

PIONEERS IN HAPPY REUNION

(Continued from Page 1) an ever resourceful man, holds the services, himself acting as choir, organist, preacher and all. What a field for noble honest work! Then we have the pioneer merchant, the pioneer doctor, the pioneer lawyer, and by this time the mining camps begin to take on the ways and airs of the older settled regions. By this time the pioneer's work is done.

Interspersed throughout the program were musical numbers by the Alfalfa Quartet; trio, C. L. Gamage, banjo, W. C. Tucker, Guitar, Will Womack, violin, with Harry Shropshire as piano accompanist; trio, Mrs. Ruth Hunt, Gamage and Tucker. Old-time days and memories were brought back by the appearance of Harry Shropshire as a member of the Alfalfa Quartet, an organization he was a member of for upwards of fifteen years, and his yodeling made a great hit, as it did in the olden days.

It is estimated there were 150 of the pioneers present. The registration book showed that 39 of the number were born in Idaho and most of them in the Emmett valley. To three of the oldest women was tendered an ovation, when, after the program, they were seated in rocking chairs just outside the pavilion. They were Grandma Wilson, aged 90 years, mother of Marion and Conda Wilson, who came here in 1874; Grandma Kesgard, aged 86 years, mother of James and Chris Kesgard, who came here in 1868; and Mrs. John C. Bane, aged 79 years, who came in the '70s. Another old couple was William Fuller and wife, who came in 1864. Samuel Ireton, now living in Boise, aged 89 years, was also present, looking as vigorous and almost as young as his son Charles Ireton.

The registration book contained the following names with the year each came to Idaho:

- 1863—John B. Johnson. 1864—W. L. Fuller, Douglas Knox, Robert Mobley, L. B. Giles. 1865—Boise G. Riggs (born in Idaho.) 1866—C. C. Havird, G. A. As house cleaning time is to the average man, so is wash day to the average woman. With its hard, grinding drudgery, summer and winter, wash day is a bugaboo in practically every household.

Why not get rid of it by letting Mack, the Irish Washwoman, take over the burden? It will be money saved in hard cash, when all the incidentals are taken into account, besides preserving the wife's health, conserving her strength and avoiding sickness and doctor's bills.

The modern methods of laundrying which this laundry long ago adopted and keeps adding to makes for the utmost cleanliness and absolutely no damage to the daintiest fabrics.

Think over these things and try us a month.

IN SOCIETY

Interesting affairs, circling around this week's social program of hospitality, was climaxed with the big reunion held at the R. B. Shaw home east of town Sunday. Visitors for the day numbered 56, including guests from Glens Ferry, Nampa, Caldwell, and Spokane. It was regarded as a triumph by hosts and visitors as they gathered to renew family associations and friendships. The scrambled picnic lunch featured chicken, and was served from numerous tables throughout the rooms and porches, and was considered a delight to everyone present.

Miss Oliva Heriford was hostess at a delightful little dinner party Wednesday evening, at the family home on North Commercial avenue. The dinner complimented Miss Beulah Keithly of Midvale, who was a house guest of her cousin Miss Alta Stewart. Covers were laid for 10 at the flower decked table. The evening was spent in music and dancing.

The T. N. T. Club were guests Friday evening of Miss Ted Landers. The evening hours were gaily spent with a theatre party, music and a dainty collation.

Thursday evening of last week Misses Elva Ballewex and Alta Stewart entertained at the home of Mrs. Joel Brown. The occasion was a 6 o'clock dinner party with covers laid for eight of their intimate girl friends. A theatre party was followed by a slumberless slumber party.

About fifty of the Baptist young people gathered on Monday evening at the Lathrop home for their monthly social event. Music and outdoor games followed the brief business session. Delicious refreshments were served and all had a good time.

Miss Grace Cook was the honor guest at a shower given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Mack Crouch at her home on East Main street, where eight former high school friends of Miss Cook's were invited to spend the afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent in hemming tea towels for the bride-to-be, and in recalling old times and experiences since high school days. The class colors, brown and gold, were carried out in the decorations of the rooms and in the cooling refreshments that were served. Miss Cook is to be married September 4 at the Episcopal church to Mr. Albert Eriney of New Meadows.

A lawn party was one of the joys and pleasures given about 20 of the young maids and boys Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Emma Louise Durham, complimenting Miss Jessie Little, who recently returned from a summer vacation spent on the coast. Games were played throughout the early evening hours on the lawn, with prizes for many of the novel and exciting stunts. Later, cards were enjoyed and at the close of the evening refreshments were served.

A miscellaneous shower given for Miss Genevieve Gordon at Letha was enjoyed by many of her friends Tuesday evening. Miss Gordon is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gordon and will become the bride of Fred Hale on September 6. Miss Flora Carter and Mrs. Marvin Hutton were guests from Emmett.

Miss Laura Carpenter was honor guest of a jolly surprise party Monday evening at her home west of town when about 25 of her friends joined in giving her a handkerchief shower and to bid her goodbye for the year. Miss Carpenter leaves Saturday for Salt Lake, where she will stay with an aunt and attend school. She has many Emmett friends and her departure is marked by a number of delightful informal goodbye parties and dinners given by the younger set.

Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gamage, a gay little party was given, honoring Mr. L. O. Barry, a former resident and teacher of Emmett, now of San Diego, Calif., who is in Emmett visiting and renewing old friendships. On this occasion about thirty school friends, with the original Alfalfa quartet, composed of L. O. Barry, Charles Gamage, Harry Shropshire and Will Womack were present. Visiting and music formed the evening's program and at a late hour a feed was served.

Mrs. A. Bird, Mrs. Haag, Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Hoops, four members of the foreign missionary society were hostesses Friday afternoon at a silver tea. Each tea given by the members adds a link to the chain and adds up the dollars for foreign work done by this society. The afternoon was spent in quilting and business.

HAW CREEK

G. Freeman and family and mother Lucas visited Sunday at the Dick Cruise home in East Emmett.

E. Tennyson and family visited all last week with relatives in Boise.

Mrs. Ed Francis and her mother, Mrs. Porter of Emmett visited Tuesday evening with Mrs. E. Tennyson. Jack Smith and family of Parma visited at G. Freeman's Wednesday.

Mrs. Tennyson and children spent Wednesday evening at the Harvey Tracy home in Emmett. Mrs. Tracy's sister, Mrs. Will Yergenson, who was a resident of Haw creek for several years, leaves for her home in California Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mat Bilbrey visited Sunday evening at the Ed Francis home in Emmett.

Ira White and family visited Sunday at the Bill White home east of Emmett.

Mr. and Mrs. Nephi Yergenson attended the Yergenson-Chapin sale on Wednesday, south of Emmett. The day proved to be a family reunion for the Yergensons, as Mrs. Will is visiting here from California. Those of the family who attended were Mrs. Yergenson and son Parley of Sweet, Mrs. Campbell of Montour, Mr. and Mrs. Alma Yergenson, east of town, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hall of East Emmett, Mr. and Mrs. Nephi and Mrs. Will Yergenson.

Esmond Kroush and his sister, Miss Allene left for Twin Falls Monday to visit their sister, Mrs. F. W. Fowler. Miss Kroush will attend school in Twin Falls this year.

Mrs. G. G. Ellis gave a piano recital with her pupils last Thursday afternoon at the Chas. Kester home. Mrs. Ellis proves to be a very efficient teacher and the recital was enjoyed very much by all who were fortunate enough to hear it.
