

COLOGNE UNDER MILITARY LAW

People of Town Begin to Understand What Military Occupancy Means.

COLOGNE, Thursday, Dec. 12.—Cologne Sunday came under rigid martial law for the first time since British troops arrived here, and the people have begun to realize what formal occupation is going to mean.

Since the advance troops of the British army entered the city there had been little or no interference with the affairs of the population, and the Germans were beginning to flatter themselves that they are going to have a rather easy time, when they were awakened by the orders of Gen. Plumer, which became effective today.

Contained in the list of rules are two which the residents appear to dislike particularly. One provides that all male civilians must greet British officers, and the playing of the British national anthem by removing their hats, and men in uniform by the usual military salute.

The order forbids residents to leave their homes between the hours of 7 at night and 6 o'clock in the morning, with some exceptions, such as clergymen and physicians.

On the inside of the door leading into every house, must be posted a list of the occupants, containing information regarding their area, occupation and other matters. No person may change his or her residence without permission and every inhabitant 12 years old and over must have an identification card. All day today crowds were gathered outside the shops of photographers waiting to get the pictures which must be placed on the cards.

The residents having these cards may move freely about the city, but may not leave it without permission.

It is forbidden to travel on horseback or on a bicycle, except for certain occupational reasons.

Restrictions Newspapers.

No newspapers or pamphlets may be printed or circulated without permission. Today the Cologne Gazette and other papers were not published, although they expect to resume tomorrow.

The transportation and sale of liquor, except beer and wines, is forbidden. No street assemblies will be permitted, and other assemblies must be authorized. Amusement places cannot run without authorization.

Residents must surrender all weapons and must aid the military in the pursuit of law breakers. There can be no telephone communication save in extreme cases and then only with permission. The employment of wireless and pigeons is forbidden. Only limited personal or business correspondence with German prisoners is permitted. Civilians are forbidden to have cameras. The military will have the right to search men suspected of having concealed weapons or of having broken ordinances.

Field Marshal Haig has issued an order to the entire occupied territory in which he declares that the inhabitants will be protected as long as they are obedient and peaceable. The death penalty or some other punishment as may be decreed, it is provided, if violence is done soldiers or the supplies or works necessary to the military operations are damaged.

"TY" COBB HOPES TO QUIT BASEBALL SOON

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—"Ty" Cobb, Detroit's great batter and outfielder, hopes to quit baseball. He so stated Monday on his return from France, where he has served as a captain in the army. He has no intention at present, he said, of signing up again, although he admitted that baseball still had for him "a terrible fascination."

"I'm going down to my home in Augusta and rest up for several months," said Cobb. "I intend to break away from baseball. I'm tired of it and I want to quit while I'm still good. There is the danger that the fascination of the game has its hold on me, but I shall make every effort to tear away from it, and not sign with any club again."

"When I say this, I naturally presume that the release that the managers gave us last fall, with our 10 days' notice is binding, and that they have no legal strings on me now. I hope so, at least."

"I've made no plans ahead of my rest. I haven't a profession because I left school at 17 to play baseball."

Cobb declared that the war had rejuvenated baseball and that "it's going to boom this season as it's never done before."

CHICAGO LIGHTWEIGHT GETS BAD BEATING

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 16.—Lew Tendler, of Philadelphia, gave Ever Hammer, the Chicago lightweight, a bad beating in a six-round bout here tonight. In the third round the Philadelphia boxer rained blows on Hammer's stomach and the latter went to the floor. He got on his knees while the referee was counting and claimed he had been struck a foul blow. After an examination by the club doctor the referee ordered the fight resumed, and for the remainder of the bout Tendler handled his opponent about as he pleased.

AT THE OLIVER.

Miss Mary Ryan, to be seen in this city at the Oliver, Christmas day and the day following in "The Little Teacher," has been here on previous occasions in the highly emotional role in "The House of Glass," "On Trial" and other well known successes. She has made a radical departure in her new role in "The Little Teacher," inasmuch as her latest success is a comedy drama and affords her opportunity to display her ability as a comedienne.

AT THE CASTLE.

Petite Constance Talmadge, whose appearance in any picture is always a screen event, is seen as a fascinating young novelist, a cook and a butler's sweetheart in "A Lady's Name," today's Castle attraction. This humorous and original story gives the dainty screen star ample opportunity for the display of her comedy artistry. Cyril Harcourt, the author, also wrote "A Pair of Silk Stockings," a picture in which Miss Talmadge appeared recently. The plot depicts the adventures of a young woman in search of literary material, who is also trying to escape the boredom of a rather tiresome engagement. A leading role is played by Harrison Ford. Tomorrow's picture is entitled "On the Quiet," and stars that good actor, John Barrymore.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The present excellent Orpheum bill is headlined by the Beatrice Morrell Sextette, an aggregation of beautiful women who present a real musical treat. Most of their numbers are presented by the ladies' quartet with violin and harp accompaniments. Their program is original and well-balanced and is sure to please lovers of good music. Babe LaTour, a "peppy" miss and Sid Gold, a rosy singer, bring their unique vaudeville offerings to Orpheum patrons. Entitled "I Know You," and consisting of comedy patter interspersed with songs, it is sure to find favor with all who hear it. A novel manikin act, with its setting an up-to-date cabaret, Nadell and Follette, a pretty girl and a clever man, and Will and Linda Newman, in a boxing, juggling and eyeing number, completes the bill.

Harold Lockwood

While he has always appeared in fine pictures, never has any picture given him the different opportunities to show his clever acting as in

"PALS FIRST"

Nothing can equal it. Throughout the six reels it holds you with the utmost interest. We are safe in saying no one could ask for a better comedy drama. It's a strong 100 per cent photoplay that will more than please every man, woman and child and we recommend HAROLD LOCKWOOD and "PALS FIRST" in the very highest terms. We also present a very laughable 2-reel TWEDE DAN comedy, "CAMOUFLAGE," making this a well worth one hour and forty-five minute entertainment.

HAROLD LOCKWOOD in "PALS FIRST"

TOMORROW William Fox presents his real cowboy dare-devil, TOM MIX, the greatest trick and dare-devil horseman ever seen in pictures. Nothing like TOM MIX's most wonderful riding and when you see "FAME AND FORTUNE" you will forget all the other western dramas you have ever seen before. There is only one TOM MIX and we want everybody to know him. Also "Mutt and Jeff," always funny; PATHE NEWS of current events; and "An Enemy to Soap," a laughable Toto comedy, making this some big show. BY SPECIAL REQUEST we are bringing back FRIDAY, CHARLIE CHAPLIN in "A DOG'S LIFE," a riot in three reels. Oh, yes, also NORMA TALMADGE in "FIFTY-FIFTY," some five-reel drama.
