What Do You Think Is My Share?

BY BRUCE BARTON

He is a conscientious gentleman, who honestly wants to do right. And he came to me shaking his head.

"I want to do my full part in this United War Work Campaign," he said. "Do you think a hundred dollars is my share?"

And I told him that it would be hard for anyone but himself to decide. "There are so many different ways of looking at money," I said.

A hundred and seventy millions looks big at first glance. It is forty times what Jefferson gave for the Louisiana territory.

It's a dollar and seventy cents for every man, woman and child in the land; it's more than eight dollars and a half for every household.

"You can figure it on that basis," I told him. "On the basis of dollars and cents. Or you can figure it on the basis of boys."

"Of boys?" he questioned. "I do not understand."

It's less than fifteen cents a day for each of our soldiers and sailors," I answered. "Fifteen cents a day to give them warmth and comfort and entertainment, and lectures, and games, and the thought of mother and of God."

"Fifteen cents a day for a boy: two for a quarter a day. How many boys will you take?"

And his eyes kindled. "I think I could take ten at least," he said. He drew his check book out.

"Figure it out and tell me the price," he said. "I want you to give them the best you've got. What is it going to cost?"

"—for ten boys, for a year, at two for a quarter a day?"

So I figured it out for him: suppose you figure it out for yourself.

HUNS FIGHT ALONE FROM OVER THE COUNTY

Deserted by Austria, Kaiser Faces Disaster.

The complete surrender of Austria under an armistice, which went into effect at 3 o'clock Nov. 4, takes from Germany her last vassal ally and opens the way for the early invasion of Germany from the south. Under the terms of the armistice, Austria gives up practically all her military and naval equipment and supplies, fortresses and strategic points, demobilizes her army except such troops as are needed to maintain order, gives up all prisoners of war, and grants full use of her railroads to the entente allies for the invasion of Germany.

The allied drive in Italy, started two weeks ago, developed into an irresistible avalanche that broke the invading army to pieces and hurled its fragments swiftly back across the frontier. Up to Nov. 4 the Austro-Hungarian army, in full retreat from the Piave, hotly pursued by Italian, French, British and American troops, had lost more than 500,000 men taken prisoners, 3000 cannon and vast military stores, and many thousands of men killed and wounded. The Italians captured Trieste Nov. 3.

On Nov. 1 the Serb army reentered the city of Belgrade, their capital, and the allied army under D'Esprey was crossing the Danube to carry the war into Austria and Hungary.

All along the western front the entente forces continued to pound the German forces back and rescue additional portions of France and Belgium from the despoiling occupation of the invader. The stronghold of Valenciennes fell to the Canadians and English Nov. 2, and at the same time the American army under Pershing advancing northward from St. Mihiel along the Meuse and the east side of the forest of Argonne finished the difficult task of breaking
