

BAN REMOVED ON FEEDING WHEAT TO LIVESTOCK

ALL RESTRICTIONS CANCELLED, DECLARES FOOD ADMINISTRATOR FOR COUNTY.

LITTLE SUBSTITUTE REQUIRED

Flour Now Made Almost Wholly From Wheat—Can Buy and Sell for Feeding Purposes.

All restrictions on feeding of wheat to livestock and the selling of wheat for feeding purposes have been removed, announces Victor Peterson, food administrator for Idaho county.

Feeding of wheat to livestock has been under the ban practically since the U. S. food administration was created, for it was felt by the government that all wheat produced in the United States should be used to feed the American people, the American and allied soldiers and the civilian populations of the allied nations.

Not only was the feeding of wheat to livestock forbidden, but the use of substitutes with wheat flour was required for human consumption. At one time a 50-50 rule was in force, requiring use of an equal part of substitutes with wheat flour.

Regulations prohibiting feeding of wheat to livestock were modified when the 1918 wheat crop became available. Wheat of certain grades was permitted to be fed, and where the haul to market was long, growers were allowed to feed wheat to stock.

Cancellation of the order against feeding of wheat to livestock will be pleasing to Camas Prairie farmers, many of whom have been obliged to feed to their stock grain the price of which was considerably higher than that fixed for wheat, while they had plenty of wheat to spare.

Notification to be given to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and mercantile marines of the allied and associated powers, all questions of neutrality being waived.

21. All naval and mercantile marine prisoners of war of the allied and associated powers in German hands to be returned without reciprocity.

All other surface warships (including river craft) are to be concentrated in German naval bases to be designated by the allies and the United States of America and are to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allies and the United States of America. All vessels of the auxiliary fleet (trawlers, motor vessels, etc.) are to be disarmed.

24. The allies and the United States of America shall have the right to sweep up all mine fields and obstructions laid by Germany outside German territorial waters, and the positions of these are to be indicated.

25. Freedom of access to and from the Baltic to be given to the naval and mercantile marines of the allied and associated powers. To secure this the allies and the United States of America shall be empowered to occupy all German forts, fortifications, batteries and defense works of all kinds in all the entrances from the Cattegat into the Baltic, and to sweep up all mines and obstructions within and without German territorial waters without any question of neutrality being raised, and the positions of all such mines and obstructions are to be indicated.

26. The existing blockade conditions set up by the allies and associated powers are to remain unchanged and all German merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture.

27. All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and immobilized in German bases to be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

28. In evacuating the Belgian coasts and ports Germany shall abandon all merchant ships, tugs, lighters, cranes and all other harbor materials, all materials for inland navigation, all aircraft and all materials and stocks, all arms, armaments, and all stores and apparatus of all kinds.

Quit Black Sea Ports.

29. All Black sea ports are to be evacuated by Germany; all Russian war vessels of all descriptions seized by Germany in the Black sea are to be handed over to the allies and the United States of America; all neutral vessels seized are to be released; all warlike and other materials of all kinds seized in those ports are to be returned and German materials as specified in clause 28 are to be abandoned.

30. All merchant vessels in German hands belonging to the allied and associated powers are to be restored in ports to be specified by the allies and the United States of America without reciprocity.

31. No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or restoration.

32. The German government will notify the neutral governments of the world and particularly the governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, that all restrictions placed on the trading of their vessels with the allied and associated countries, whether by the German government or by private German interests, and whether in return for specific concessions such as the export of shipbuilding materials or not are immediately canceled.

33. No transfers of German merchant shipping of any description to any neutral flag are to take place after signature of the armistice.

VI. Duration of armistice. 34. The duration of the armistice is to be thirty days, with option to extend. During this period on failure of execution of any of the above clauses, the armistice may be denounced by one of contracting parties on forty-eight hours' previous notice.
