PREPARE TO GREET TEACHERS

Preparations are being made for the Lake County Teachers Association which is to hold its meeting in East Chicago this year, Saturday, October 26 being the date chosen for the event. A fine program has been prepared of diversified subjects all calculated to interest and benefit the teachers who assemble here to participate in the affair.

The proofs of the program are already off, and Superintendent E. N. Canin corrected them yesterday. In the forenoon there will be a general meeting at which Prof. O'Shea, director of the School of Education in the Wisconsin State University at Madison,

"STEIN NIGHT" AT COUNTRY CLUB

One of the most novel entertainments that has been provided for the members of the Hammond Country club will be given at the club house next Saturday night, when "stein night" will be inaugurated.

Every member of the club will donate a stein to the club, and as tere are some 200 members, the grill room will be the recipient of some fine decorative ware.

The steins are on exhibition at Summer's pharmacy, where members can secure them. There will be all kinds of indoor games and competitive events at the stag party, and music will be on the program.

CHECK FORGER FINDS VICTIMS

Two Hammond merchants fell the victims of a slick check forger yesterday afternoon, who after securing $40 on two worthless checks, made his getaway and has not been seen or heard of since. The victims were Abe Cohen of the Hub Clothing store and J. C. Collins of the White Seal buffet. The forger's description was given to the police, who are now making a region-wide search for the swindler.

The checks were for the amount of $20 each and were on the Citizens' German National bank of Hammond. They were made out to Harry J. Mullin and signed by E. J. Wilson. The supposed Mullin is apparently well educated and is able to write a fine business hand. Neither check had the appearance of being bogus, which so easily fooled the two Hammond business men.

This morning it was learned that Mullin has been loitering around Hammond for some time and only last week passed a bogus check on J. S. Vessecant, 8 State street, West Hammond. His description is nearly the same as that given to the police yesterday.

Height, 5 feet 8 inches; weight, 140 pounds; slim build, 20 years old, complexion light, wore a black crushed hat, blue coat, dark vest with light stripe, double chain across vest, gold teeth, both upper and lower jaw.

(BULLETIN.)

Late reports received in Cincinnati by the Scripps-McCrae league by long distance telephone indicate that the Colonel's wound is more serious than first thought. It was feared the bullet had passed through his body and internal hemorrhages are feared.

(BULLETIN.)

The X-ray plate has not yet been completed which will determine more definitely to show the exact condition of the wound. It is reported that Colonel Roosevelt's wound is one inch below the right nipple and three inches deep.

(BULLETIN.)

Davis, Roosevelt's manager is reported to have cancelled off all engagements pending Colonel Roosevelt's condition.

(BULLETIN.)

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Roosevelt's daughter is expected to arrive from Cincinnati during the forenoon.

(BULLETIN.)

The possibility of blood-poisoning is what doctors fear in Roosevelt's case. Through the phenomenal development of his chest the bullet stuck in his massive chest muscles instead of penetrating his lung.

(BULLETIN.)

Official Bulletin, 3 p. m.—The patient cannot talk with anyone as it is not a mere flesh wound but a serious one in the chest. Quietude is absolutely essential. Next bulletin will be issued at 6:30 p. m.. Signed Drs. Murphey, Bevan, Terrell and Doyle.

PATRONS DENOUNCE DIRT IN DEPOT

The patrons of the Monon depot, Hammond's newest and most attractive passenger station, are criticising the railroad bitterly and vehemently on account of the manner in which the new depot is maintained.

The floor is filthy with dirt and does not look as though it has been cleaned out in weeks, or since the opening. The white enamel woodwork is soiled and looks as though it had been used for years.

The toilets are filthy, dirty and look as though they had not been cleaned out since the depot was opened to the public. The depot platform is cluttered up with freight and there are always two or three express trucks out in the middle of the walk.

The folly of locating the depot at a point where there is such limited platform space is obvious. It is understood that the railway management will not allow anything for maintenance of the depot, and this accounts for its present condition.

There has been some talk of taking up the matter of the cleaning and sanitation of the depot with the railway management in the hope that it would do something to improve conditions.

A Hammond business man said yesterday, "No other corporation but a railway company would invest $25,000 in a property of this kind and then provide absolutely nothing for maintenance.

Cripple Arrested.

James McGrady, a cripple, giving his address as 1245 Ford street, Little Rock, Ark., was arrested at State and Hohman streets by Officer Fick last night where he was found in an intoxicated condition. He was held at the police station until this morning and after promising that he would get out of the city he was released by the order of Chief Austgen. He had a little change in his pocket which he said was enough to get him into Chicago, where he was going to visit "Hinky Dink."

SATURDAY TO BE BIG DAY OF WEEK

Wile there were fewer farmers and shoppers in Hammond's new public market this morning than there were last Saturday, those who did come did good business and found fine bargains, respectively.

The ten days that the market has been open here demonstrated that Saturday is going to be the big day of the week.

Among those who have watched the progress of the city market, it has been a matter of comment that it is a great attraction to the housewife who is choice in the selections she makes for her table. Ladies driving up to the market in automobiles are already a familiar sight.

The farmers who are coming in regularly figure that they will have garden truck to sell through the month of October, and possibly longer. As yet the farmers' wives have not begun to send in any of their canned or bakery goods, but it will be only a matter of time when their supplies will be a regular feature of the market.

Thus far the ladies of the Pine Street Presbyterian church have had a corner on the bakery goods. They ave erected a permanent stand against the rear of the city hall and have already established a regular patronage. The pies, particularly the pumpkin ples, they had this morning were simply irresistable.

The market will be open again on Thursday and Saturday morning.

JUDGE BECKER WELL RECEIVED

Judge Lawrence Becker of Hammond made last night what is said to be one of the finest political speeches heard in Gary this fall.

He was the guest of the Young Men's Wilson club and spoke to a couple of hundred of them at the democratic headquarters, 648 Washington street.

ENTIRE TEXT OF ROOSEVELT SPEECH IN GARY YESTERDAY

Mr. Roosevelt said:

"My friends and fellow citizens, fellow Americans of Indiana, I greet you all, men, women and little bull mooses.

"And now, friends, unfortunately, my voice has for the moment gone back on me. I am all right, but I have got to be careful in speaking for a day or two, and I have asked Mr. Merriam to speak for me.

"I have something to say to you, and that is that I wish you to read the platform of the progressive party and compare it with the platform of the two old parties, and you will find that there are only two ways to vote this fall—with the progressives or against them; and if you vote against them, it is not of consequence whether you vote democratic or republican.

"And so I ask you to compare our platform with the other platform, and I ask you to compare what Mr. Wilson said before he was a candidate, about his fellow citizens or foreign-born Americans, with what he has said since he was a candidate. I ask you to compare what he said about union labor before he was a candidate with what he has said since he became a candidate? and I ask you to compare what I did with the trusts while I was president with what he did not do while he was governor of New Jersey."

JANE ADDAMS IN GARY AND HAMMOND

Jane Addams, the noted Chicago humanitarian, who is campaigning for the progressive party, is billed to make a public address both at Gary and Hammond this evening. She speaks first at Gary, Judge George Bope, a bull moose of Columbus, O., speaking in Hammond in the meantime. The Hammond addresses will be made at Assembly hall, formerly known as Huehn's hall. Miss Addams is to come over from Gary while Judge Bope is speaking, and will follow him with her address.

It was planned this morning to have a short musical program in Hammond this evening in connection with Miss Addams address. Judge Bope is billed to begin his speech at 8 o'clock or a little earlier.

Attend Chicago Speech.

Uncle Henry Bicknell, L. L. Bomberger, A. J. Burk and Fred Crumpacker went to Chicago last evening where they had lunch at the Hamilton club and then went over to the Coliseum where they heard John Maynard Harlan and Adam Bede.

Climbs on Platform to Shake Colonel's Hand.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—As Colonel Roosevelt started to leave the stage after his speech a man in the audience climbed up to the platform and yelled after him, saying he wanted to shake the colonel's hand. Roosevelt, exhausted after his painful exertion, looked pitiably at the insistent fellow and exclaimed, protestingly, "Great God, man, please don't."

Assassin Tried to Reach Ex-President at Saginaw.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—Late last night Stenographer Martin of Colonel Roosevelt's staff went to police headquarters to identify the prisoner as the ex-president's would-be assassin. He gave one quick glance at him and exclaimed:

"That's the man who fired the shot."

Martin at once recognized the man, he told the police, as having pushed his way through the crowd at Saginaw, Mich., last Monday, as Roosevelt left the Auditorium to go to his train. The man lunged at the ex-president and Martin threw him back violently.

"IT MAY BE MY LAST MESSAGE."

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 15.—"I want to give the people all that is in me. It may be my last message."

This was Col. Roosevelt's last word before he stepped onto the platform at the Auditorium to make his speech last night.

ASSASSIN'S BULLET LODGES IN BREAST

Police Save Murderer From Mob Violence While Colonel Speaks. Manuscript In Breast Pocket Saved Roosevelt From Instant Death.

Theodore Roosevelt was shot last night in Milwaukee by a man named John Schrank of 370 East Tenth street, New York City.

The bullet passed through the Colonel's eyeglass case and the manuscript of the speech he was about to deliver and buried itself in his body below the right breast.

With the bullet still in him the Colonel drove on to the Auditorium and delivered his speech. Then he was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

Before he would consent to go to the operating room the Colonel dictated a long telegram to his wife. Surgeons searched for the bullet, but could not find it.

Still carrying the bullet, the Colonel insisted on getting a shave. He left Milwaukee for Chicago at 12:47 this morning on a special train on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, arriving here at 3 o'clock.

Plot to slay the former president was made many weeks ago. Assassin says he was ordered to slay in dream.

Ex-President Roosevelt has been taken to Mercy Hospital in Chicago where he arrived in a very weak condition. Dr. J. B. Murphey does not regard wound as serious.

Theodore Roosevelt was shot and painfully wounded at Milwaukee last night by a man who has hounded him for weeks, waiting for an oportunity to assassinate him.

The bullet imbedded itself in the Colonel's side, just beneath his right breast. Only the fact that it first passed through the manuscript of the speech which the Colonel was about to deliver saved him from probable fatal injury.

Assassin Is New Yorker.

The assassin is John Schrank, 370 East Flint street, New York.

Colonel Roosevelt was shot while in front of Hotel Gilpatrick shortly after 8 o'clock. He had just left the hotel. A large crowd was awaiting his presence. Suddenly a voice shouted, "There he is," as Roosevelt appeared in the door.

Accompanying Colonel Roosevelt was Elbert Martin, his private stenographer; Colonel Cecil Lyon of Texas, and Captain Alfred O. Gerard of Milwaukee, a former rough rider.

Standing On Running Board.

The great throng pressed forward as the Roosevelt party advanced. In the crowd was a short, poorly dressed man. He was standing near the running board of Colonel Roosevelt's machine.

Colonel Roosevelt took off his hat and waved it at the crowd. He mounted the running board of the automobile and again waved his hat. The crowd cheered.

The short, poorly dressed, unnoticed man raised his right hand. There was a flash and a report and Roosevelt staggered back.

Tried to Kill Second Time.

Captain Gerard and Martin leaped on the assailant, who fought hard and tried to get a second shot at Colonel Roosevelt. Martin knocked the revolver out of the man's hand. He grasped him by the throat, bore him to

ASSASSIN CONFESSES HIS INTENTION

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 15.—The man who shot Colonel Roosevelt gave his name as John Schrank. He is of Bavarian birth, is thirty-six years old and single. He says he lives at 370 East Tenth street, between Avenue B and C, New York City. He had $141.18 in his possession when he reached the police station.

He is five feet five inches tall and stocky, weighing about 170 pounds. He has light hair and eyes. He wore a light blue suit, which was considerably frayed.

He was perfectly willing to pose for pictures, no fewer than a dozen photographers arranging him in different poses. At first he told the police that he wrote poetry for newspapers. Later he said that he was in the liquor business in New York City with his uncle, whose name he refused to reveal.

Schrank confessed to the police. The confession is as follows:

"I formerly ran a saloon at 10 East Tenth street, between Avenues B and C, New York City. I was born in Erding, Bavaria, two hours out of Munich., the capital. I am thirty-six years old, and came to this country when nine years old, with my parents. I have been engaged in the saloon business, as proprietor and as an employe nearly all my life until I decided that it was my duty to kill Colonel Roosevelt."

REPUBLICANS RECALL MEETING

Out of respect to Col. Roosevelt the Gary republican central committee today called off the noonday meeting that was to have been held today at the same place where the bull moose leader spoke yesterday.

J. Adam Bede and John Harlan, the Roosevelt follow-up orators, were scheluled to speak today. A brass band was heralding the event, but at 10 o'clock the band was told to cease playing and all notices of the meeting were recalled.

Taft "Inexpressibly Shocked" at Report.

New York, Oct. 15.—The first news of the attempted assassination of Colonel Roosevelt was carried to the banquet room of the Hotel Astor, where President Taft, Secretary of the Navy Meyer and 2,500 army and navy officers were dining in honor of the Atlantic fleet's departure.

President Taft was informed of the attempted murder almost immediately.

"Mr. President, it is unfortunate to have to tell you that Mr. Roosevelt has just been shot in Milwaukee by an assassin," Mr. Taft was told.

"I am inexpressibly shocked," the president replied.

"Will you say anything further for publication, Mr. President?" was asked.

"I do not know the circumstances now and I have therefore nothing to say," Mr. Taft replied.
