Number 11.

MANY HOMESEEKERS

Are Arriving From the East on all of the Spokane Trains.

400 HAVE COME LATELY

Thousands of People are Coming in Weekly Large Numbers go
Through to the Coast.

Seventy-five homeseekers, comprising thirteen families, arrived in Lewiston yesterday over the Northern Pacific. One contingent came from West Virginia in a special car. The homeseekers were directed here by Thomas Kirby, of Peck, who will accompany them to the reservation country tomorrow. Mr. Kirby was sent out as an immigration agent to represent the Clearwater country and during his brief absence he succeeded in working through four sections of the Northern Pacific and Burlington west-bound immigration trains. He states that during the present week over 300 homeseekers will come into the Clearwater and Potlatch countries, due to the representations of the agents now in the field. Many of the homeseekers are seeking incidental investments to the purchase of lands and have sums of money ranging from $1,500 to $15,000. Among yesterday's arrivals was H. A. Bates, of Ashville, Missouri. He will make a personal investigation of the interior country and if conditions are found to be satisfactory, his report will result in fifteen or twenty families moving here—Saturday's Tribune.

Of the 1350 excursionists who reached this city Friday from the east about 400 homeseekers stopped off in Spokane, the largest number so far this year. Of this number about 125 deposited tickets, which is an indication of their intention to go on to the coast.

Among the excursionists was G. A. Steinberg of Lewistown, Mont., who has come to the city to look for a grist mill location.

Another site hunter was A. E. Foss of Honwood, Wis., who wants to start a small factory. H. A. Mastin of Detroit, Mich., stopped here to choose a location for a brewery. E. G. Cook was a fourth factory man, hailing from New York city, and intends establishing a stained glass plant in the west. He was induced to prospect in Spokane.

Other homeseekers with money looking for investments or a home were D. R. Jones of Evansville, Wis., who wants to invest $15,000 in sheep or cattle; J. L. Flynn of Clear Lake, S. D., who seeks four sections for a colony from his state; H. A. Bates of Ashville, Mo., who is seeking a location for 30 Missouri farmers and their families; James L. Flynn of Togstad, S. D., also looking for a sheep or cattle ranch; N. Steichen of Boyd, Wis., who wants timber land; John P. Jones and Dan Gibbon of Rewey, Wis., looking for tracts of land.—Review.

Crisis in Russia

The political situation in Russia is every day growing more serious. The working class to an enormous extent has joined the students in their revolutionary move and the Russian police are making thousands of arrests, while the military is daily having encounters with the refractory populace. In these scourgings there are always some casualties but the exact number is kept secret. Plots against the czar's life are constantly being discovered and it is said he is very much worried over his prospect of remaining among the living. The latest plot discovered is that in which the son of a famous general was to have made away with his ruler. Much trouble and bloodshed is expected before the political atmosphere resumes its normal temperature.

Coal in Cassia County

Good coal has been found in Cassia county, and the vein is being opened. It is owned by United States Marshal Ramsey and others, and is located near Oakley. The vein is from 4 to 6 feet in width. The coal seems to be first-class, burning readily and giving forth good heat.

J. E. Nelson, the genial representative of the Lewiston Mercantile Co., was looking after the interests of his firm among our merchants yesterday.

What's the matter with Cottonwood's mail service? It's all right! Every day without fail our mail comes in. No other town on the prairie can say the same.

Wm. Kincaid, of Ferdinand, was transacting business here Wednesday, and like all men who have the advancement of home at heart, added his name to our list.

Henry Bosse, of Keuterville, was in the city Wednesday. Mr. Bosse is one of that noble class of men who believe in promptly paying their subscription to the home paper.

Feed Rustemeyer last Monday built a chimney for our enterprising brewery man, Joe Schober. The chimney was for a new bath house which Mr. Schober has lately erected.

J. S. Woodring and "Buck" Bates have completed the school house in district No. 14, known as the Bruner district. It is a fine building and would be a credit to a much more populous district.

The slide on the Clearwater extension continues to delay the mails for all prairie towns except Cottonwood. If you want to get your mail from everywhere every day have it come to Cottonwood.

Arthur Woodring went up on the mountain to get the Keuterville bear last Monday, but we are informed that the bear heard of Arthur's coming and left the country. Arthur saw where brain had been, just the same.

Wes. Fairburn, of Forest, was in the city on business Monday. Wes. just received a dispatch from his brother Dave, who left Grangeville about two weeks ago for Everett, Wash., stating that while working in a stamp mill at that place Dave accidentally had his right arm and leg broken.

With the solemnity and impressive ceremony usually attendant on such occasions the order of the Buffalo was organized here last Monday evening. This order has spread over the United States faster than any other known and its membership is increasing at a rate truly wonderful.

Frank Simon returned Monday from Lewiston where he had been attending to the shipment of 125 head of cattle belonging to Baker Hall. The cattle were fattened here by Mr. Hall and were driven to Lewiston for shipment last week.

Andrew Moore, the representative of this county and author of the Salmon river road bill, was given a royal welcome upon returning to his home at White Bird. Over 400 people from all parts of the Salmon were present and the reception will long be remembered by the participants.

Clay Robbins returned from the Elk City and Dixie country Tuesday. He reports everything lively in that section of the country. A new boiler is now on the way for a stamp mill on the Dixie Queen besides numerous other improvements. Clay also brings the news of the destruction by fire of the mill at Elk City.

J. B. Sloan reports a discovery of oil on the ranch of James Witt between here and Grangeville. Mr. Witt has known for several years that there was oil on his farm but paid no attention to it until the oil excitement began near Lewiston. The oil comes to the surface of the water of several springs on Mr. Witt's ranch and when it is taken off more will appear again in a short time. Mr. Sloan will test the discovery thoroughly.

Prof. A. A. Lyden, of Grangeville, was in the city Tuesday. We understand Prof. Lyden has made application for the principalship of our public schools and we wish him success in his endeavor. He is eminently qualified to fill the position, as most of our people know, he having taken Mrs. Craig's place for a brief period last fall. The professor has intentions of opening an evening business college here next fall, and if he does it will fill a long felt want in this community.

B. F. Shambrook, representing the soap department of the Gudahy Packing Co., was circulating among our merchants yesterday. Mr. Shambrook came up by way of Riparian and says that the O. R. & N. company has all its grading machinery at that place preparatory to begin construction work on its line to Lewiston after the railroad truce expires on April 1st. This company is also ready to begin grading down the Grand Ronde and ultimately connect with its Snake branch at Lewiston.

Death of F. E. Sherwin.

F. E. Sherwin died at his home in Grangeville last Saturday morning at 3 o'clock after a very short illness, supposed to be lagrippe. Mr. Sherwin was the manager of Vollmer & Scott's store at Grangeville and was known and esteemed by nearly every inhabitant of the prairie. The funeral took place Sunday under the auspices of the W. of W. and was the best attended of any in the history of Camas Prairie. The deceased leaves a wife and two children to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Asotin, March 19.—A very pretty wedding occurred Sunday, March 17, at high noon, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Simpson, at Grand Junction, four miles west of here, Miss Myrtle Pitt, daughter of the Rev. William Pitt, and George McPherson, of Cottonwood, Idaho, being united by Rev. C. E. Gibson of Moscow. The bride was attired in a pretty gown of steel gray, with pink silk trimmings.—Review.

The following news item, clipped from the Galesville, [Michigan] Herald-Advertiser, will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. Moughmer in this section: On Monday, March 4th, at 4 p. m., at the home of H. S. Richardson, of Galesville, occurred a very pretty, quiet, double wedding, in which Mr. Will Moughmer, of Cottonwood, Idaho, and Miss Lenora Richardson, of Sparta, and Mr. Welcome W. Hubbell, of Sparta, and Miss Annie Moughmer, of Galesville, were duly united in marriage by Rev. Harris, of Galesville.
