U. S. ROAD PROGRAM DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Leading highway engineers of the United States met here today to consider the details of the government's new road building program, a program which contemplates the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000 and the construction of 130,000 miles of highway over a period of twenty years. These 130,000 miles of improved highways will constitute the federal aid highway system and will be connected with an equal or greater mileage of state or local roads. When the great job is done, according to officials of the United States department of agriculture, the transportation facilities of the country will far exceed those of any other nation, past or present, in the world. The highways of the ancient Romans, whose fame has come down through the centuries, will pale by comparison.

In a letter to the opening session of the conference today, President Harding termed the problem one of the most "pressing and difficult that the entire world is facing at present." "The whole program of transportation, in all its phases it must be regarded as that of a single problem presenting a great many aspects, is among the most pressing and difficult that the entire world is facing at present," the president wrote. "As you and your associates are probably much better aware than most other people, the transport facilities of the whole world, whether by rail or by water, or whether represented by the great network of public highways, have been confronted with a most difficult situation for a number of years. It is on which demands the very best and wisest treatment from the standpoint of both the technical and economic and financial authorities."

"We are all agreed that the country needs good roads and more of them, but we also have been brought to realize that they are not to be had without very great expense."

Senator "Pat" Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi and Major General Lansing H. Beach, chief of army engineers, addressed the conference today on transportation subjects.

Chatter Too Much in Prayers, Says Pastor

LONDON, Oct. 26—We are too talkative in our prayers and chatter too much," says the Rev. M. Carpenter Garnier, of Pusey House.

Jumbo, the once famous giant elephant, reached his full eleven-foot height and weight of six and one-half tons in twenty-one years.

Large deposits of semi-bituminous coal exist in Panama five or six miles from Gatun Lake, but no steps ever have been taken to mine them.

Help That Aching Back!

Is your back giving out, are you tired, miserable, all run down, tortured with nagging backache, lameness and sudden stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an all worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy Hammond folks recommend. Ask your neighbor!

My kidneys were weak and I had to pass the secretions often at night. Doan's Kidney Pills bought at the Norris Pharmacy cured me."—Adv.
