POTATO DRYING CO. DOING BIG BUSINESS

Boise Firm's Plant at Meridian Handles 50,000 Pounds of Dried Spuds Weekly; 130 Employes on Pay Roll.

Meridian, Jan. 21.—The Idaho Products company of Boise, owner of the big fruit and potato drying plant here, is now drying potatoes at the rate of 50,000 pounds per week. Since it requires about six pounds of fresh potatoes to make one pound of the dry product, it is seen that approximately 300,000 pounds of fresh potatoes are run through the big dryer each week.

This institution now is one of the busiest places in western Idaho. There are 130 employes on the pay-roll, divided into two shifts—day and night. The Idaho Products company has a big government contract for dried potatoes which are shipped direct from here to Europe in sealed cans, each holding 15 pounds.

This method of shipping potatoes to Europe for use of the American soldiers is proving a great saving to the government in two ways, one being a big saving in freight charges, the other great saving in railroad and steamship space.

This is readily seen when it is considered that of the 300,000 pounds of fresh potatoes run through the dryer each week about 250,000 pounds of water is eliminated, leaving 50,000 pounds of potatoes to ship and pay freight for.

This plant has been in operation several months, is now running full blast, with prospects for continued operation till April or May. John Busby is building for himself on the south side of town a modern five-room house at a cost of $1600.

BENNY LEONARD TOYS WITH JOHNNY DUNDEE

Champion Hands Italian Severe Mauling but Permits Opponent to Stay Limit; Victor Shows Old-time Speed.

By H. C. HAMILTON.

New York, Jan. 21.—Having proved to Johnny Dundee that he is still there, Benny Leonard continued to do business as the world's lightweight champion today. He convinced several thousand New Yorkers and New Jersey residents last night that he no longer was the Leonard who wants to step into a ring and finish his opponent as quickly as possible.

Benny massaged every part of Dundee's head with his fists in defeating the Scotch-Irishman, but it was apparent to ringers that his early minutes had been the hardest in his old-time fashion. In the last round Leonard cut loose with full vigor for a short ending, and he had Dundee winging it for help early. Then he slowed up and Dundee lasted easily.

Time was when Benny used to step into his man, look him over for a few punches, whisper to Billy Johnson that the works were about to go, and hand out the sleeping potion. Probably he has forgotten that this is what gave him his popularity, for he doesn't do it any more, as his last three bouts will show.

There are several battlers who refuse to stop their opponents unless they become dazed over something. Leonard has fallen into their ways. He prettily usually follows, for the public likes to see a scrapper who knocks 'em.
