

PAY TRIBUTE TO SOLDIERS WHO GAVE LIVES TO COUNTRY

House of Representatives Passes Uniform Memorial Monument Bill for All Idaho Counties.

ASK RAILROAD GO BACK

Memorial to Congress Urges This Action Be Taken—Pass Cattle Tuberculosis Bill—Kill Initiative.

The house of representatives today went unanimously on record to pay tribute to those dead Idaho heroes who gave their lives to their country during the recent war, by passing a bill providing there shall be erected in every county in this state uniform memorials in their memory. The bill was introduced by Representative Canfield and 32 other house members. Representative Canfield paid a high tribute to the valor of Idaho's sons before the vote was taken, saying that he felt indebted to every man in uniform who had enlisted to fight his battles and doubly indebted to those who died for his country and for him. Loud and prolonged applause greeted his remarks.

The legislature is asked in a memorial introduced today to ask congress to immediately turn back to their owners the railroads of the country. Representative Featherstone and Givens are authors of the memorial. The house also passed the Morgan bill that provides for the salvaging of stock condemned by the state and government when found diseased with tuberculosis and reimbursement in part for their loss. This bill is of unusual importance to the dairymen and the dairy industry of the state of Idaho. In the past their stock has been condemned at great loss to them for no provision was made for reimbursement. The bill amendment to the constitution providing for commissioners to alternate on the boards of county commissioners was also passed.

JEROME BILL GOES ON WAY.

The first tiff in the house today came over an attempt to send the Jerome county division bill into committee of the whole for amendment. The house voted 45 to 12 against the motion and the bill was left to take its regular course. Representative Greenwood served notice that on the next legislative day he would move for a reconsideration of the vote by which the motion was lost.

The league of nations resolution by Peckham bobbed up again when its author moved that it be lifted from the table. There was objection and demands for a roll call came from several parts of the house. Peckham's motion was lost by a vote of 42 to 17. This resolution has for its object recording the legislature for or against the proposed league of nations to preserve peace in the world and has been under the ever since its introduction. The 17 supporters of the motion to lift from the table are as follows:

Cowles, Foley, Garbutt, Harrison of Clearwater, Harrison of Shoshone, Hitchcock, Hoff, Kirby, McGowan, Moody, Peckham, Pugh, Schroeder, Snow, Thompson, Weeks, Greenwood.

HAVE POWER NOW.

Another non-partisan measure was thrown into the discard when the reference committee recommended that the Greenwood resolution giving the people the initiative power to propose and pass laws be not printed. The reason given was that such provision is already in the statutes and it would be unwise to proceed with the passage of a similar measure. The Greenwood resolution proposed an amendment to the constitution.

The same committee records a similar reference with regard to the Garbutt measure that proposed to change the system of assessing hydro-electric power concerns taking as a basis the current value of the power. The reference committee it is understood is of the opinion that this plan would only result in double taxation to the people in that on the basis proposed by Garbutt the companies would ask the public utilities commission to levy rates, and as the basis would be high the rates for consumers would be correspondingly high.

RAILROAD MEMORIAL.

The railroad memorial says in part: "Whereas, post-war and reconstruction conditions have brought these United States of America many problems of great import, and perhaps one of the greatest importance is the question of government control or ownership of the railroads of the United States.

"And, whereas, our president has turned to congress for counsel on this momentous subject, admitting his inability to solve the problem.

"And, whereas, the management of the railroads by the government under the present arrangement has not been productive of efficient service to the public, and would not be satisfactory in times of peace, and a continuation of the present course would create and continue unsatisfactory economic conditions throughout the United States.

"And, whereas, we feel that the congress of the United States will, by being informed by public sentiment, be better able to solve and direct the course of the problem, and recognizing the necessity of relinquishing control of the railroads as quickly as possible, and the certainty of conditions that aid release of the railroads by the Newman, are also under advisement.

FAST LOCAL BOY TRIMS OLSEN IN TWO FAST FALLS

Brown Vanquishes Mat Man From Chicago by Throwing Him Twice in 61 Minutes; Shows Much Class.

By C. F. CLARK.

In a rather tame wrestling match staged at the Isis theatre Thursday night that was featured principally by Olsen's inability to get a hold on his slippery opponent, and Brown's apparent ease in getting Olsen into tight holds, "Babe" Brown, fast local amateur, demonstrated his right to a membership in the Ancient and Honorable Order of Bull Necks and Mat Artists, by throwing Charley Olsen of Chicago, claimant of the wrestling championship of Sweden, twice in 61 minutes—both falls being secured by toe holds.

Four hundred fans attended the show and were kept in high spirits at all times by the fast exhibitions of boxing and wrestling that were staged. The stellar attraction, outside of the main event, was an exhibition between Alvin Quinter, 13 years old, and Raymond Sault, 14 years of age; both pupils of Nick Collins, local physical culturist.

The show opened with 15 minutes of wrestling between Vivian Gilbert of Caldwell and "Kid" Simonsen of Boise, which went to a draw; both boys doing well with Gilbert showing a knowledge that was surprising considering that the match was his first, and all he knew about the gentle art being what he had gleaned from a correspondence course. Vivian is a corner.

GOOD PRELIMINARIES.

The second affair brought out "Kid" Mex of Mexcala, and "Batting" Roth, of Battle Creek, who slammed away at each other with great zest and keenness until at the end of the fray both were so weak they couldn't have broken an egg with their mortgage lifters. Roth was stronger than horse radish at times, while Mex suddenly found he had a right hand and drove first blood in the second round by soundly walloping Roth on the beszer with it. Mex had the second round and Roth the third, while the rest were draws. Harry Alexander, conquerer of Sing Hoan and others, refereed.

The third session brought out "Kid" Duffy, a human with a tantalizing left, and Ralph Main, a soldier boy who boxed from his starboard side and was up to the minute with the latest tango steps. Neither hit the other hard enough to jar a pane of glass all through the bout, which was a fast exhibition of boxing. They went five rounds of two minutes duration each; Duffy copping the second stanza with a slight margin, with the rest of the round a draw. Harry Alexander also refereed this bout.

Duffy showed speed and a clever left, and will prove a fast boy in due time, while Main has plenty of ability if he will turn it loose.

BROWN SHOWS CLASS.

The main event then occupied the boards. Both boys were fast, but Brown proved too elusive for the Swede boy, and all through the match got out of holds with ease and speed. Brown worked on the offensive most of the time, and showed cleverness in clamping holds on Olsen that surprised those who have been following his career on the mat in the city. At times, Olsen was wont to get a trifle rude and vulgar, but "Babe" just grinned and came back with a little better than he got, with the ultimate result that Olsen spent a great deal of his time rubbing his sore tin ears and picking bits of gone forever hide from his anatomy removed by the manning genius of the seion of the House of Brown. The first fall came in 46 minutes with a toe hold on brother Olsen's sore leg. Olsen was game, but could not stand the gaff and hollered "Nuff!"

During the rest period, Harry Alexander, a fast piece of fighting machinery, who is on the trail of Lee Morrissey, and has some 46 scalps on his belt from his ring experience to prove his being entitled to a match with the fast boy from Idaho Falls, staged a speedy exhibition with "Cyclone" Workman of Nampa.

The second fall in the main event came after 15 minutes of wrestling. Brown got a toe hold which Olsen broke in a clever manner. Then a succession of fast holds followed. Brown then hung another toe hold, with a head scissors to assist him, on the boy from "Mansota" and it was curtains for him, and the match for the grinning "Babe."

Albert Grierson and Walter Grierson, St. Louis twins, were members of the same company, and each wore a small diamond ring and a watch and chain in France. Albert lost the stone of his ring and a few days later Walter lost his watch and chain and soon afterward Walter's disappeared. Then Albert was wounded and Walter followed suit. And now they intend to marry twin sisters, Geraldine and Blendine Smalley of Sheldon, Ill.

Experiments in adapting Hawaiian sugar cane to Philippine conditions began in 1910, are pronounced successful, and hereafter, in addition to Philippine varieties, six kinds of Hawaiian cane will be grown. Some of the new varieties have grown to a height of 22 feet, and the sugar content is reported in some cases to be 90 per cent. In some instances the sugar yield of the imported cane is 50 per cent more than the native.

CARD JACK DEMPSEY TO FIGHT "BIG JESS"

Jack's Manager Says His Pug Would Be Ticked Pink to Battle Willard; Wants No Fortune, Either.

By H. C. HAMILTON.

New York, Jan. 31.—Jack Dempsey doubtless will be the opponent of Jess Willard when the world's heavyweight champion defends his title July 4, next.

Announcement was made here today by Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, not only that Dempsey would be tickled stiff to sign articles calling for his appearance against the giant who beat Jack Johnson, but he also would be satisfied with a mere pittance for his efforts.

"This talk," said Kearns, "of Dempsey holding up Jess Rickard or any one else for a huge sum of money to fight the champion, is pure bunk. How could we make such demands when it is a certainty that if we don't get this chance we would have a hard time getting another? Jack Dempsey will fight Willard. The only thing that is worrying is that Rickard isn't hurrying along fast enough with the contract."

This declaration of Dempsey's stand followed publication here of an announcement that Rickard favored Dempsey as Willard's opponent and that arrangements should be made with that match in view.

The rest of the grind or publicity may be expected to center now on the claims of four corners and other municipalities as they attempt to land the big bout.

Sport Snaps by JACK KEENE

Burlleigh Grimes, the Robins' right-hander, who was recently released from the navy, will be the mainstay of the Brooklyn Flatbush staff next season, even if the Flatbush clan will be fortunate enough in having those two sterling twirlers, Lieutenant Leon Cadore and Sherrod Smith, who are now in the army of occupation, available for mound duty under the leadership of the rotund general, Wilbert Robinson.

As a member of the Pirates Burlleigh was a spitball artist, but when Uncle Robbie took him under his care he made the husky lad discard the wet delivery for curves of various kinds. In his early games as a Robin he could not be depended upon. When he started a game in the box Robbie never knew if he was going to see the opposing team held runless with one or two scattered hits or if Burlleigh would be able to last two innings. When Burlleigh was good he was very, very good, but when he was bad—well, he was terrible.

For about two months of the season he was that kind of a boxman, but suddenly he pitched the brand of ball that Robbie knew he was capable of and he gave the opposing clubs in the league all kinds of trouble. On July 18 he started a winning streak which continued until Aug. 29, and during that time he hung up 19 consecutive victories and established the season's record for straight wins. During the run he defeated every club in the league with the exception of the Giants.

Burlleigh is well built, is strong and can stand more work than the average pitcher. The more labor he is called upon to do the better he likes it and nothing could please him more than to pitch every third day. The pitching records of last season bring to light the fact that he can perform quite often in the box. During the abbreviated race of last year Grimes worked in more games than any other National league hurler, taking part in 49 contests. His nearest rival for the labor honors was Wilbur Cooper, the renowned southpaw of Hugo Bezdek's Pirates.

His boxwork during the last half of the season gave him great confidence in himself and he proved that he can deliver the goods without resorting to the spitball delivery. However, in several contests when he was in a tight hole he pitched a few splitters with dazzling speed and emerged with flying colors. During the meetings Uncle Robbie predicted that Burlleigh Grimes would be one of the most consistent winners in the National league next season.

When the Robins trade Jake Daubert—and it is almost certain that the captain of the Flatbush clan will be traded to another club before the teams start for the south—Wilbert Robinson will engineer a deal whereby he will secure a player who bats left-handed. At present the only regulars on the Robins who hit from the wrong side of the plate are Zack Wheat and Daubert. Manager Robbie does not believe that one left-handed batter in the lineup is sufficient, and if he can swing a deal that will bring a left-handed hitter to take Jake's place in the batting order he will be saved from a great deal of worry when he arranges the order in which the men will step to the plate next season.

Another Giant youngster who has been heard from again—this one by mail—is Sterling Stryker, the kid pitcher from Atlantic Highlands, who was sent out under optional agreement to the Rochester club last spring. Stryker is still in France and doesn't know how long he is likely to remain there. The young pitcher went overseas last summer and took part in the fighting in the Argonne Forest, and as far as can be learned came out of it unscathed.
