

Local Happenings Paragraphed

Five homestead proofs were made at the land office Monday. "And we'll remember you," is the song some of the people will sing to certain members of the legislature. Judge Standrod will begin his spring term of court at Paris, Bear Lake, in February. A bill is pending in the legislature to abolish the office of state treasurer. The postoffice at Sheridan, Fremont county, has been abolished and the mail will go to Kilgore. Some members of the state senate have put themselves in lasting print by their action and votes on the printing bill. Fremont county commissioners have decided to build an elegant court house at St. Anthony. E. A. Barrell, formerly of Blackfoot, is clerking for Jesse Brandon at St. Anthony. The attendance at the Methodist Sunday school hang around the 100 point every Sunday. Mr. C. W. Berryman and Mr. and Mrs. Jule Bassett visited Zion last week. Sheriff Colman visited Boise City the first of the week. There were over ten accessions to the M. E. church last Sunday evening. Fred W. Vogler went over to the capital last Monday morning. It is said that a good way to get into a theatre for nothing is to walk in backwards. The door-keeper will think you are coming out. Miss Nan Gallagher has been given the appointment of stenographer and clerk for Judge Arney at Pocatello. The services at the M. E. church, Sunday mornings and evenings, are well attended. Rev. G. A. Landon, presiding elder, has gone to Portland for treatment for appendicitis. To many men when they resolve on economy think it should first begin with their wives. The Dakotas, Iowa and Kansas came in for their periodical blizzard last Saturday and Sunday. Chicago had a cold spell this week that took the cream of the mercury for 2 years past. Everybody should go over and participate in the West Side rabbit drive today, Saturday. Four weeks of the legislative term is gone by and the question of daily activity is: "What has been done?" When Briggs and Orr vote on legislative matters they represent Briggs and Orr and not Bingham county. Probate Judge Arney, of Bannock county, has been granted a leave of absence for 45 days. He goes to Iowa to visit his aged father. The mercury Tuesday morning was as low as 23 below zero. This was due to the Dakota blizzards and Eastern frosts. A lawyer looking into his client's case, said to him: "Now you must keep asking from me, I must get it all." "You have," said the client, "I've paid for the very last cent."

The man who condemns his neighbor because he does not agree with him about men and measures on certain political questions is very shallow in "the upper story." He is what the boys term "light-headed."

The move to divide Fremont county and attach the southern portion to Bingham with a view of making Idaho Falls the county seat, will be a "no go" at this session of the legislature, a "no go" simply that and nothing more. Bannock county commissioners, at their last meeting, cut off the sheriff's deputies and left him with a jailer only at $3 per day. They also reduced the salary of the clerk's deputy to $50 per month.

The Moreland dramatic company will present, at the West Side Moreland school house, the military drama entitled, "Driven to the Wall," Saturday evening of this week, and the following Tuesday, next week, will produce it at the Blackfoot opera house.

A test case is pending in the supreme court of the state to settle the claims of the probate judge of Ada county to the office of county school superintendent. A decision will settle it for all the counties.

"Here, take my seat, lady," said the little boy on the car, as he sprang from his father's knee and defied his hat. The lady looked like a bush rose; the women giggled; the father signalled the conductor to stop, and half a dozen men stood up while urging the lady to sit down.

A Strange Thing in Politics. "Politics makes strange bed fellows," "men change their politics for office," and other like expressions are heard from day to day, but the strangest thing of recent occurrence has just happened in Kansas. Hon. W. A. Harris has been elected to the United States Senate. Mr. Harris was a Southern rebel; he served an "Ironclad" Jackson's staff, and was "bleeding" Kansas honors him with her highest office. Shades of John Brown and Madame Lema! What changes are coming around in politics!

Boys Are Trouble. As many as a dozen boys of town kept the snow about Judge Wall's office door well trodden last Saturday and Monday. They were under arrest on charges of disturbing the peace. Four of the number plead guilty and were fined $5.00 each and costs, three spent Saturday night in jail and others were fortunate enough to escape without punishment. The time was when these boys would have been an abundance of public sympathy for these boys, but some of them have grown so very bold in their disrespectful conduct that Judge Wall has been universally praised for turning on the law's heater to such conduct. Many times of late, THE NEWS has mildly referred to the increasing acts of misconduct of boys on the street with a hope that their parents would call them in and keep them off the streets and alleys in the dead hours of the night, but these warnings were unheeded, in part at least, and the boys got into trouble. We hope the lesson learned, though a dear one, will eventually prove to be a profitable one.

A Week's Betting. The past week has been fruitful of United States Senators. The betting in the various states has been sought with surprise, and while some who were looked upon as inevitable have been relegated to private life, the majority of those who have won were the leaders in the contest at the start. The results in states which succeeded in electing are as follows: Illinois—William E. Mason. Indiana—Chas. W. Fairbanks. Missouri—George C. Vest. Arkansas—James K. Ayres. North Carolina—Peter Fritchard. New York—Thomas C. Platt. Connecticut—Gerritt Platt. Pennsylvania—Solon P. Ross. North Dakota—M. C. Mansfield. Colorado—Henry M. Teller. Kansas—Ex-Congressman Harris.

In the state of Delaware the legislature is double-headed, the Democrats having selected Kenney and the range naming "Gar" Adkins as their choice. The state's senator will be seated after a contest.

How Much Water to Drink. "According to Prof. Allen," says the Medical Times, "we should drink from one-third to two-fifths as many ounces as we weigh in pounds. Therefore, for a man weighing 160 pounds there would be required 56 to 64 ounces daily, or from one and one-half to four pints. This is the Journal of Hygiene regards as a very indefinite answer. The amount of water required depends on the season of the year, the amount of work done, and the kind of food eaten. In hot weather we require more than in cold, because of the greater loss through the skin, though this is in part made up by the lesser amount passed away through the kidneys. If a man labors very hard he requires more than if his labor is light. A man working in a foundry, where the temperature is high and the perspiration profuse, not infrequently drinks three or four gallons daily. If the food is stimulating and salty, more water is required than if it is bland. Vegetarians and those who use much fruit require less water than those who eat salted fish and pork, and often get along on none except what is in their food. In most cases our instincts tell us how much water to drink far better than any fixed rule. For ages they have been acquiring a knowledge of how much to drink, and transmitting that knowledge to descendants, and if we follow them we shall not go far out of the way. It is of more use to us to know that pure water is essential, and that impure water is one of the most dangerous of drinks, than to know how much of it is required daily. If one lives in a region where the water is bad, it should be boiled and put away in bottles well corked in an ice-chest; and, in addition, one should eat all the fruit one can, if fruit agrees. Fruits contain not only pure water, but salts, which are needed to carry on healthfully the function of life."

ENGLISH LANGUAGE

A Few Extracts from "Lincoln's Examination Papers." For some of the machine politicians who could see no use in written civil service examination for politicians President Roosevelt had the following extracts taken from essays on "Abraham Lincoln," written by unsuccessful applicants for appointment to the police force: "Abraham Lincoln was President of the United States because every smart and prudent man he was very kind to all the people who he had control over he was greatly through of by all the officers that were in office while he was in very large man all during the war of 1862 he did nearly all the best in this land to do the best in his grade and he was at the head of many battles and fought very bravely in all battles he was in when he died he was regarded by many of those who thought greatly of him as a picture to see in every building and greatly thought of he did his duty in all the important war."

"He was star while at a theater by Deans (the best?) He had been President for a year and six months." "Abraham Lincoln was elected for the second time but only served a part of it being shot and killed by a man named Sutter who was afterwards caught and imprisoned." "He was a good President but he was killed and we did not have one so good since it was so hard to have him kill if he had to live he would be a good President he was trying to make a good country for us when he shot but for the war we would be slaves so People Regard him for that, so I don't think I so very much about Lincoln for I want to work at nine years of age."

"Abraham Lincoln was the best of my knowledge the Commander in Chief of the fighting forces of the North during the battle for the supremacy between the North and South in the year eighteen hundred and twelve." "Started life on a ferry boat on the Mississippi river, and from there he went to Lincoln Nebraska to run a flat boat and after that he started in the Dry Goods business and in this he went bankrupt and after that the people thought so much about him that they nominated him for United States Senator."

"Was president for one term after the civil war, in which he served and gained great distinction." "Was president for one term after the civil war, in which he served and gained great distinction." "He died immediately after he was assassinated. He lived until April 15 1865 and died at his home in Long Branch. It was he who issued the proclamation that freed the negroes and that entitled them to citizenship. He was in power during some of the principal battles of the Civil War. He was shot entering a Theater and his assassin it was said was insane."

"He was the President that freed the South and let the Dredley go free and he was shot by Garfield this all that I remember of presented Lincoln as I will close hoping that I will pass." "We have certainly had very few like unto Lincoln, as far as I can find out he was a tall lanky man a great tall splitter true to his Country and true to his god."

"Was assassinated by Booth at Chicago 1864." "He was a man of good moral character have you a copy of his life if so you please lend to me for a week or so." "He received his education reading a Bible and a speller." "Was born in Kentucky St. Asaph age his father moved the family to Ohio and down the Mississippi." "I honestly try to pass a mental examination for the position as postman and hoping to hear your report. I have been Common education and willing to learn more if it is convenient I think I could fill position to your satisfaction."

"He was a poor boy assisting his father at work in the year 1863 when the war broke out. Mr. Lincoln was one of the first to the front, he made such rapid progress that he received the honor of general of the United States army. Mr. Lincoln had many engagements in war and was bound to be very victorious, especially at the battle of Gettysburg when he swept all before him."

"He hadn't shout while walkin down this street by a man whom I did like him." "He was killed and taken to his home nearby where he was picked up I did not know much about him because I did not have very much shooting—My Pipal is very poor and Kood not send me to his school."

"He was a Farmer by occupation when elected to the Presidency of United States and it is through him we would enjoy our united peace and that the war of Rebellion was conquered."—New York Post.

For a pain in the chest a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound over the seat of the pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, will afford prompt relief. This is especially valuable in cases where the pain is caused by a cold and there is a tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by Ben Farnish, druggist.

Mysterious "It." Will somebody please tell me what "it" is? says a correspondent of Truth. I am parent to a small boy who is educating himself. His method is the directly opposite of that usually followed in schools. Instead of answering questions he asks them. I pass (or fail to pass) an examination at each meal. I usually fail.

My present difficulty is with "it." That boy discovered the other day that "it" rains. That didn't bother him very much. But when "it" snowed a couple of weeks later, he wanted to know who this versatile individual "it" was. He had me. He became more mystified than ever when he learned that "it" hailed, that "it" froze, that "it" also thawed, and that "it" was time. Mystification grew into wonder when he found that "it" was day and also night, that "it" was moonlight, and that "it" was noon. He gave up in despair when he discovered that "it" could grow warmer or colder. And I shall give up in despair unless some one reconstructs this English language of ours and abolishes "it" altogether.

Exray Notice. Came to my place, at Blackfoot, Idaho, about three weeks ago, one dark brown horse, branded V on left shoulder and star in forehead; weight, about 1,000 pounds. The owner must come and pay charges and take the above-described animal away or it will be sold as the law directs. F. C. BARCKER. Blackfoot, Idaho, January 1, 1897.

Notice. The regular quarterly examination of applicants for teacher's certificates for Bingham county, will be held in the office of the Probate Judge at Blackfoot, Thursday, February 4th, 1897, at 9 o'clock, a. m. All parties now holding permits to teach in this county, will be required to take this examination. ARTHUR G. WHITTIER, Blackfoot, Jan. 14, '97. County Supt.
