County Supt R. C. Egbers announces that schools of the county may reopen after this week at the discretion of the boards, the influenza ban being lifted. This means that schools can legally open next Monday if it is desired.

Two Prizetaker potatoes were brought in last week by Oscar Tautenhahn who raised them without irrigation on his place a few miles west of town. Together they weighed 7½ pounds. The larger tipped the scales at 4½ pounds. They may be seen at The Tribune office.

Schools to Open December 2.

At a meeting of the board of education held last Tuesday evening it was decided to re-open the schools Monday, Dec. 2nd. Under tentative plans for making up the time lost, outlined by Supt. Swenson, there will be an actual loss of only eight teaching days. There will be no vacation during the holidays except Christmas day and New Year's day. The usual teachers' institute of one week will be eliminated this year, and the school year may be lengthened in the spring.

Owing to the fact that no vacation will be had during Christmas, the board felt that the teachers should be permitted to spend Thanksgiving at home, even tho the epidemic situation might warrant the opening of school next Monday. Also, it was feared that many parents would not send their children until after Thanksgiving,—especially those from outside the district of whom there are many.

It is urged very emphatically that pupils begin promptly with the re-opening of school, and that they be in regular attendance the entire school year. Harder work than under usual conditions must naturally be exacted if the year's work is to be satisfactorily finished.

Raw Eggs Keep Longer Than Boiled.

Raw eggs keep good much longer than cooked eggs, even when these are hard boiled. This was proved by Dr. Leon Lindet, a member of the Paris Conseil d'Hygiene, after many French soldiers had reported that the hard boiled eggs they received from home had gone bad, while the raw eggs remained edible for weeks.

Dr. Lindet explains this fact by saying that the boiling makes the inner membrane pervious to gases, liquids and microbes, and the white of the egg becomes an agglomeration of coagulated albumen and particles of a serum that is an ideal medium in which microbes thrive.
