That the American soldier is a bear with the women in any country you may place him, is a statement written back by Jim Howe, the former editor of The Index who is now Associated Press correspondent in France. Mr. Howe, writing from Coblenz, Germany, says that the American doughboys are crazy about the fat German girls and that the German girls are quite crazy themselves. He says that in spite of the cold weather the parks are crowded in the evening with eager couples and that bench seats are at a premium. He declares that while taking a stroll through a public park the other night he counted scores of American doughboys who were kissing and hugging German lassies. Let's see, are there any Emmett boys at Coblenz?

Complimenting Mrs. Sarah Blackler, who leaves this week to take a position as teacher near Gross, the K. K. Klub gave a most delightful party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Newcomer. The husbands of the Klub, and Miss June De-Clark and Miss May Klepper were the outside guests. A varied program of cards, interspersed with mirth and music, and a pleasing luncheon, filled the evening hours. In the temporary removal of Mrs. Blackler from Emmett, her many friends feel a keen regret, and will welcome her return next fall. Mrs. Blackler's activities cover a broad field. She has been one of Emmett's most loved teachers during the past 10 years; a devoted worker in church activities, including choir, Sunday school and Christian Endeavor; and in musical circles, her interest and effort is unlimited. In these and other phases of Emmett's social life, Mrs. Blackler will be greatly missed and the best wishes of the entire community attend her during her absence.

What must be the state of mind of a father who names his son Ananias, even if he spells it "Annanaias"? The story is told that Mr. Roosevelt once showed a friend a gravestone in a churchyard at Oyster Bay which bore this inscription: "Here Lies Ye Body of Annanaias Doughty, who died in 1751." "The first member of the Ananias Club," observed the friend, "but doesn't it strike you that the 'Here Lies' is superfluous?"

I have represented the Northwestern Mutual Fire Association for 13 years and during that time the Association has saved its policy holders from 25 per cent to 40 per cent, and at its convention held January 22 and 23, 1919, the rate of saving was raised 5 per cent. Remember this Association writes at the regular old line rate and after paying all losses and expenses it saves you from 30 to 45 per cent owing to the class of business. W. F. Sinclair, Agent.

Mrs. J. L. Reed will leave on Wednesday for Portland and other coast towns to visit relatives for a few months until she regains her strength after the flu. Mrs. Reed was made sad on the eve of her departure, by the news of the death of her nephew, Ralph Sawyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sawyer of Elkton, Ore. Mr. Sawyer, Jr., was recently married and Mrs. Reed had looked forward to a pleasant visit with him and his young wife, but instead will miss his face in the family circle.

IT PAYS TO READ ADVERTISEMENTS

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements—pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

It pays you in money saved. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

It pays you in satisfaction. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." You have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

It pays you in time saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where you want to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't you want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.
