

We Emphatically Refuse To Frighten You

into believing that Ready-to-Wear Prices will be higher or that there will be a shortage of Garments.

THERE POSITIVELY WILL NOT BE; in fact, it is scarcely a month since the War Economy Board at Washington gave out the statement that there would be an ample supply of wool for manufacturing purposes, and that now there were enormous quantities of piece goods held in reserve by several of the larger manufacturers.

RIGHT NOW WE CAN AND ARE BUYING READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS FROM SOME OF THE LARGEST HOUSES IN THE COUNTRY AT A DISCOUNT. We are reducing our prices accordingly for Our Annual Thanksgiving Sale; and, mind you, the garments offered you by this shop have been here only a month at the most—some less than a week. They are not garments purchased a year ago for sales purposes. Please remember that this shop has made the lowest prices known on High-grade Wearing Apparel in the Inland Empire for the past five years, and will continue to make those prices.

The Annual Thanksgiving Sale—starting Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock—will prove the above statements. Again we say: "LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY!" It's the only real test and a plan we have always encouraged.

MUSIC SCHOOL GROWS GLEE CLUBS FORMED

STUDENT AND FACULTY RE-CITALS SCHEDULED THIS YEAR

In spite of war conditions and the smaller enrollment of girls, it is expected there will be an unusual amount of music on the campus this year. More than the average number of students are majoring in music, and there are a great many students in all the musical large glee clubs for both the boys and the girls have been organized, but the quarantine has caused a somewhat temporary delay of rehearsals. However, a rehearsal of the boys' club is scheduled for Monday night and it is hoped work with the girls will continue next week.

Mr. Bangs, who kindly volunteered to lead the band until a permanent leader might be secured, has it nicely started now. Practices are held twice a week, but as yet no special time for meeting has been scheduled.

Miss Wegmann is working on her repertoire, and hopes to give a recital as soon as the quarantine is over. She also expects to have several student recitals throught the year.

Private lessons in music are being given now to all students on the campus.

QUARANTINE RULES STILL ENFORCED

MILITARY POLICE "SHOO" AWAY ALL SUSPECTS FROM CAMPUS

The military police, or more familiarly, the M. P.'s, have made their first appearance on the campus. On the original force, Bill Newmon, was chief of staff, and Robert Davis the roundsman. "Poozey" was taken with the "Flu," however, and Erwin Lamb was appointed in his place.

There has been no difficulty in preserving law and order about the campus, so the chief duties of the M. P.'s are, meeting the trains and keeping the faculty members out of the barber shops.

The first train the police meet comes in at 10:41 mornings, and the last comes in at 7:58 in the evening. Anyone taken from the trains who wishes to enter the University quarantine is sent to the Christian Science church.

He must stay there four days, or until the doctor in charge finds he hasn't the "Flu." When four days are up the person is within the University quarantine and must obey quarantine regulations.

Military policemen take five or six people to the Christian Science church every day. Some of their victims are vocational men who have just come in, and others are returned students and instructors who have been taking an unofficial leave of absence during the "Flu" scare.

PROMINENT IDAHO STUDENT IS CRITICALLY ILL

Ralph B. Gochmour, a former student at the University and a reporter for the Argonaut, is in a very critical condition

T. C. He was taken to the hospital on October 20 with a case of the "Flu," which developed into complication of typhoid fever and pneumonia and is looked for soon. Mr. Gochmour is a very prominent man on the campus and his condition is being anxiously watched by many friends.

NEAR RIOT ON STEPS OF AD BUILDING

SALE OF COOKIES AND POPCORN BALLS TO S. A. T. C. MEN CAUSES TURMOIL

The north steps of the Administration building were the scene of a near riot last Wednesday afternoon. The members of Phi Upsilon Omicron the Home Economics professional fraternity saw the desire for sweets on the campus during the quarantine and endeavored to satisfy it.

With due respect to Herbert Hoover's as well as the Board of Health's rules of conservation and congregation the girls succeeded in making popcorn balls, chocolate and oatmeal cookies and macaroons. Just before the boys were dismissed at 2:30, three Home Economic seniors, Cora Mae Jones, Ruth York, and Helga Anderson, appeared in white aprons, carrying a huge basket filled with their wares.

A non-com on his way from the building aroused no little excitement when he waved a fresh piece of cracker-jack before the eyes of his hungry fellows. Then the fun began. The boys rushed toward the steps, cries of "Me next," "Sack of popcorn," "Any kind just so it's a cookie," almost deafened the busy girls. It was with great disappointment that they sold the last crumb, knowing they must send many a boy away with only a peek at the empty basket.

The sale met with such a warm welcome that the fraternity expects to repeat it on a larger scale soon. The proceeds will be used for war work.

Dean Eldridge Has Slight Operation

Dean Eldridge underwent an operation for tonsillitis at a local hospital Monday.

The dean's condition was not serious and he was reported as progressing favorably shortly after the operation. He expects to be able to go on with his work by the middle of the week.

3380 Garden Club members in Idaho this year are raising 640 acres of garden "sass," valued at $50,000.

TEN-YEAR-OLD BOY RAISES BIG SPUDS

ARDIE GUSTAFSEN MAKES PROFIT BY GROWING POTATOES

Ardie Gustafson, 10 years old, son of F. M. Gustafson, living three miles southwest of Moscow, owner of Sunnyside farm, is making a success of agriculture. The boy secured 15 pounds of Idaho Rural potatoes for seed last spring, getting them from Professor Wilson, club leader for Latah county. He has just dug 435 pounds of extra choice potatoes.

He has several other varieties, including Early Rose, Nettle Gem and Early Ohio. From the latter variety he dug from one row, with 295 hills in it, 10 large sacks full of fine potatoes, but the Idaho Rurals are said to be especially fine, uniform, large and perfect in every way. The little fellow has not dug his Early Rose and Nettle Gems yet. He will make a report to Club Leader Wilson and hopes to win a prize.

Mr. Gustafson brought in 2825 pounds of fine potatoes today for which he received a cent a pound. These were taken from three rows, of 295 hills each, an average of 942 pounds to the row or almost 3 1-2 pounds to the hill. Mr. Gustafson brought a Mills Prize potato weighing four pounds and four ounces to the editorial room of The Star-Mirror where it was placed on exhibition in the window. He says he raised scores of potatoes weighing more than three pounds each. He has about two acres of potatoes this year.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE IS UPSET

Practice is Called Off This Week—Sunday's Game is Prevented by Rain

Football practice was called off this week in the collegiate section of the S. A. T. C. No reason was given, tho it is generally supposed to be that it was either an order from Lieutenant Katolik who desires to utilize every way possible to prevent the spread of the "Flu," or on account of three men receiving slight injuries in practice last Saturday evening.

A game was scheduled for last Sunday afternoon, but the rain prevented it. Lieutenants Meehan and Hansen had announced that they would give a feed to the team winning two out of three games, and a number of the boys are disappointed because they think their chance for that feed is gone.

Should practice be resumed it is not probable that football will be attempted this year with outside teams on account of the Spanish influenza.

Section B Post Exchange.

Quartermaster Sergeant George S. Marshall has been a very busy man the past two weeks. The company quartermaster sergeant is the general utility man of the company and Sergeant Marshall has lived up to the qualifications of the office of post exchange.

A canteen has been established by the local chapter of the Red Cross society for the benefit of the boys and has been placed in charge of Sergeant Marshall.

The proceeds of the canteen go toward a mess fund for Section B. Receipts of the canteen vary from 50c to $100 a day.

Tobaccos, candy, stationery and special articles called for by the men are sold. Mrs. Agatha S. Hutton from the local chapter oversees the purchasing and disposition of the funds. Much comfort has been derived from the Post Exchange.
