

STATEMENT OF CLOTHING SUPPLIED BY THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL

The following statement is authorized by the quartermaster general: Adequate supplies of clothing have been provided for all of the men in the service of the American armies, and if proper deliveries are made by the manufacturers and the transportation system an uninterrupted adequate supply for all future needs is assured.

Due to delays by manufacturers of materials and by manufacturers of clothing and also by congested railroad transportation, delivery delinquencies on contracts variously range from 6 to 18 per cent.

To Dec. 1, 1917, the following supplies had been contracted for and deliveries made to the armies for immediate use:

Blankets contracted for, 17,931,682; delivered, 5,990,236.

Woolen cloth for overcoats contracted for, 5,691,350 overcoats; delivered, 1,026,346.

Suits of winter underwear, contracted for, 15,431,021 drawers and 12,826,424 undershirts; delivered, 6,542,160 drawers and 4,806,343 undershirts.

Woolen cloth for uniforms contracted for, 2,956,958 yards; delivered, 1,129,867 yards, made up into 2,834,367 breeches and 2,378,511 coats.

Woolen cloth for shirts contracted for, 25,155,081 yards; delivered 10,990,205 yards, made up into 5,676,444 shirts.

Shoes contracted for, 21,117,612 pairs; delivered, 8,525,298 pairs.

Hats contracted for, 8,092,021; delivered, 3,554,091.

Winter Motoring

Cold weather need not stop motoring. Side Curtains—inexpensive artificial heating—if necessary—are sufficient to make any car comfortable even in the coldest weather. There are many advantages to winter driving:

Time saved—Winter walking is hard, sloppy and cold.

Family benefits—More outdoor life.

Greater efficiency—You can work so much better.

Help your country—By being more efficient.

Buy your car now. Due to the scarcity of materials they are bound to advance in price.
