Mrs. Robert B. Stocker and Mrs. Joseph Z. Moore will next entertain the Altar society of the Catholic church at the Stocker home. The regular meetings take place on the first Thursday of each calendar month. The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Miller, Mrs. John McArthur being the hostess.

Oscar F. Lund is making a visit to the home of his mother, Mrs. James DeAtley, at Gibbonsville. He arrived from Anaconda on Monday from a recent honorable discharge from army service at Camp Lewis. As soon as his visit is over he expects to return to Anaconda where he has employment that pays well.

Mrs. Carrie McCarroll, who spent the winter at a business college at Salt Lake, is making a visit of two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Hillard Griebler, at the Cobalt camp, expecting a little later to become interested in the restaurant business again in Salmon. In this connection Mrs. Carroll, with Mrs. Cummings, made a married success.

George Hanson, former landlord of the Anderson hotel, now a rancher up the Lemhi valley, was in Salmon this week until this morning, when he returned to the ranch. For two weeks Mr. Hanson had been visiting William Anderson in Salt Lake, who is making a marked success of his hotel and other business enterprises in the city of the saints.

C. E. Brous, Salmon contractor and builder, has received the news of the death March 6 of his elder brother, George F. Brous of Harrisonville, Mo., at the advanced age of 74 years. The deceased was long engaged in the profession of teaching. In his family there were nine children while in that of his father there were 15 children, eight sons and seven daughters.

Mrs. W. H. Shoup and her son Richard arrived home from California on Monday. The husband and father, who had been called to Pocatello on business before the United States district court as a witness, met them on the train. Richard is himself again, looking the picture of health since his hospital illness that called his parents to California two months ago. He wore the handsome uniform of the infantry, having been in training camp at San Diego.

WANTED TO BUY One hundred head of farm horses, mares or geldings and all colors, for which I will pay fair prices. See me at once. GEORGE W. OLIVER, Salmon.

YOUR EYES ARE TOO PRECIOUS TO BE CARELESS WITH OR TO NEGLECT. HAVE THEM PROPERLY ATTENDED BY A SPECIALIST, DR. H. H. SCARBOROUGH, WHO WILL BE AT THE SHENON HOTEL, SATURDAY AND MONDAY, MARCH 22-24. HIS NEW METHODS HAVE PROVEN SATISFACTORY FOR HEADACHES, DIZZINESS, AND NERVE DERANGEMENTS.

Laundry Is Purchased H. L. Smith has become the owner of the Shenon laundry equipment, in disuse for a number of years but still in good condition. Mr. Smith established the Salmon bakery about a year ago. After making it a good business he recently sold it. His new enterprise commends itself to his energy and first class business ability. Salmon would seem to need a modern laundry. As soon as suitable quarters can be secured Mr. Smith will be prepared to install the appliances he has secured, with others if needed, to fill this long felt want and necessity for the community.

Mrs. P. E. Hines gave an enjoyable 500 party Saturday evening, carrying out the St. Patrick's day idea in the decorations. Mrs. William Osborn won the first prize, a book entitled "Peg O' My Heart," while Dr. J. M. Ashley won the booby prize, a St. Patrick green cap. Delicious and attractive refreshments were served at midnight.

James H. Phillips and wife have left Salmon to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Fall, at Tinton, state of Washington. These are among the long-time residents of Lemhi county, the husband having been among the pioneer saw-mill men of the lower Salmon river. Since the death of their daughter here, Mrs. Agnes Van Stratt, wife of Chris Van Stratt, the venerable couple have been broken in health. It is hoped that the change will work out better for them. They carry away with them the best wishes of the community where all wish them health and happiness and long life as they are held in kind remembrance.

J. A. Turnblade, partner with Turnblade & Davis in the lease of the Climax mine, was in Salmon this week for the attention of a surgeon for an injury to his eyes sustained by flying particles of earth. His eye trouble was soon overcome. Turnblade & Davis have successfully operated the property with a force of four to six men, yielding $10 to $15 per ton in gold as the ore is run. It is their intention to increase forces, which profits amply justify. The mine is completely equipped. Mr. Turnblade says that while the snow is much lower than usual on the mountains the depths on the heights are only half what they have been in past winters.
