SOCIETY

Working in Store, Former Society Leader Sues for Divorce.

An interesting series of social events planned as a courtesy to Miss Velma Twomey, whose marriage to Walter Duncan of LaSalle, Ill., will take place Saturday morning, will make the week delightful for the younger set. The first of the series will be a luncheon Wednesday given by Miss Helen Daugherty, who will be one of the bridesmaids. Mrs. Miles O'Brien will entertain Thursday at her home on Park av., with a luncheon, and Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. John P. Devine, Jr., will give a dinner for both Miss Twomey and Mr. Duncan at their home in Navarre place. Friday evening Miss Ann Carlisle, a bridesmaid, will give the bridal dinner at Carlisle house. The wedding will take place Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, Rev. John F. DeGroot officiating. The attendants will be Miss Mary Duncan, sister of the groom, Miss Ann Carlisle and Miss Helen Daugherty, bridesmaids, and John P. Devine, Jr., Edward Twomey, brother of the bride, Nicholas Duncan, brother of the groom, Vincent O'Connor and Duncan O'Connor of LaSalle, Ill., ushers. Following the church service a reception will be held at the Elgin hotel. As a result of a surprise party Friday afternoon for Mrs. George Heidem, 1357 Lincoln way east, in honor of her birthday anniversary, a new Mother's club has been formed in the city to be known as the Wednesday Mother's club. The members will include the 12 guests who planned the surprise for Mrs. Heidem. The afternoon was spent informally with games and contests at Mrs. Heidem's home, and at 5 o'clock tea was served at a daintily appointed table which was adorned with a centerpiece of autumnal and formal. Mrs. Albert Thomas and Mrs. Ed. Airgood served. The new club will meet on alternate Wednesdays, the first meeting to be Oct. 28 at the home of Mrs. Airgood, 1311 E. Dayton st.

Miss Ida Cole, 121 Elm st., entertained a number of charter members of St. Paul's Epworth league Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. R. J. Hill of Elgin, Ill. She was assisted by Miss Lottie Peffley and Mrs. Ed. Hupp. Garden flowers were used to decorate and delicious refreshments were served.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met Friday afternoon in the church parlors and made plans for the year's work. The president appointed committees to take charge of the various departments. Dainty refreshments were served. An all day meeting will be held next Friday at the church and the next regular meeting will take place Nov. 26.

The first meeting of the Wide Awake Girls was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Marie Cook, 1240 Michigan av. The afternoon was spent with sewing and music and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The club will be entertained Oct. 23 by Dorothy Moran, Cushing st.

The study of the drama after Victor Hugo was continued Friday afternoon by section two of the department of literature of the Progress club. Mrs. J. A. Harris gave an interesting paper on the "Theories of Proper Dramatic Construction" while Miss Evelyn Williams spoke on the "Comparison of French and English Methods." About 13 members were present. The department will meet Oct. 29 when the program will be in charge of Mrs. W. A. Bertsch who will speak on the "Triumph of the Dramatic Romanticism."

Complimenting her sister, Mrs. F. W. Allen of Chicago, Mrs. Franklin Sherritt, Park av., was hostess Friday afternoon at an informal tea. More than 100 guests were received between 2:30 and 5 o'clock. Tea was served in the dining room from a table attractively arranged with a centerpiece of Aaron Ward roses and swansonia. Candles shaded with green were used very effectively. The living room was decorated with profusions of yellow chrysanthemums and garden flowers completed the arrangement in the hall. Miss Donna Smith, Miss Velma Twomey, Mrs. Vernon C. Hastings and Mrs. C. T. Goswami poured. Mrs. Sherritt was assisted in the livingroom by Mrs. C. A. Murdock and Mrs. F. J. Roys.

MRS. NEWTON ADAMS. NEWPORT, R. I.—Divorce proceedings on the ground of non-support and failure to provide have been started by Mrs. Newton Adams, formerly Miss Alice Key Potter, against her husband here. Mrs. Adams is the heir of Frank H. Potter and a niece of Miss Sophia Blatchford, who left her a fortune in her will. The Adamses ran through their money in three years and Mrs. Adams is now working in a department store as a millinery model.

The Women's auxiliary of the Westminster Presbyterian church was pleasantly entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. T. W. Shanafelt, 1025 Riverside drive. During a brief business meeting further plans were made for increasing the membership of the auxiliary. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with pleasant social diversions and sewing. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The society will meet Nov. 29 with Mrs. A. R. Young, Portage av.

Miss Alvah Krussell, 803 Park av., was hostess Friday evening to the Young Women's Mission circle of the First Christian church at its regular meeting. About 25 were present. A short business session was followed by a program in charge of Miss Bernice O'Dell. She was assisted by Miss Letta Vanderbilt who gave an interesting talk on David Livingstone. Mrs. H. M. Appleman gave a discussion of the work of the mission circle and Miss Elda Holland, a talk on Liberia, Africa. The society will study Africa and African missions this season. Following the program Mrs. Dan Nye gave a pleasing vocal solo. During a social time, a dainty luncheon was served by Miss Krussell, assisted by Miss Veda Berg and Miss Alice Morris. The society will meet Nov. 29 with Miss Alice Scott, 1001 Johnson st.

A general meeting of the Aid societies of the St. Joseph hospital was held Friday afternoon at C. A. C. rooms. The attendance was good. During the business meeting reports were read by the various committees. Miss Maude Weber and Miss Margaret Perry entertained with instrumental and vocal solos. The next meeting will be held early in November.

Mrs. Sam Butzbach and Mrs. Irvin Butzbach entertained Thursday evening at the home of the former, 821 Portage av., as a courtesy to Miss Eleanor Butzbach, whose marriage to Mr. Roscoe Hart will take place Oct. 21. Pink and white, the color scheme for the wedding, were featured in decorations and refreshments. Mrs. C. P. Benedict of Indianapolis was an out of town guest.

Schuyler Colfax chapter D. A. R. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Pettigill, 523 Riverside drive. A short time was devoted to business after which the afternoon was spent very pleasantly and interestingly with talks by Miss Lois Swygart and Mrs. Pettigill who spoke on the landing of LaSalle. Luncheon was served late in the afternoon. The next meeting will be held Nov. 20 at the home of Mrs. S. J. Crumspacker, Portage av.

The Aid society of the First Presbyterian church was entertained on Friday afternoon at the church by the officers of the society. The meeting was for the purpose of arranging for the fall and winter work. The society expects to do a great amount of sewing and charitable work during the winter. Meetings will be held monthly with occasional all day sessions at homes of the members. Various committees were appointed to attend to phases of the work. There were about 25 present at Friday's meeting. After the general business the time was spent socially and refreshments were served by the hostess.

The D. S. Good Times club will meet next Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Anderson, N. Allen st.

Princess Lwoff-Parlaghy, the portrait painter, against whom a suit for $500 has been filed by George H. Dowden to whom the princess gave a $500 note for getting the late James Ben Ali Haggin to sit for a portrait. The princess painted the portrait and considered it worth $25,000. Mr. Haggin did not share her opinion and the princess sued. The case was settled for $10,000. Dowden claims that it was he who got the commission for the princess and that he was promised $500 for the part he played, being paid later by a note.

Girdle Dates Back To Middle Ages

Important Note In Fashion Today Handed Down From Centuries.

Whether it be hidden or whether it forms an important color note of the gown, the girdle must be reckoned with, and to the woman who knows how to make it and adjust it there will be modistic glory.

This season the girdle is higher than ever. Indeed, it suggests the girdles of the middle ages, and both short and long waisted women will have to wear the wide girdle to be in fashion. To be sure, the wide girdle can have ends crossed and then brought down in lines that carry the eye below the waist line, thus increasing the seeming height of the wearer. This is a trick that it would be well to master. It allows the use of this favorite accessory and permits the wearer to retain her height.

Some new girdles have a curved-up line. This is a trying one and should be viewed from all points before incorporation in your gown. The new line resembles a high up-curved corset. It is only to be considered by the slender.

Stripes in the girdle are the note to be echoed when planning it. The vogue for the Roman stripe is still as pronounced as ever. Silks, ribbons, chiffons, nets and woolen fabrics are striped in many colors and used for the girdles of all types of gowns.

Since there is decided fullness in the skirts of the new dresses, the girdle comes in very well to hold it down over the hips, for women have recognized that the slender line at the hips is the secret of the youthful line. The sash girdle is the answer. It circles the waist and is tied below the line at the side or in front. The ends, which are frequently tasseled or fringed, hang down in a heavy line.

Girdles that show a modified upper line with extension bretelles are coming into popularity. They hint of peasant lines. They can be of velvet or silk over a bodice of transparent material. They effectively carry the color and design of the skirt up into the waist.

Do not forget the girdle that dates back to the middle ages. This is of jeweled metallic cloth, and after winding around the waist drops down in a straight band in the center of the front.

Another modish girdle is the thick cord that suggests the monk's cord in its severity. This is tied at the front or side, and now is most popular in jet or beads.

The girdle that crosses in front and is taken in slanting lines over the shoulders and tied in a stiff bow at the back is the easy one for women who can stand a little shortening of the line from shoulder to waist. This in ribbon velvet is a distinctive touch to a dance frock.

As for the vest girdle—its name is legion. They are in all modifications of the original vest-girdle idea. Some are very high and some are shallow, with the greatest depth below the hips. There are points and square tabs at the front. Others are curved and scalloped all around the edge. Pockets and buttons are the trimmings, while binding, ribbon or braid is a neat finishing touch.

The nautch girdle that is tied into its form each time is a great favorite. It now comes in chiffon velvet and, as it is made on the bias, it fits in to the figure, eliminating bulk.

Many foundations of buckram already boned are purchasable. It is not difficult to make a well-fitted girdle. The importance is great in the general effect of a gown or suit. Do not neglect the girdle.

Tailored Suit of Navy Blue Serge

BY LA RAconteuse. Tailored costume of navy blue serge. A belt caught in the front darts slants toward the back of the rather full coat, which has box plaits on the hips. The deep collar of the white blouse is shown over the collar of the coat.

DESCRIBES HORRORS OF GERMANS' SHELL FIRE ON RETREATING BRITISH

Our retreat was now completely restored.

"There was a little drummer boy 16 years old who marched to Mons and back and insisted on walking and carrying his kit until an officer took him in his arms and tumbled him into a wagon. Though their feet were sore and many of them bleeding, the men stepped back to the Marne singing 'It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary,' or the new version, 'It's the Wrong, Wrong Way to Tickle Mary!'"

Christabel comes to educate Americans

Christabel comes to educate Americans

Christabel Pankhurst, photographed on her arrival in this country on the steamer Finland. Miss Pankhurst who, with her mother, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, is considered by the English police the most "dangerous" suffragette, comes to America for the avowed purpose of "educating American women and demonstrating to them their need of the ballot." Miss Pankhurst sailed from Liverpool under the name of Elizabeth MacDougald, and did not reveal her identity until she reached quarantine. Though her mother was detained as an "undesirable," Miss Pankhurst passed without difficulty.

The Sprightly Step of Youth

Wish you'd step in here for a few minutes tomorrow—we'd like to show you a shoe that gives new life to your step—gives you back that sprightly springy step of the days when walking was a pleasure. It's the famous and we'll guarantee that you'll be delighted with it. For it has a soft cushion insole that supports the arch of your foot, fills the hollows of the sole so that you walk on your whole foot instead of half of it—it's just like walking on air. No other shoe can possibly be so easy, so restful, so delightful to wear. And you can have your choice of many new styles and leathers at a reasonable price. We'll look for you tomorrow.

Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoe
