases of the sons of Hart and Barton be reconsidered, with all other cases reported by Taylor as being of improper or doubtful classification.

"Farmers, hold your wheat, and do not sell below the government price," is the advice given out to Idaho farmers by R. L. Bicknell, state food administrator. In a telegram received by Mr. Bicknell from Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, he is instructed to give the widest publicity to the fact that enlarged demands by General Pershing for material resulting from the progress on the western front of our armies and those of our allies has necessitated the temporary diversion of grain ships to his service which for the time being will curtail the wheat movement from seaboard, but which should not cause farmers to become "panicky" and sell their wheat below the government price.

Effort to Enlighten.
"Father," said the small boy, "what is an overt act?"

WOULD YOU WIN SUCCESS?

Then Play the Game of Safety First, and Play It Well.

All the world loves a winner when the contest has been fairly played. The local baseball team receives far greater enthusiasm and support when it is winning than when it is repeatedly losing. We praise the accomplishment of a difficult feat. Each one of us hails the skill and tenacity of purpose that puts over any great achievement. Things requiring the clear head, the watchful eye, the skillful hand and the bulldog grip of determination get our hearty commendation.

Said Abraham Lincoln, "I don't think much of the man who is not wiser to-day than he was yesterday." No truer words could be written of the safety first game. If you would be a winner, each day must find you wiser, keener and more alert than the day before. It is a contest in which we match our determination to have no suffering from accidents to ourselves and fellow men against little acts of thoughtlessness and carelessness that bring these results.

Nor is this game ever ended. Each new day calls for a better score. New conditions surround us, and all of our faculties, the best that is in us, are challenged to increased effort. To have our work really well done it must be safely done, and none of us wants any less than the best.

For your own sake, for the sake of the family at home, the wife and children, the mother or sister, play the game, and play it well. Play it with the interest, the spirit, the enthusiasm, that will make you win. It will take all your skill and ability to play it right.

Yesterday is gone—forget it.
Tomorrow is yet to come—plan for it.
Today is here—use it. — Common weather.

FOR THE SOLDIERS War Department Gives Advice On Christmas Gifts.

The War department authorizes relatives or friends of officers and soldiers in France to send Christmas packages, which will be of standard size and weight, one to each individual in the American Expeditionary Forces. A standard container to be used will be 9 by 4 by 3 inches, and the weight limit will be 3 pounds. Feeding "Dead Ones."

Walter Mason is a pippin, as a rhymer he is rippin'—even feeble minds can savvy his snortin', tootin' style; its the simplest sort of writing, its like fishing when they're biting, so I guess I'll feed it to the "dead ones" for a while—

There are "dead ones" loudly crowing, "dead ones" proudly blowing—"dead ones" who are shrieking their love for Uncle Sam; they refuse to see him through, there is nothing they will do to help him pound the kaiser into jam; each of these will glory, gloat, o'er the victories we are winning "over there", but he is "Piker No. 1" unless he's gone and done a lot of licking on these War Stamps that are sold most everywhere. There'll be gladness you can bet when Wilhelm's goat we get and the Yankee lads come rampsin', come rampsin' home again, but the boys will want to know how these geezers spent their dough—if their answers then are twisted, well, they're in for lots of pain; if the shekels they have hoarded while the soldier boys have boarded on slum and bull and beans in a cottle-crowded trench, they will bear what Yankees think of each yellow livered gink and you can notify your neighbors that it won't be said in French! If they're really on the square, if they want to do their share, if they're anxious for Old Glory to survive, they will grab the coin they're hiding, they'll go skooting and a sliding to the bank and buy some War Stamps—and then they'll be alive!

of Alfred Esgate also died in a military camp, the body to be sent home.

Dr. Drennan, county health officer, reports 15 cases of influenza at Post Falls and eight at Rathdrum. He states that the physicians in the county have been negligent in reporting cases.

In the Pleasant Valley school case heard in the district court, decision was rendered permitting the school to remain where it was recently moved, about two miles south of the former location. The old building was vacated and a new one provided where it is said to be more convenient for the majority of the children of the district.

The following men reported at the draft office Oct. 21 and eight of them were sent to Camp Rosecrans, Calif., for general military service: Robert Otto Rafeld, William Penman (induction papers mailed to Farmington, Utah), Orlo E. Allman, Stanley Mesbell, Charles Bazil, Earl Fleming, Dale E. Young, William J. Sheffield, Pete Sereme and A. C. Dahl.
