THE WAR IS OVER

But by No Means Are We On the Royal Road to Riches

Do not think that because the war is over prices on merchandise will get cheaper, at least for a long time to come. Devastated Europe must be fed and clothed; the textile industries of France, Belgium and the Central Empires are well shot to pieces. Europe must buy goods at once in this country. There is a tremendous demand for goods of every kind and the scarcity will, of course, hold the price up for a long time to come. We want to assure our friends and customers that we shall follow the markets very closely, conservatism will govern our buying—we shall keep our stocks well under control and will always sell our goods as close as they can be sold. Our prices will always be right.

That New Plush Coat

In these times we are all thinking pretty seriously about the wearing qualities of our purchases. A second year in one of our Plush Coats will afford you just as much comfort as the first.

THE NEW PLUSH COATS

are handsome—individual in appearance and clever in finish.

They are man tailored—absolutely correct in cut and design. They are brimful of style, with the little touches which give each individuality.

And the service they give! THEY WEAR—and that is the big test of your coat. Not alone how handsome—but how serviceable.

On this basis we ask your earnest consideration of our coat values. You'll enjoy looking thru the assortment.

Increase Sugar Allowance.

During the month of December, commencing December 1, sugar may be sold for household purposes in Idaho on the basis of four pounds per capita, and effective December 1 public eating places will be allotted sugar for that month on the basis of four pounds for every 90 meals served. This announcement was made Saturday at the office of Food Administrator Bicknell.

Norway lost during the war 831 vessels, aggregating close to one and a quarter million tons, according to official statistics. In addition, 33 vessels of approximately 69,000 tons were damaged by German submarines. One thousand one hundred and twenty lives were lost in these disasters.

Smut In Wheat.

Smut conditions are worse in northern parts of Idaho than in any state in the northwest, according to George L. Zundel of the government department of agriculture, who is in Boise in conference with L. W. Fluharty, director of the university extension department, with reference to smut control.

Mr. Zundel says that the conditions are baffling, since it is chiefly thru soil infection. In most places smut conditions are prevented through a treatment of formaldehyde or blue-stone, but where the soil is infected no remedy has yet been found, although many experiments are being tried. The infection is brought by the wind, Mr. Zundel thinks.

In one ranch in Lewis county he found 97 per cent of the wheat infected with smut, and he thinks that

Nez Perce and Grangeville sections will run from 10 to 15 per cent.

He and Mr. Fluharty have plans for combating the infection, but these are not yet ready to be given out, Mr. Zundel said.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. Forgotten.

When we sent our husky fighting men across the briny sea we sent them forth to stick it out until the world was free; We squirted serums into them and we loaded them with guns, then they hiked away to hunt Old Bill and kill off all his sons: They didn't stop to chew the rag, they didn't even pause until they caught the Vandal Beast and clipped off all his claws. We told our Boys we'd back them up and never would forget our snortin' tootin' soldier men beyond the ocean wet; we told them we would stay at home and each would do his bit and while they needed grub or guns not one of us would quit; we told them we would furnish them whatever they should need and never would our patriotism dry up and go to seed; we told them we would gladly buy all the War Stamps

One would sell while they were rounding Heines up and herding them to hell—Oh, we promised all our soldier lads that we would do our part, we hoped to die and swore an oath and bravely crossed our heart! Then the Yankees sailed away and landed soon in France and we began to hear that they were making Hindy dance. It filled our souls with joyous mirth and made us shout with glee—the way they brought the brutes to earth and set poor Belgium free. We clapped our hands and pawed the air and made a lot of noise; we told the world: "Just watch 'em go! By ding them's Yankee Boys!" You bet we crowed and crowed a lot because our lads were true and did the job up slick and clean the way they said they'd do—but how about us folks at home? Ain't there something we've forgotten—don't you think our record on War Stamps, to say the least, is rotter? It is up to us to buy those Stamps and buy them mighty quick and show our boys that just like them us folks at home will stick!
