Cured at a Cost of 25 Cents
"Eight years ago when we first moved to Mattoon, I was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation," writes Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill. "I had frequent headaches and dizzy spells, and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on my stomach and chest all the time. I felt miserable. Every morsel of food distressed me. I could not rest at night and felt tired and worn out all the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets cured me and I have since felt like a different person."

Southwick Items

Harvey Faris is home from camp to stay. He arrived Thursday.

Irvin Helton and Edwin Wetmore were home on furloughs and spent a week with their friends. Edwin returned to Mare Island Monday and Irvin left Thursday for Camp Kearney.

Marion McClelland writes that his honorable discharge has been issued, but that he will not be home for a week or two on account of the "red tape" but will certainly "burn the winds" toward home when he gets started.

Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin spent Saturday visiting some of their friends.

Mrs. Bowen is still very sick.

The Christian Endeavor held a business meeting at the Benjamin home Friday evening. A good time was enjoyed after business was attended to.

We hear that John Lettenmaier's sheep shed was blown over by one of the last hard wind storms that visited the Potlatch ridge.

Mr. Southwick to Thelma—"Thelma, you would not go to Heaven without Willie, would you?"
Thelma—"No, for it would not be Heaven without him."

The Misses Fern Graham and Lillian Hoppe are expected home from Moscow soon.

Chester McIver and family are well again and able to attend to business.

H. A. Russell made a business trip to Kendrick Saturday.

Mrs. Ben McCoy has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Lock, for a day or two.

The other night Mrs. McClelland was shocked to see her husband executing something that very much resembled a dance, so she asked him what on earth was the matter with him. Mr. McClelland answered her as well as he could between jigs. "I am trying to follow the directions on this new bottle of medicine," said he, "I am told to take it two nights running and skip the third, so now I am trying to skip."

GOOD ROADS

PROPER DRAINAGE FOR ROAD

Side Ditches Should Be Ample Large, With Sufficient Fall to Carry Off Water Rapidly.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The only reason for crowning a road surface is to enable it to shed water, and unless effective means are provided for disposing of the water after it is drained off the surface crowning will be of very little, if any, advantage. The side ditches should be ample large and should have sufficient fall to carry the water away as rapidly as it enters them, and they should have outlets at all convenient points. Cross drains or culverts should be constructed wherever it is desirable to transfer drainage water across the road, and they should usually be provided with end or wing walls for protecting the slopes of the embankment. When the material composing the roadbed is likely to be springy, a system of longitudinal underdrainage may be found necessary to secure proper drainage. In constructing a road, of any type whatever, it should be constantly borne in mind that adequate and continually effective drainage is absolutely necessary if the road is to be maintained in good condition.

SAGEBRUSH USED FOR ROADS

Despised Weed Is Now Declared to Be Best Building Material in Western States.

Nobody loves the sagebrush, yet somebody is always trying to uplift it. This is a difficult task since its antecedents are so bad. Nevada, complained a long time because she was called the "Sagebrush state," hunters hated the plant because of the bitter flavor it imparted to the grouse; prospectors, settlers, stockmen despised it because it encumbered the earth. It was fit only for rattlesnakes to coil in and strike or for coyotes to blend their tawny skins into vanishment.

Not long ago an Oregon man cried, "Eureka!" He said that sagebrush was the best road-building material in the West, says New York Sun. Now Idaho claims in the despised weed a source of great wealth and the solution of the problem of potash shortage: "The average acre produces three tons of sagebrush at a cost of $25. The sagebrush burned in the kiln gives from 25 to 30 per cent potash. The supply is inexhaustible."

The Idaho poet, who called for a festival "to lift the curse from the plant we know so well and should love," may now consider himself even with those who jeered and refused to foregather with him.

Artistic Shop Signs

Between Cuzco and Machu Picchu, in Peru, are quaint signs indicating what is sold in the Indian huts. A small bunch of wheat on the end of a pole indicates chicha—a native corn beer—for sale within. A green wreath means bread for sale, while a piece of white cloth indicates aguardiente, a powerful white rum.

WINTER FEED FOR CATTLE

Few Combinations More Economical Than Ration of Silage and Cottonseed Oil.

There are few combinations of feed which are more economical than a ration of silage and cottonseed meal for wintering stocker cattle. One pound of cottonseed meal a day combined with what silage stocker steers will eat will cause them to gain slightly.
