

SOCIAL AND OTHER INTERESTS OF WOMEN

Society

The wedding of one of the most popular members of the younger set took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Hazel Berkeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Berkeley, 1304 S. Main st., became the bride of Clinton C. Brown of Chicago.

It was a very pretty affair carried out in a scheme of yellow and white in a setting of autumn foliage and flowers. One corner of the living room was banked with foliage forming a slight canopy beneath which the bridal party stood.

For the entrance of the bridal party Miss Frances Harrington played the Lohengrin wedding march and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms", and "Annie Laurie" softly during the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for a wedding trip. They will be at home after Nov. 1 in Chicago.

The young couple were the recipients of many handsome gifts, among them a chest of flat silver from the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Battle Creek, Mich.

A card party and thimble given Tuesday afternoon in the G. A. R. rooms in the old court house by Auten W. R. C. was successful in spite of the stormy weather.

Friends in South Bend have received news of the marriage of William Markward, formerly of this city, to Fannie Patterson, in Bakersfield, Cal. on Sept. 23.

The annual luncheon of the C. W. B. M. of the First Christian church will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the church parlors.

BALKAN INFLUENCE IN AFTERNOON GOWNS

The Balkan influence is felt in afternoon gowns as well as in other garments. These gowns are more brilliant in coloring than formerly and of somewhat less filmy materials.

The kimono bodice fastens in the middle front by a row of tiny buttons of white and sherry silk, with a pointed collar of cherry tulle, trimmed all round with a small white Bulgarian ornament.

TIMELY TALK ON FLOOR COVERINGS

The Oriental Rug as a Prized Possession and its Less Expensive Substitutes.

Rugs may come and rugs may go, but the Oriental rug will never cease to be a source of luxurious home adornment. There is a special home-ride in the possession of real rugs. So much interest centers in it. From whence did it come? What tribe originated the design? What strange scenes has it beheld in its many wanderings? What are the mystic secrets woven in its harmonious colors?

The Oriental rug is no longer regarded as a luxury but rather as an absolute necessity in the home. It is unequalled for its durability and color conceptions. It is possible to obtain rugs cheaper than a few years ago. One of the most ideal rugs for the library or hall in the average size from 6x3 to 8x10 feet. The predominant color is a rich red, which adds a richness to the furniture. Sarik rugs come as large as 18x30 feet and are used in rooms requiring hard service.

The rugs of China and Tibet are more sought after than ever and may be purchased at nearly the same amount as a good Persian or Turkish rug. One of the most valuable of these rugs in the world is in the Morgan collection and cost $40,000. The Chinese rugs are usually rich in fancy and strong in coloring.

Substitutes for Oriental. The modern Wilton rug is a good substitute for the Oriental. Popular taste inclines toward the one color rug with shaded border and harmonizing with the general color scheme.

Do not buy conspicuous colors in floor covering, as you will tire of them quickly. There is an ever increasing demand for blues, browns, buffery and mode, though since you can have your carpets dyed to order any shade you select is easily obtained.

Austrian English and Dutch hand-tufted rugs are excellent in value, two-toned effects, giving warmth to the room, and are in good taste.

I saw one of the most beautiful of the other day which had a black background with conventional floral effect with an elaborate border. This carpet was $5 a yard and reminded me of the old-fashioned "best parlor carpet" of long ago.

Plain rugs or Persian mixtures are suitable for the dining room. There are Axminster or seamless Smyrna rugs in a variety of sizes and styles if one wishes a moderate priced rug.

Less Expensive Rugs. Seamless Chenille rugs are all wool and noted for their rich and luxurious softness. Then there are the English and American Scotch wool art rugs in new color combinations.

Plain, two-tone, or small pattern rugs are best for bedrooms. Small rugs are more sanitary for they can be so easily cleaned.

Each season there are displayed Crex and other fibre rugs, which are good for all year round wear for nursery or bedroom. The newest are in extra green and blue. They show more pliability each season.

"Rag" seems a very ordinary name for some of the artistic hand braided rugs which are full of good color. The rag rugs fit in well with the colonial decorative scheme so much in evidence now. Rag rugs render good service because they are reversible and can be washed. "Sanitary" is a word we hear more and more in these days of tightness—and we fully realize that the artistic does not need to conflict with modern sanitary ideas in house furnishings. Cheap rugs, cheap in material, are dear at any price, but if one watches closely they can often get good rugs at low prices.

Linoлеums which come in extra widths show great originality of design and color and are excellent for the kitchen, though some so closely represent inlaid floors that they are used in other rooms.

BEST LAXATIVE FOR BOWELS--"CASCARETS"

When Constipated, Headachy, Bilious, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour.

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the bowels, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them. Advertisement.
