SPOKANE seems to consider the lives of her people less important than the uninterrupted flow of business. Theaters, churches, and public gatherings are allowed to continue almost without restriction while the influenza death rate mounts to seventy-five a week. Under the present lax, half-way methods of control, Spokane is doing much to keep the epidemic alive in all the surrounding country.

APPEALS still come asking Americans of means to "adopt" war-wrecked towns in France and rebuild them. It would seem the proper thing would be to make the Huns of Germany provide the money and labor for this work of reconstruction. They did the looting and caused the destruction.

THE secretary of war says the supply of explosives left over from the war is so great that he is seriously embarrassed to find room to store them. Why not ship them out west to clear logged off lands?

IDAHO'S direct primary law is again up for amendment or repeal by the fifteenth legislature, according to the prognostications emanating from the state capital.

MRS. IDA BROCK.

Mrs. Ida Brock, age 33 years, wife of Earl E. Brock, died at her home in Rathdrum about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 15, after a long illness and physical disability that had kept her an invalid for several years. The funeral was held from the undertaking rooms Tuesday afternoon, with services at the cemetery. Rev. J. G. Carrick officiated. Friends attending included a delegation of the Carmen's union from Spirit Lake, of which the bereaved husband is a member. Pall bearers were chosen from the Modern Woodmen and Carmen's union.

The deceased was formerly Miss Ida Ann Waddell. She was born in Howell county, Mo., June 11, 1885, and came to Rathdrum with her parents when a child. She was married Sept. 23, 1905, to Mr. Brock, and leaves besides her husband, four children: Marion Della, age 12; Florence Irene, 10; Mildred Olive, 9, and Gerald Elroy, 7; her mother, Mrs. G. W. Flemming, also, four brothers: Henry, William, Claud and Zollie Waddell; one sister, Mrs. Elmer Hite, and a number of other relatives residing in this locality.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincerest thanks to the kind friends who gave assistance during the illness and funeral of our wife and mother, also to the lodges and friends for the beautiful florals.

—Earl Brock and children.
